Citizenship and Immigrant Incorporation G. Yurdakul, 2016-04-30 The contributions in this volume consider the question of migrant agency how Western societies are both transforming migrants and being transformed by them It is informed by debates on the new transnational mobility the immigration of Muslims the increasing importance of human rights law and the critical attention paid to women migrants National Paradigms of Migration Research Dietrich Thränhardt, Michael Bommers, 2010-03-17 The varying traditions in the migration research of different countries are closely connected to the respective national political landscape and the way in which the respective national state views itself affirmative and positive or perhaps more self critical Seen side by side much emerges to be discussed and challenged that was previously beyond doubt The present volume introduces the reader to the traditions of migration research in twelve different countries the more traditional immigration countries of Canada and Australia four European countries with decades of experience United Kingdom Germany Austria Netherlands countries newer to immigration such as Italy Poland and Japan and finally the postcolonial countries of India Malaysia and Nigeria Through this comparative approach this volume presents a new approach to understanding the different research traditions The reader is confronted with the various ways in which emigrants are included or excluded from society thereby gaining an understanding of the existing intellectual discourses as well as learning to qualify them in the light of other solutions and traditions Because the approaches of the respective migration research tradition are not always the same the volume is attractive for a number of professionals Sociologists political scientists ethnologists economists and philosophers can join together to discuss the terms migration integration and their relationship to social structures This in turn challenges premises that previously were held to be a matter of course Us, Them and Others Elke Winter, 2011-01-01 How do countries come to view themselves as being multicultural Us Them and Others presents a dynamic new model for understanding pluralism based on the triangular relationship between three groups the national majority historically recognized minorities and diverse immigrant bodies Elke Winter's research illustrates how compromise between unequal groups is rendered meaningful through confrontation with real or imagined outsiders Us Them and Others sheds new light on the astonishing resilience of Canadian multiculturalism in the late 1990s when multicultural policies in other countries had already come under heavy attack Winter draws on analyses of English language newspaper discourses and a sociological framework to connect discourses of pan Canadian multicultural identity to representations of Quebecois nationalism immigrant groups First Nations and the United States Taking inspiration from the Canadian experience Us Them and Others is an enticing examination of national identity and pluralist group formation in diverse societies Muslim Women and Shari'ah Councils S. Bano, 2012-11-14 Using original empirical data and critiquing existing research Samia Bano explores the experience of British Muslim woman who use Shari'ah councils to resolve marital disputes She challenges the language of community rights and claims for legal autonomy in matters of family law showing how law and community can empower as well as restrict women Mixed-Race Politics and Neoliberal Multiculturalism in South Korean Media Ji-Hyun Ahn, 2017-12-01 This book studies how the increase of visual representation of mixed race Koreans formulates a particular racial project in contemporary South Korean media It explores the moments of ruptures and disjuncture that biracial bodies bring to the formation of neoliberal multiculturalism a South

Korean national racial project that re aligns racial lines under the nation s neoliberal transformation Specifically Ji Hyun Ahn examines four televised racial moments that demonstrate particular aspects of neoliberal multiculturalism by demanding distinct ways of re imagining what it means to be Korean in the contemporary era of globalization Taking a critical media cultural studies approach Ahn engages with materials from archives the popular press policy documents television commercials and television programs as an inter textual network that actively negotiates and formulates a new racialized national identity In doing so the book provides a rich analysis of the ongoing struggle over racial reconfiguration in South Korean popular media advancing an emerging scholarly discussion on race as a leading factor of social change in South Korea

What Was Multiculturalism? Vijay Mishra,2012-01-02 What Was Multiculturalism is a timely account of a socio political theory that has featured in public debate in the West for the past forty years The book is both a compendium as well as a critique of multicultural theory in its diverse forms from the politics of recognition consensus tolerance and the need for an inclusive community to questions about the moral order the invasive force of religious absolutism and the spectres of racism injustice and scapegoating Through a series of critical reflections Mishra offers a detached honest bold and uncompromised reading of some of the most influential texts on multiculturalism with a view to establishing the historical moments in the field

The Family Album Yeon-Soo Kim,2005 This book is an examination of the use of the family album in contemporary Spanish culture Through the analysis of films narratives painting and a photographic exhibition produced from the end of Franco s dictatorship to the present Kim interrogates how the family album serves as a critical instrument to reflect on the treatment of the past in contemporary Spain the recuperation of repressed identities nostalgia for collective memory symptomatic of the cultural discontent with the erosion of a national boundary due to globalization and the increasing claim of diversity and ethical concerns for immigration This study explores a broad range of works by canonical as well as less studied writers and artists including Juan Goytisolo Carlos Saura and Marta Balletbo Coll Yeon Soo Kim is Assistant Professor of Spanish at Rutgers University

