Modern Movements In European Philosophy Phenomenology Critical Theory Structuralism:

Modern Movements in European Philosophy Richard Kearney, 1996 Modern Movements in European Philosophy Richard Kearney, 1986 Modern Movements in European Philosophy Richard Kearney, 1995-01-15 In this now classic textbook Richard Kearney surveys the work of nineteen of this century's most influential European thinkers The second edition has a new chapter devoted to Julia Kristeva whose work in the fields of semiotics and psychoanalytic theory has made a significant contribution to recent continental thought Transforming Practice Elaine Graham, 2002-03-21

Schillebeeckx's ideas and methods are crucially relevant in an analysis of contemporary social suffering in Ciudad Juárez by Nancy Pineda Madrid and in the project of the Catholic Dialogue School in Flanders by Lieven Boeve

A History of the Irish Novel Derek Hand, 2011-03-10 Derek Hand's A History of the Irish Novel is a major work of criticism on some of the greatest and most globally recognisable writers of the novel form. Writers such as Laurence Sterne, James Joyce, Elizabeth Bowen, Samuel Beckett, and John McGahern have demonstrated the extraordinary intellectual range, thematic complexity, and stylistic innovation of Irish fiction. Derek Hand provides a remarkably detailed picture of the Irish novel's emergence in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. He shows the story of the genre is the story of Ireland's troubled relationship to modernisation. The first critical synthesis of the Irish novel from the seventeenth century to the present day, this is a major book for the field and the first to thematically, theoretically, and contextually chart its development. It is an essential, entertaining, and highly original guide to the history of the Irish novel.

Dictionary of Visual Discourse Barry Sandywell, 2016-04-22 This substantial and ambitious dictionary explores the languages and cultures of visual studies. It provides the basis for understanding the foundations and motivations of current theoretical and academic discourse, as well as the different forms of visual culture that have come to organize everyday life. The book is firmly placed in the context of the visual turn in contemporary thought. It has been designed as an interdisciplinary or transdisciplinary introduction to the vocabularies and grammars of visuality that inform thinking in the arts and humanities today. It also offers insight into the philosophical frameworks which underpin the field of visual culture. A central theme that runs throughout the entries is the task of moving away from a narrow understanding of visuality inherited from traditional philosophy toward a richer cultural and multi-sensorial philosophy of concrete experience. The dictionary incorporates intertextual links that encourage readers to explore connections between major themes, theories, and key figures in the field. In addition, the author's introduction provides a comprehensive and critical introduction which documents the significance of the visual turn in contemporary theory and culture. It is accompanied by an extensive bibliography and further reading list. As both a substantive academic contribution to this growing field and a useful reference tool, this book offers a theoretical introduction to the many languages of visual discourse. It will be essential reading for graduate students and scholars in visual studies, the sociology of visual culture, cultural and media studies, philosophy, art history, and theory, design, film, and communication studies.

Architecture, Ethics, and the Personhood of Place Gregory Caicco, 2007 Architecture and environmental design are among the last professional fields to develop a sustained and nuanced discussion concerning ethics. Hemmed in by politics and powerful clients on one side and the often unscrupulous practices of the construction industry on the other, environmental designers have been traditionally reluctant to address ethical issues head-on. And yet the rapid urbanization of the world's population continues to swell into new megacities, each less healthy, welcoming, secure, or environmentally sustainable than the next. Green, carbon-reduced, and sustainable building practices are important ways architects have recently responded to the symptoms of the crisis but are these efforts really addressing the core issues Taking the Dine Navajo Hogan Song a song used to protect and nourish the personhood of newly constructed dwellings as their inspiration the architects philosophers poets and other contemporary scholars contributing to this volume demonstrate that a deeper more radical change in our relationship to the built world needs to occur While offering a careful critique of modernist corporate or techno enthralled design practices these essays investigate an alternative relational ecology whose wisdom draws from ancient and often marginalized voices if not the whisperings of the earth itself Contributors include Richard Kearney Alberto Perez Gomez Juhani Pallasmaa Karsten Harries Edward Casey Susan Stewart David Abram Stacy Alaimo Jace and Laura Weaver Philip Sheldrake and Sebnem Yucel Young

Digital Overwhelm Craig E. Mattson, 2024-07-30 Why does doing your job feel so flooded and so pointless at the same time Nobody knows better than millennial and Gen Z professionals how rapid technological development has inundated post pandemic work Organizational researcher Craig Mattson listens to their stories and builds a framework for coping with digital overwhelm at work This book won't tell you to declutter your digital life or to end capitalism now But what you can do suggests Professor Mattson is change how you attend to zones where technological disruption meets emotional pressure Calling these zones modes of communication this book urges you to practice mode switching Addressed to millennial and Gen Z professionals Digital Overwhelm draws on biblical wisdom literature to offer a primer on organizational communication Each chapter is followed by a short Mode Switch Workshop addressing questions such as how to survive the Zoom room how to write an email that sounds like you how to get unstuck when tools break down and how to get people to do things so you can too Even technologically disrupted organizations are more navigable than they feel if you know how to switch up your modes of communication

