The Kurdish Movement in Turkey Elsa Tulin Sen,2025-08-21 This book examines the Kurdish movement in the context of total social movement theory First tracing its origins as a conventionally nationalist movement Elsa Sen draws upon Alan Touraine s concept of a total social movement to argue that from 2000 to 2015 the Kurds in Turkey pursued a policy of engaging in a peace process channeling energy into civil society activism and electoral campaigns and promoting an inclusive understanding of national identity for all the components of Turkish society not just the Kurds in a hypothetically fully functioning democracy Both theoretically informed and drawing upon empirical research in the form of interviews with Kurdish and Turkish activists non activists and political representatives the book provides a new perspective on contemporary Kurdish politics as oscillating between nationalist and social movement paradigms with the recent decline of the latter due to the resumption of military action by the Turkish state and the Kurdistan Workers Party after 2015

Kurdish Studies - Volume 8

Issue 2 - October 2020 Marlene Schäfers, Metin Atmaca, Ronay Bakan, Hazal Hürman, Michael Knapp, Joost Jongerden, Cihan Erdost Akin, David Romano, Martin van Bruinessen, Kurdish Studies is the leading journal in the field In his editorial for last year's May issue of Kurdish Studies founding editor Prof Ibrahim Sirkeci noted how navigating the highly contested and politically charged field of Kurdish studies required impartiality and a commitment to academic integrity on the part of the journal Yet our professed impartiality does not mean that we stand aloof from social and political developments nor that our editorial work is not guided by a number of moral political and academic principles As the leading scholarly journal in the field of Kurdish studies we are aware of the role that the journal plays in creating structures of visibility shaping knowledge production and not least influencing careers We therefore believe that the recent discussion on male violence and sexual harassment in Kurdish studies which was initiated by the publication of an anonymous letter via the Kurdish Studies Network is of direct significance to the journal It has initiated a discussion that was in many ways long overdue both for the field as a whole and for our journal

Break all the Borders Ariel I. Ahram, 2019-01-09 Since 2011 civil wars and state failure have wracked the Arab world underlying the misalignment between national identity and political borders In Break all the Borders Ariel I Ahram examines the separatist movements that aimed to remake those borders and create new independent states With detailed studies of the Islamic State in Iraq and Syria the federalists in eastern Libya the southern resistance in Yemen and Kurdish nationalist parties Ahram explains how separatists captured territory and handled the tasks of rebel governance including managing oil exports electricity grids and irrigation networks Ahram emphasizes that the separatism arose not just as an opportunistic response to state collapse Rather separatists drew inspiration from the legacy of Woodrow Wilson and ideal of self determination They sought to reinstate political autonomy that had been lost during the early and mid twentieth century Speaking to the international community separatist promised a more just and stable world order In Yemen Syria Iraq and Libya they served as key allies against radical Islamic groups Yet their hopes for international recognition have gone unfulfilled Separatism is symptomatic of the contradictions in sovereignty and statehood in the Arab world Finding ways to integrate instead of eliminate separatist movements may be critical for rebuilding regional order
