Marcel Duchamp Marcel Duchamp, 2002 Unless a picture shocks it is nothing Marcel Duchamp The individual man as a man man as a brain if you like interests me more than what he makes because I've noticed that most artists only repeat themselves Marcel Duchamp Machine Art in the Twentieth Century Andreas Broeckmann, 2016-12-16 An investigation of artists engagement with technical systems tracing art historical lineages that connect works of different periods Machine art is neither a movement nor a genre but encompasses diverse ways in which artists engage with technical systems In this book Andreas Broeckmann examines a variety of twentieth and early twenty first century artworks that articulate people's relationships with machines In the course of his investigation Broeckmann traces historical lineages that connect art of different periods looking for continuities that link works from the end of the century to developments in the 1950s and 1960s and to works by avant garde artists in the 1910s and 1920s An art historical perspective he argues might change our views of recent works that seem to be driven by new media technologies but that in fact continue a century old artistic exploration Broeckmann investigates critical aspects of machine aesthetics that characterized machine art until the 1960s and then turns to specific domains of artistic engagement with technology algorithms and machine autonomy looking in particular at the work of the Canadian artist David Rokeby vision and image and the advent of technical imaging and the human body using the work of the Australian artist Stelarc as an entry point to art that couples the machine to the body mechanically or cybernetically Finally Broeckmann argues that systems thinking and ecology have brought about a fundamental shift in the meaning of technology which has brought with it a rethinking of human subjectivity He examines a range of artworks including those by the Japanese artist Seiko Mikami whose work exemplifies the shift Jean Tinguely Sculptures Museum of Fine Arts, Houston, 1965 Ecosophical Aesthetics Patricia MacCormack, Colin Gardner, 2018-06-14 Inspired by the ecosophical writings of Felix Guattari this book explores the many ways that aesthetics in the forms of visual art film sculpture painting literature and the screenplay can act as catalysts allowing us to see the world differently beyond traditional modes of representation This is in direct parallel to Guattari's own attempt to break down the 19th century Kantian dialectic between man art and world in favour of a non hierarchical transversal approach to produce a more ethical and ecologically sensitive world view Each chapter author analyses artworks which critique capitalism s industrial devastation of the environment while at the same time offering affirmative imaginative futures suggested by art Including contributions from philosophers film theorists and artists this book asks How can we interact with the world in a non dominant and non destructive way How can art catalyze new ethical relations with non human entities and the environment And crucially what part can philosophy play in rethinking these structures of interaction Lonely Planet Switzerland