National Identity Richard R. Verdugo,Andrew Milne,2016-06-01 National identity has been the subject of much controversy and debate Some have even suggested dropping the concept entirely One group Essentialists argue that national identity is fixed cultural based on birth and ancestry Another viewpoint is posited by Postmodernists who argue that national identity is malleable invented or imagined As alternatives some have suggested that national identity is a hybrid of both Essentialist and Postmodernist views And still others bypass this argument and suggest that national identity should be based on civic factors such as shared values and norms about citizenship While controversy and debate are healthy exercises in any science at some point order must be established if science is to proceed The present volume is based on the idea that national identity is an ideal type concept it does not completely capture reality but is used for analytic purposes In addition rather than focusing on these theoretical debates we pursue research with the idea that results from research will contribute to the field of national identity Three areas of national identity are discussed theoretical national and individual Two chapters focus on the major theories about national identity provide critiques and make suggestions about the topic In section two six chapters provide case studies of national identity on Scotland Ireland Russia Bosnia Herzegovina Germany and France In section three two case studies focus on immigrants and the challenges they face in forming their identities especially identifying with their host countries Belgium and the United Kingdom Several important conclusions may be gleaned from the contributions of the present volume To begin with while national identity is a slippery concept if the field wishes to move beyond debate about fundamentals it would be well advised to view the concept as an ideal type as suggested by the great German scholar Max Weber Secondly the case studies included in the present volume indicate that national identity is not only based on ethnicity and culture but on such external factors as governance regimes and their changes economic crises wars and other forms of aggressive activity and social demographic changes in a population These factors affect a population at the national level For immigrants at the individual level developing national identity is greatly affected by four interrelated factors 1 the degree to which they are accepted by members of the host society 2 immigrants language skills and physical appearances 3 how well they are able to balance their host national identity their ethnic identity and acceptance of their native country 4 and their generational status Generally at the national and individual levels context and circumstances matter in developing national identity

Paradoxes of Cultural Recognition Sharam Alghasi, 2016-05-13 Explicitly comparative in its approach Paradoxes of Cultural Recognition discusses central issues regarding multiculturalism in today's Europe based on studies of Norway and the Netherlands Distinguishing clearly the four social fields of the media education the labour market and issues relating to gender it presents empirical case studies which offer valuable insights into the nature of majority minority relationships whilst raising theoretical questions relevant for further comparisons With clear comparisons of integration and immigration policies in Europe and engagement with the questions surrounding the need for more culturally sensitive policies this volume will be of interest to scholars and policy makers alike

Heritage and History in the China-Australia Migration Corridor Denis Byrne, Ien Ang, Phillip Mar, 2023-03-03 Heritage and History in the China Australia Migration Corridor traces the material and social legacy of migration from China to Australia from the 1840s until the present day The volume offers a multidimensional examination of the material footprint of migration as it exists at either end of the migration corridor stretching between Zhongshan county in south China and Australia Spanning the fields of heritage studies migration studies and Chinese diaspora history Denis Byrne Ien Ang Phillip Mar and the other contributors foreground a transnational approach to the history and heritage of migration one that takes account of the flows of people ideas objects and money that circulate through migration corridors forming intricate ongoing bonds between those who migrated to Australia and their home villages in China This is an excellent new addition to the growing literature on the history heritage and archaeology of the Chinese diaspora and transnational Chinese migration This book is poised to be a major contribution to the history and heritage of the Chinese diaspora Barbara L Voss Stanford University The quality of the research and writing is very high and the theoretical framing is sophisticated and original This book makes a much needed contribution to overseas Chinese heritage studies Chinese Australian history transnational theory and migration history It also provides a model for how to work respectfully and successfully with descendants and community Sophie Loy Wilson University of Sydney Hybridity and its Discontents Avtar Brah, Annie Coombes, 2005-08-03 Hybridity and its Discontents explores the history and experience of hybridity the mixing of peoples and cultures in North and South America Latin America Britain and Ireland South Africa Asia and the Pacific The contributors trace manifestations of hybridity in debates about miscengenation and racial purity in scientific notions of genetics and race in processes of cultural translation and in ideas of nation community and belonging The contributors begin by examining the persistence of anxieties about racial contamination from nineteenth century fears of miscegenation to more recent debates about mixed race relationships and parenting Examining the lived experiences of children of mixed parentage contributors ask why such fears still thrive in a supposedly tolerant culture The contributors go on to discuss how science while apparently neutral is part of cultural discourses which affect its constructions and classifications of gender and race The contributors examine how new cultural forms emerge from borrowings exchanges and intersections across ethnic and cultural boundaries and conclude by investigating the contemporary experience of multiculturalism in an age of contested national borders and identities

Managing Ethnic Diversity Reza Hasmath, 2016-05-13 The management of ethnic diversity has become a topical and often controversial subject in recent times with much debate surrounding multiculturalism as a systematic and comprehensive response for dealing with ethnic diversity This book engages with these debates examining the tangible outcomes of multiculturalism as a policy and philosophy in a range of traditional and newer multi ethnic nations Exploring the questions of whether multiculturalism can promote ethnic harmony employment equity and trust between various minority and non minority groups Managing Ethnic Diversity also adopts a comparative perspective on the experiences of multiculturalism in various international contexts in order to examine whether lessons learned from some jurisdictions can be applied to others With an international team of experts presenting the latest research from the UK North America Europe China and Australasia a truly global dialogue is fostered with regard to the utility and limits of multiculturalism in local and comparative contexts As such Managing Ethnic Diversity will appeal to social scientists interested in race and ethnicity multiculturalism and migration Early Childhood in Postcolonial Australia P. Srinivasan, 2014-06-05 Early Childhood in Postcolonial Australia is a critical narration of how Australian children use cultural markers such as skin color diet and religious practices to build their identity categories of self and other
