Modern Italian Architecture:

The Architecture of Modern Italy Terry Kirk, 2005-06-02 The history of design in Italy is explored in this authoritative and comprehensive work Design periods include the era of Piranesi the eclecticism of the 19th century the futurism of the early 20th century the dogmatic fascism of the interwar period the designs of Pier Luigi Nervi and on to the present day

Italy Diane Ghirardo, 2013-02-15 Packed in its dense historic city centers Italy holds some of the most prized architecture and art in the world with which planners and politicians have had to negotiate as they struggle to cope with massive migration from the countryside to the city Early modern architecture coincided with a sustained drive to transform a country that was still primarily rural into a modern industrial state and throughout the twentieth century architects in Italy have attempted to define the role of architecture within a capitalist economy and under diverse political systems In Italy Modern Architectures in History Diane Yvonne Ghirardo addresses these and other issues in her analysis of the last century of Italy's building practices Specifically she examines the post unification efforts to identify a distinctly Italian architectural language as well as the transformation of the urban environment in Italian cities undergoing industrialization in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries She challenges received interpretations of modern architecture and also looks at the subject of illegal building and current responses to ecological challenges In order to illuminate the full scope of the building industry in Italy her examples are drawn not only from the work of widely published architects in the largest cities but from throughout the peninsula including small towns and rural areas Insightful reading for those interested in Italian culture this book offers a new way of understanding the architectural history of modern Italy

The Architecture of Modern Italy Terry Kirk, 2005-06-02 Modern Italy may sound like an oxymoron For Western civilization Italian culture represents the classical past and the continuity of canonical tradition while modernity is understood in contrary terms of rupture and rapid innovation Charting the evolution of a culture renowned for its historical past into the 10 modern era challenges our understanding of both the resilience of tradition and the elasticity of modernity We have a tendency when imagining Italy to look to a rather distant and definitely premodern setting The ancient forum medieval cloisters baroque piazzas and papal palaces constitute our ideal itinerary of Italian civilization The Campo of Siena Saint Peter's all of Venice and San Gimignano satisfy us with their seemingly unbroken panoramas onto historical moments untouched by time but elsewhere modern intrusions alter and obstruct the view to the landscapes of our expectations As seasonal tourist or seasoned historian we edit the encroachments time and change have wrought on our image of Italy The learning of history is always a complex task one that in the Italian environment is complicated by the changes wrought everywhere over the past 250 years Culture on the peninsula continues to evolve with characteristic vibrancy Italy is not a museum To think of it as such as a disorganized yet phenomenally rich museum unchanging in its exhibits is to misunderstand the nature of the Italian cultural condition and the writing of history itself

From futurism to rationalism, the origins of modern Italian architecture Architectural

Design, 1981 From Futurism to Rationalism, 1981 Modern Italian Architecture Karl Lagerfeld, 1999-03-25 Casa Malaparte A house like me announced Curzio Malaparte a poet and egomaniac describing his villa on Capri There are only a few buildings in the world which illustrate such antique beauty and mystical charm Karl Lagerfeld has photographed the most elegiac one The first section of the book illustrates the perfect integration of the house within the environment In the second part Lagerfeld documents the house s interior and furniture Lagerfeld worked for five days in November 1997 to produce these photographs of architecture and nature He used a special photographic technique to reproduce his pictures Polaroid transfers on a special paper The House in the Trees A small piece of land several trees a dilapidated warehouse uninhibited buildings in the neighbourhood This is not the place where pretentious architecture is usually created Yet in this small village near Rome Karl Lagerfeld discovered an extraordinary building called La Casa Albero Nella Pineta di Fregene designed by the architect Perugini in 1967 This experimental building is situated in the midst of a group of trees The construction of wood concrete and glass encloses one room only a few doors exist even the toilet can be seen from the bottom Lagerfeld s book is more than a detailed photographic study about this subtle construction It seems that the photographer uses this subject as a pretext to paint with the camera his own constructive pictures Photography, Architecture, and the Modern Italian Landscape Lindsay Harris, 2024-11-19 Photography Architecture and the Modern Italian Landscape explores the impact of photography at a pivotal moment in Italian architecture and culture focusing on the period between 1910 and the mid 1970s The book analyzes architectural photographs taken by Italian cultural figures who helped transform the Italian landscape into what we know today This study charts the oscillation of Italians ideas about what progress signified For example the book demonstrates that for writers and artists familiar with ancient ideas about civilization in 1910 the Roman countryside exemplified the contradictions inherent in primitivism On the one hand their photographs praised the region s primordial beauty yet their images condemned the crudeness of local living conditions More broadly it traces the history of primitivism and photography in Italy to show how cultural leaders alarm at the nation s pre modern living conditions their aspiration to modernize them and their grasp of photography to catalyze the process helped forge the modern Italian landscape its monuments housing infrastructure and natural environments At the same time it explores a vibrant period in photographic history when the advent of photographic reproduction as a commercial process developed into a medium with its own visual style capable of shaping ideas about modernity This new image making and reproduction technology empowered Italy s cultural leaders not simply to represent the Italian landscape through photography but to determine how it developed Of interest to researchers and students from a range of disciplines modern architecture photography and Italian studies this book demonstrates the power of art to transform society and to reformulate our ideas of progress Modernism in Italian Architecture, 1890-1940 Richard A. Etlin, 1991 Winner category of Architecture and Urban Studies in the 1991 Professional Scholarly Publishing Annual Awards Competition presented by the Association of American Publishers Inc and Winner Alice Davis Hitchcock Award Society of Architectural Historians Richard Etlin's sweeping generously illustrated study explores the changing idea of modernism in Italian architecture over the five crucial decades that saw the birth and crystallization of modern architecture. Systematically treating the major architects and movements of the period such as Raimondo D'Aronco and Art Nouveau Antonio Sant'Elia and Futurism Marcello Piacentini and the modern vernacular Giovanni Muzio and the Novecento Giuseppe Terragni and Italian Rationalism this book also explores the ways in which the original ideals of the various movements were transformed by working for the Fascist state. Modernism in Italian Architecture examines the legacy of the romantic revolution which confronted architects with the dilemma of how to create an architecture that was both modern and national. It challenges accepted opinion on a variety of issues. Etlin argues against too close an association of Sant'Elia's architecture and manifesto with Futurism by demonstrating a broader context for its themes. His study of Novecento architecture chronicles a movement whose use of classical detailing created a postmodernism contemporaneous with the pioneering buildings of the International Style elsewhere in Europe and preceding its arrival in Italy. Etlin undermines the notion that the architects of Italian Rationalism blindly followed an antihistorical credo by bringing to light the profoundly contextual nature of the abstract geometries of the best Rationalist architecture. The final section devoted to Fascism focuses on Terragni's famous Casa del Fascio in Como and the Danteum project by Terragni and Lingeri. Etlin concludes with a consideration of the anti-Semitic attacks on modern architecture during the Fascist racial campaign of 1938. Richard Etlin is Professor in the School of Architecture at the University of Maryland.

