Processing Words Bruce L. Edwards,1987 Microcomputers and Word Processing Programs Brian Gallagher,1985

Integrating the Computer Into the Teaching of Writing and Revision Lennie Noordhoorn,1988

Computer-based Education ,1987 Literacy David Wray,2004 This four volume collection reprints key debates about exactly what it means to be literate and how literacy can best be taught Rather than centering on the emotional reaction of mass media debates this set focuses on research findings into processes and pedagogy The themes covered include Literacy its nature and its teaching Reading processes and teaching Writing processes and teaching and New Literacies the impact of technologies Computer Supported Collaborative Learning Claire O'Malley,2012-12-06 Although research in collaborative learning has a fairly long history dating back at least to the early work of Piaget and Vygotsky it is only recently that workers have begun to apply some of its findings to the design of computer based learning systems The early generation of the le systems focused on their potential for supporting individual learning learning could be self paced teaching could be adapted to individual learners needs This was certainly the promise of the later generation of intelligent tutoring systems However this promise has yet to be realised Not only are there still some very difficult research problems to solve in providing adaptive learning systems but there are also some very real practical constraints on the widespread take up of individualised computer based instruction Reseachers soon began to realise that the organisational cultural and social contexts of the classroom have to be taken into account in designing systems to promote effective learning Much of the work that goes on in classrooms is collaborative whether by design or not Teachers also need to be able to adapt the technology to their varying needs Developments in technology such as networking have also contributed to changes in the way in which computers may be envisaged to support learning In September 1989 a group of researchers met in Maratea Italy for a NATO sponsored workshop on Computer supported collaborative learning A total of 20 researchers from Europe Belgium

Resources in Education ,1995-04 New Perspectives on CALL for Second Language Classrooms Sandra

Fotos,Charles M. Browne,2013-06-17 This practical handbook is designed to help language teachers teacher trainers and students learn more about their options for using computer assisted language learning CALL and develop an understanding of the theory and research supporting these options The chapters in New Perspectives on CALL for Second Language Classrooms synthesize previous CALL theory and research and describe practical applications to both second and foreign language classrooms including procedures for evaluating these applications The implementation of CALL at the institutional level is also addressed with attention to designing multimedia language laboratories and creating collaborative CALL based projects between educational institutions Although many chapters locate their descriptions of CALL activities and projects within the ESL EFL setting the principles and activities described are equally useful for other language settings The book does not require prior knowledge of CALL computers or software To assist readers a glossary of CALL terms and an appendix of CALL Web sites are provided The book also has its own accompanying Web site <http://www.erlbaum.com/callforL2classrooms> presenting chapter abstracts author contact information and regularly updated links to pedagogical research and teacher development sites By integrating theoretical issues research findings and practical guidelines on different aspects of CALL this book offers teachers multiple levels of resources for their own professional development for needs based creation of specific CALL activities for curriculum design and for implementation of institutional and inter institutional CALL projects

Handbook of Reading Research, Volume II Rebecca Barr, Michael L. Kamil, Peter B. Mosenthal, P David Pearson, 2016-11-18 A comprehensive overview of important contemporary issues in the field of reading research from the mid 1980s to mid 1990s this well received volume offers readers an examination of literacy through a variety of lenses some permitting microscopic views and others panoramic views A veritable who's who of specialists in the field chapter authors cover current methodology as well as cumulative research based knowledge Because it deals with society and literacy the first section provides the broadest possible view of literacy The second section defines the range of activities culturally determined to be a part of the enterprise known as literacy The third focuses on the processes that individuals engage in when they perform the act of reading The fourth section visits the environment in which the knowledge that comprises literacy is passed on from one generation to the next The last section an epilogue to the whole enterprise of reading research provides apt philosophical reflection

Children and Computer Technology, 2000 Approaches to Computer Writing Classrooms Linda Myers, 1993-01-01 This text provides a variety of practical and theoretical approaches to computer classroom design Pedagogical ethical and political issues are discussed as well as nuts and bolts construction adapting teaching styles to a CAI environment use of specific hardware and software and speculation regarding future electronic learning environments

Research in Basic Writing Martin Jacobi, Michael G. Moran, 1990-02-15 This reference handbook surveys research on the central issue associated with the teaching of unprepared writers Though basic writing has only been recognized as a distinct area of teaching and research since 1975 the existing bibliographic texts already seem limited due to their age or lack of annotation This volume provides current and extensive bibliographic essays and will help to define this new field of study for teachers and researchers Following an introduction that summarizes the origins and significant texts in basic writing the book is divided into three sections Social Science Perspectives Linguistic Perspectives and Pedagogical Perspectives The first section which contains three essays views the field through the lens of social psychological and political issues The second section also containing three essays examines contributions made from studies of grammar dialects and second language acquisition The third section in its four essays focuses on the design development administration and evaluation of basic writing courses the use of computers in basic writing classrooms the role of the writing lab and the preparation of basic writing teachers An appendix that reviews current textbooks for basic writing courses is also included as well as an index This book will be a valuable resource for teachers of basic writing in education courses and workshops that train teachers and tutors and in fields such as linguistics technical writing and Teaching English as a Second Language It will also be an important addition to public and university libraries and many education programs

Assessing the Impact of Computer-Based Instruction Margaret D Roblyer, William Castine, F J King, 1988-11-16 Can computer applications help improve student performance For what skills grade levels content areas and type of students are computer applications most effective Can computer applications improve student attitude toward school and decrease drop out rates Discover what the research reveals in this provocative new book about these and other crucial questions concerning the impact of computer based instruction Assessing the Impact of Computer Based Instruction provides the most comprehensive and up to date summary available on the effects of computer applications on both student achievement and attitudes Within its pages are also the most extensive bibliography ever prepared on past reviews of research current reports and articles and dissertations in the area of computer uses in education This groundbreaking new book provides educational decisionmakers with the facts they need in order to justify the expense and effort of maintaining and expanding the instructional role of computers in schools It is also useful as a resource text in the pre service training of computer educators and for graduate students doing research in instructional computing
