Paris 1900 The American School At The Universal Expositions:

Paris 1900 Linda Jones Docherty, 1999 In essays by Diane P Fischer Linda J Docherty Robert W Rydell Gabriel P Weisberg and Gail Stavitsky Paris 1900 examines the campaign sponsored by the U S Department of State proving the existence of a distinct American school of art and refuting earlier French criticism that American art was primarily a reflection of French art At this exposition the McKinley administration s crusade emphasized paintings that exuded American character such as images of virile men wholesome women pristine landscapes and technologically superior cities Paintings by still powerful American expatriates were also included Exhibiting only native themes would have smacked of a provincialism inconsistent with the new outward looking agenda of American foreign policy Featuring more than 140 color and black and white illustrations Paris 1900 is the companion volume to a major exhibition of over 80 paintings sculptures and decorative art objects at The Montclair Art Museum which will travel later to museums in Philadelphia Pennsylvania Columbus Ohio Madison Wisconsin and Paris France BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Paris 1900 Diane P. Fischer, 1999 John White Alexander and the Construction of National Identity Sarah J. Moore, John White Alexander, 2003 Moreover it provides a broad picture of the historical political cultural and aesthetic context in which Alexander s works in particular and those of his cosmopolitan colleagues in general were produced and discussed BOOK JACKET Paris 1900 Diane Pietrucha Fischer, 1999 Paris 1900 , 2000* Women in International and Universal Exhibitions, 1876-1937 Rebecca Rogers, Myriam Boussahba-Bravard, 2017-08-14 This book argues for the importance of bringing women and gender more directly into the dynamic field of exposition studies Reclaiming women for the history of world fairs 1876-1937 it also seeks to introduce new voices into these studies dialoguing across disciplinary and national historiographies From the outset women participated not only as spectators but also as artists writers educators artisans and workers without figuring among the organizers of international exhibitions until the 20th century Their presence became more pointedly acknowledged as feminist movements developed within the Western World and specific spaces dedicated to women s achievements emerged International exhibitions emerged as showcases of modernity and progress but also as windows onto the foreign the different the unexpected and the spectacular As public rituals of celebration they transposed national ceremonies and protests onto an international stage For spectators exhibitions brought the world home for organizers the entire world was a fair Women were actors and writers of the fair narrative although acknowledgment of their contribution was uneven and often ephemeral Uncovering such silence highlights how gendered the triumphant history of modernity was and reveals the ways women as a category engaged with modern life within that quintessential modern space the world fair Paris 1900 , 19?? The Autobiography of Citizenship Tova Cooper, 2015-02-08 At the turn of the twentieth century the United States was faced with a new and radically mixed population one that included freed African Americans former reservation Indians and a burgeoning immigrant population In

The Autobiography of Citizenship Tova Cooper looks at how educators tried to impose unity on this divergent population and how the new citizens in turn often resisted these efforts reshaping mainstream U S culture and embracing their own view of what it means to be an American The Autobiography of Citizenship traces how citizenship education programs began popping up all over the country influenced by the progressive approach to hands on learning popularized by John Dewey and his followers Cooper offers an insightful account of these programs enlivened with compelling readings of archival materials such as photos of students in the process of learning autobiographical writing by both teachers and new citizens and memoirs photos poems and novels by authors such as W E B Du Bois Jane Addams Charles Reznikoff and Emma Goldman Indeed Cooper provides the first comparative inside look at these citizenship programs revealing that they varied wildly at one end assimilationist boarding schools required American Indian children to transform their dress language and beliefs while at the other end the libertarian Modern School encouraged immigrant children to frolic naked in the countryside and learn about the world by walking hiking and following their whims Here then is an engaging portrait of what it was like to be and become a U S citizen one hundred years ago showing that what it means to be American is never static

Paris, Capital of the Black Atlantic Jeremy Braddock, Jonathan P. Eburne, 2013-09-20 How African American artists and intellectuals sought greater liberty in Paris while also questioning the extent of the freedoms they so publicly praised American Literary History Paris has always fascinated and welcomed writers Throughout the twentieth and into the twenty first century writers of American Caribbean and African descent were no exception Paris Capital of the Black Atlantic considers the travels made to Paris whether literally or imaginatively by black writers These collected essays explore the transatlantic circulation of ideas texts and objects to which such travels to Paris contributed Editors Jeremy Braddock and Jonathan P Eburne expand upon an acclaimed special issue of the journal Modern Fiction Studies with four new essays and a revised introduction Beginning with W E B Du Bois s trip to Paris in 1900 and ending with the contemporary state of diasporic letters in the French capital this collection embraces theoretical close readings materialist intellectual studies of networks comparative essays and writings at the intersection of literary and visual studies Paris Capital of the Black Atlantic is unique both in its focus on literary fiction as a formal and sociological category and in the range of examples it brings to bear on the question of Paris as an imaginary capital of diasporic consciousness Demonstrate s how Black writers shaped history and contributed to conflicting notions of modernity hosted in Paris The wide range of writers and scholars from American and Francophone studies makes this collection very original and an exciting adventure in concepts movements and ideologies that could be acceptable to non specialists as well American Studies

Twenty-first-century Perspectives on Nineteenth-century Art Petra ten-Doesschate Chu, Laurinda S. Dixon, 2008 This book presents an interdisciplinary and inclusive view of nineteenth century art observed from the vantage point of the new twenty first century The areas of expertise represented by the thirty essays herein span the full range of nineteenth century studies and include discussions of such artistic styles as realism impressionism romanticism and art nouveau as well as early twentieth century movements that owe their formative influence to the nineteenth century Topics span the historical gamut from revivalism to the roots of modernism considering along the way such themes as the depiction of women Orientalism art criticism evolutionary theory political propaganda history painting landscape and national identity Aspects of art display public monuments and international exhibitions shed light on the roles of government and individuals in the dissemination of artistic styles and subject matter Unique in this collection is an emphasis on the marketing of art both in America and abroad which considers the important financial and commercial issues that continue to influence viewers beliefs and perceptions Most important this book demonstrates that the rich field of nineteenth century studies continues to inspire discovery and creativity Publisher description