Building Modern Italy Dennis P. Doordan, 1988 The Architecture of Modern Italy Terry Kirk, 2005 This authoritative two volume survey is exhaustively illustrated with rare period images and new photography maps drawings and plans. Unlike many views of Italian architecture that focus on discrete and separate periods this survey has been structured by Kirk architectural history American U in Rome along a chronological continuum From Futurism to Rationalism Jacqueline Gargus, 1981 Modern Architecture and the Mediterranean Jean-Francois Lejeune, Michelangelo Sabatino, 2009-12-04 Considering the influence of the forms and tectonics of the Mediterranean vernacular on modern architectural practice and discourse from the 1920s to the 1960s Italian Imprints on Twentieth-Century Architecture Denise Costanzo, Andrew Leach, 2022-05-19 Italian architecture has long exerted a special influence on the evolution of architectural ideas elsewhere from the Beaux Arts academy's veneration of Rome to modernist and postmodern interest in Renaissance proportion Baroque space and Mannerist ambiguity. This book critically examines this enduring phenomenon exploring the privileged position of Italian architects architecture and cities in the architectural culture of the past century. Questioning the deep rooted myth of Italy within architectural history the book presents case studies of Italy's powerful yet problematic position in 20th century architectural ideologies at a time when established Eurocentric narratives are rightly being challenged. It reconciles the privileged position of Italian architecture and design with the imperative to write history across a more global diverse heterogeneous cultural geography Twenty chapters from distinguished international scholars cover subjects and architects ranging from Alberti to Gio Ponti Aldo Rossi Manfredo Tafuri Vittorio Gregotti cities from Rome and Venice to Milan and an array of international architects movements and architectural ideas influenced by Italy The chapters each question where how and why the disciplinary edifice of 20th century architecture its canon of built visual textual and conceptual works relied on Italian foundations examining where and how those foundations have become insecure Indispensable for students and scholars of both Italian and global architectural history Italian Imprints on Twentieth Century Architecture provides an opportunity to consider the architectural and urban landscape of Italy from substantially new points of view

Photography, Architecture, and the Modern Italian Landscape Lindsay R. Harris, 2024-12 Photography Architecture and the Modern Italian Landscape explores the impact of photography at a pivotal moment in Italian architecture and culture focusing on the period between 1910 and the mid 1970s The book analyzes architectural photographs taken by Italian cultural figures who helped transform the Italian landscape into what we know today This study charts the oscillation of Italians ideas about what progress signified For example the book demonstrates that for writers and artists familiar with ancient ideas about civilization in 1910 the Roman countryside exemplified the contradictions inherent in primitivism On the one hand their photographs praised the region s primordial beauty yet their images condemned the crudeness of local living conditions More broadly it traces the history of primitivism and photography in Italy to show how cultural leaders alarm at the nation's pre-modern living conditions their aspiration to modernize them and their grasp of photography to catalyze the process helped forge the modern Italian landscape its monuments housing infrastructure and natural environments At the same time it explores a vibrant period in photographic history when the advent of photographic reproduction as a commercial process developed into a medium with its own visual style capable of shaping ideas about modernity This new image making and reproduction technology empowered Italy's cultural leaders not simply to represent the Italian landscape through photography but to determine how it developed Of interest to researchers and students from a range of disciplines modern architecture photography and Italian studies this book demonstrates the power of art to transform society and to reformulate our ideas of progress Modern Italian Architecture, 1992 Karl Lagerfeld: Modern Italian Architecture, 1999-09-02

From the renowned Karl Lagerfeld comes a beautifully slip covered collection of photographs documenting two feats of modernist Italian architecture The first is Italian author Curzio Malaparte's Casa Malaparte a 1937 villa built into a jutting cliff in Capri With its antique beauty and singular character Casa Malaparte was a fitting setting for Godard's 1963 Contempt Lagerfeld used Polaroid transfers on a special paper to reproduce his 1997 photographs which explore the home's interior furniture and integration with its environment The second volume The House in the Trees focuses on an extraordinary building in a small village near Rome On a small piece of land surrounded by dilapidated warehouses and uninhabited buildings sits La Casa Albero Nella Pineta di Fregene designed by the architect Perugini in 1967 A pinnacle of experimental architecture the wood concrete and glass enclosed space has very few doors and Lagerfeld's photographs artfully document the subtle architectural splendor Modern Italian Architecture Luciano Nustrini, University of Auckland.
