The Historic Landscape of Devon Lucy Ryder, 2013-04-30. The 19th century historic landscape of Devon developed from earlier patterns of landholdings and settlement that are today not always easily discernible on the ground. The study of Tithe Survey landholdings, field names, and associated documentary evidence together with the physical evidence of change and development through field and settlement pattern can be used to elucidate the relationship between field and settlement morphologies and patterns of 19th century landholding. The combined evidence for three case study areas, the Blackdown Hills, Hartland Moors, and the South Hams, is examined in detail, though the creation, manipulation, and querying of a Geographical Information Systems (GIS) database. Key issues addressed include how far back patterns of 19th century landholding can be traced or projected back into the medieval period, the occurrence and extent of open field farming in Devon, and the spread of nucleated and dispersed settlements. Looking beyond the physical aspects of landscapes, the idea of landscape pays and the identification of regional differences in the study of the historic landscape are investigated, revealing how closely entwined are the physical and social landscapes of this historic county.
