Toward a Theology of the Corporation Michael Novak, 1990 This book has two principal themes First it is addressed to those who work for corporations Many Christians have been taught to feel at best faint disdain for corporations and those who manage them In contrast Novak knows that many most business men and women are ethical people who yearn for moral guidance and advice Consequently Theology tackles a basic moral question Can a Christian Work for a Corporation Novak s answer Yes Yet Novak recognized that anyone who purported to think about practical business ethics needed to understand the predominant form of business organization the public corporation Much of Theology is thus devoted to an analysis of the corporation Is the firm s structure as a bureaucratic hierarchy consistent with church teaching on human dignity What social responsibility if any does the corporation have And so forth Thinking about those questions naturally lead Novak to broader issues such as the consistency of capitalism with church teachings on wealth In Theology therefore Novak began working out the line of argument that was later developed more fully in his magisterial The Spirit of Democratic Capitalism Novak recognizes that church teaching has been hostile to capitalism as with much else of modernity Yet Novak contends that arguments against capitalism serve mainly to give aid and comfort to the Leviathan state In the most controversial portions of Theology Novak attributes Christian opposition to capitalism to two main sources ignorance and antique world views Church leaders and theologians tend to be poorly trained in economics and inexperienced with the world of economic reality Many believers again this is especially true of theologians are likely to inherit either a pre capitalist or a frankly socialist set of ideals about political economy As a result Church leaders are more likely to err in this territory i e economic justice than in most others p 59 To be clear Novak does not believe that faith should be subordinated to capitalism To the contrary he recognizes that the divine plan was that we should enjoy the fruits of the earth and of our own industry He simply contends that capitalism is the best way Fallen humans have yet devised to obey the Biblical command that we are to be stewards of God s world Novak never loses sight of the basic proposition that it was equally the divine plan that God should be worshiped obeyed and feared The fear of the Lord he would argue is the beginning of capitalist wisdom just as it is of any other kind of wisdom Not surprisingly therefore Novak s analysis has begun to impact the way the church thinks about capitalism Pope John Paul II s most recent encyclicals on work and the economy for example such as Centesimus Annus contain obvious marks of Novak s influence

Postcolonial Transition and Global Business History Stephanie Decker, 2022-11-30 British multinationals faced unprecedented challenges to their organizational legitimacy in the middle of the twentieth century as the European colonial empires were dismantled and institutional transformations changed colonial relationships in Africa and other parts of the world This book investigates the political networking and internal organizational changes in five British multinationals United Africa Company John Holt Co Ashanti Goldfields Corporation Bank of West Africa and Barclays Bank DCO These firms were forced to adapt their strategies and operations to changing institutional environments in two English speaking West African countries Ghana formerly the Gold Coast and Nigeria from the late 1940s to the late 1970s Decolonization meant that formerly imperial businesses needed to develop new political networks and change their internal organization and staffing to promote more Africans to managerial roles This postcolonial transition culminated in indigenization programmes and targeted nationalizations which forced foreign companies to sell equity and assets to domestic investors in the 1970s Postcolonial Transition and Global Business History is the first in depth historical study on how British firms sought to adapt over several decades to rapid political and economic transformation in West Africa Exploring both postcolonial transitions and development discourse this book addresses the topics with regard to business and economic history and will be of interest to researchers academics and students in the fields of organizational change political economy African studies and globalization      Nationalization of Multinationals in Peripheral Economies Julio Faundez, Sol Picciotto, 1978-06-17      Africa, Asia, and South America Since 1800 A.