Captivating Technology Ruha Benjamin, 2019-06-07 The contributors to Captivating Technology examine how carceral technologies such as electronic ankle monitors and predictive policing algorithms are being deployed to classify and coerce specific populations and whether these innovations can be appropriated and reimagined for more liberatory ends

Words Made Flesh Elaine Graham, 2013-01-25 Words Made Flesh draws together a number of Elaine Graham's shorter writings and essays and thereby maps out the work of a pioneer theological thinker and the development of pastoral and practical theology in the last twenty years Elaine Graham considers the theological significance of topics as diverse as nativity plays science fiction gender consumerism cyberspace and urban regeneration They all share a concern with the way the sources and norms of the Christian tradition can enter into a creative and critical conversation with contemporary experience in order to generate the practical wisdom by which the life of the Church can be directed They reflect Elaine Graham's fundamental conviction that theology as talk about God in the world is always practical and public and that it begins and ends in the complexities of the human condition where words become flesh

Sixties Britain Mark Donnelly, 2014-01-14 Sixties Britain provides a more nuanced and engaging history of Britain This book analyses the main social political cultural and economic changes Britain undertook as well as focusing on the silent majority who were just as important as the rebellious students the residents of Soho and the icons of popular culture Sixties Britain engages the reader without losing sight of the fact that the 1960s were a vibrant fascinating and controversial time in British History Color Protocols Carolyn L. Kane, Lida Zeitlin-Wu, 2025-09-30

An edited volume that explores how color intersects with problematic histories of racial encoding in linguistic visual and algorithmic media What is at stake when categories like color race and ethnicity are transformed into a common language lexicon or industry standard And more critically how can we avoid the epistemic and ontological violence that seems inevitable in organizing color into a series of grammars syntaxes indexes and protocols Color Protocols offers a series of responses to these questions and others It begins with the premise that color is central to the history of systemic racism and in turn that the encoding of race vis vis color is an intrinsic aspect of chromatic technologies The book's eighteen curated essays edited by Carolyn Kane and Lida Zeitlin Wu are written by scholars from across the arts social sciences and humanities Each section contains both original essays and republished excerpts fundamental to understanding how the history of color technology and its racialized double valences have played out across multiple fields and media platforms over the last century and a half Contributors Ruha Benjamin Jianqing Chen Anne Anlin Cheng Frederick Douglass W E B Du Bois Richard Dyer Ali Feser Nicholas Gaskill Quran M Karriem Michael Keevak Lisa Nakamura Tina Post Aileen Robinson Michael Rossi Lorna Roth Amber Sweat Genevieve Yue Averting Global Extinction Louis S. Berger, 2009

The extensive literature about averting ecological disasters nuclear catastrophe and unsupportable overpopulation typically describes dangers analyzes their implications and presses for remedial action It seems that what is taken as too obvious and well understood to mention let alone to address seriously is humanity's failure to give global and human survival top priority More careful consideration of this irrational self destructive sociocultural negligence shows that it is complex puzzling and ensconced and perpetuated by pathological societal defenses This paradox is Averting Global Extinction's subject Berger argues that if these psychological defenses were reduced so would be society's indifference to necessary action The book's clinically informed approach conceptualizes society's self destructiveness as an analogue to the self destructive psychopathologies of individuals identifies society's ubiquitous and destructive psychological defenses denial projection and avoidance as the chief element in that sociocultural psychopathology and devises a sociocultural therapy This therapy is accomplished by translating a carefully selected individual psychotherapy framework a subtype of the so called analysis of defense into a corresponding societal therapeutic methodology society becomes the patient This intervention is intended to complement and facilitate not replace the usual recommended approaches to rescuing the globe Thus three analogies are deployed between individual and societal pathology defenses and psychotherapy The book's new and valuable principal contributions are the identification of sociocultural psychopathology as the underlying cause of our near indifference to the threat of global extinction the recognition of societal defenses as key elements in that pathology the conceptualization of a therapeutic analogue applicable at the societal level to counter that indifference and the construction of an exemplar of that analogue

Information Ages Michael E. Hobart, Zachary S. Schiffman, 2000-05-26 A grand intellectual history from clay tablets to Bill Gates Selected by Choice Magazine as an Outstanding Academic Title The late twentieth century is trumpeted as the Information Age by pundits and politicians alike and on the face of it the claim requires no justification But in Information Ages Michael E Hobart and Zachary S Schiffman challenge this widespread assumption In a sweeping and captivating history of information technology from the ancient Sumerians to the world of Alan Turing and John von Neumann the authors show how revolutions in the technology of information storage from the invention of writing approximately 5 000 years ago to the mathematical models for describing physical reality in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries to the introduction of computers profoundly transformed ways of thinking
