Modern Italy, 1982      Modern Italy, 2002      Modern Italy Carlo Bertelli, Alberto Abruzzese, 1983      Modern Italy, 1982      Modern Italy, 1984      Italy in the Nineteenth Century John A. Davis, 2000-09-21 The Short Oxford History of Italy series in seven volumes will offer a complete History of Italy from the early middle ages to the present and in each period will present the most recent historical perspectives on Italian history This means setting Italian history in the broader context of European history as a whole It also means questioning accepted interpretations of Italian history in each of these periods and in particular the idea that Italy's history has been significantly different from that of the rest of Europe Each volume will emphasise how developments in Italy in each period are best understood as variants on broader European patterns of political economic social and cultural change This volume covers the period from the French Revolution to the end of the Nineteenth Century Consisting of nine essays written by leading British and American historians the volume shows how Italy's unexpected political unification and independence were inseparable from the impact of the broader processes of modernisation that were changing the face of Europe and the fabric of European society The social and political tensions that fuelled the struggles for independence were rooted in Italy's difficult modernisation which continued thereafter to threaten the consolidation of the new Italian state But Italy's difficult modernisation did not preclude real change and although Italy entered the twentieth century as a highly imperfect democracy it was not noticeably more imperfect illiberal or divided than its nineteenth century European counterparts nor did the new challenges posed by the rise of mass society make fascism an inevitable outcome of the Risorgimento Italy in the Nineteenth Century provides both the general and specialist reader with a critical but concise introduction to the most recent historical debates and perspectives      The Rise and Fall of American Art, 1940s-1980s Assoc Prof Catherine Dossin, 2015-03-28 This book challenges the perception of New York as the undisputed center of the art world between the end of World War II and the fall of the Berlin Wall a position of power that brought the city prestige money and historical recognition In her transnational and interdisciplinary study Dossin analyses changing distributions of geopolitical and symbolic power in the Western art worlds a story that spans two continents forty years and hundreds of actors      The Rise and Fall of American Art, 1940s-1980s Catherine Dossin, 2016-03-03 In The Rise and Fall of American Art 1940s 1980s Catherine Dossin challenges the now mythic perception of New York as the undisputed center of the art world between the end of World War II and the fall of the Berlin Wall a position of power that brought the city prestige money and historical recognition Dossin reconstructs the concrete factors that led to the shift of international attention from Paris to New York in the 1950s and documents how peripheries such as Italy Belgium and West Germany exerted a decisive influence on this displacement of power As the US economy sank into recession in the 1970s however American artists and dealers became increasingly dependent on the support of Western Europeans and cities like Cologne and Turin emerged as major commercial and artistic hubs a development that enabled European artists to return to the forefront of the international art scene in the 1980s Dossin analyses in detail these changing distributions of geopolitical and symbolic power in the Western art worlds a story that spans two continents forty years and hundreds of actors Her transnational and interdisciplinary study provides an original and welcome supplement to more traditional formal and national readings of the period Italia moderna. Cinema and Fascism Steven Ricci, 2008-02 This study considers Italian filmmaking during the Fascist era and offers an original and revealing approach to the interwar years Steven Ricci directly confronts a long standing dilemma faced by cultural historians while made during a period of totalitarian government these films are neither propagandistic nor openly Fascist Instead the Italian Fascist regime attempted to build ideological consensus by erasing markers of class and regional difference and by circulating terms for an imaginary national identity Cinema and Fascism investigates the complex relationship between the totalitarian regime and Italian cinema It looks at the films themselves the industry and the role of cinema in daily life and offers new insights into this important but neglected period in cinema history Book cover

Civil War and Agrarian Unrest Enrico Dal Lago, 2018-03-15 Between 1861 and 1865 both the Confederate South and Southern Italy underwent dramatic processes of nation building with the creation of the Confederate States of America and the Kingdom of Italy in the midst of civil wars This is the first book that compares these parallel developments by focusing on the Unionist and pro Bourbon political forces that opposed the two new nations in inner civil conflicts Overlapping these conflicts were the social revolutions triggered by the rebellions of American slaves and Southern Italian peasants against the slaveholding and landowning elites Utilizing a comparative perspective Enrico Dal Lago sheds light on the reasons why these combined factors of internal opposition proved fatal for the Confederacy in the American Civil War while the Italian Kingdom survived its own civil war At the heart of this comparison is a desire to understand how and why nineteenth century nations rose and either endured or disappeared
