Amateur Movie Making Martha J. McNamara,Karan Sheldon,2017-06-20 A compelling regional and historical study that transforms our understanding of film history Amateur Movie Making demonstrates how amateur films and home movies stand as testaments to the creative lives of ordinary people enriching our experience of art and the everyday Here we encounter the lyrical and visually expressive qualities of films produced in New England between 1915 and 1960 and held in the collections of Northeast Historic Film a moving image repository and study center that was established to collect preserve and interpret the audiovisual record of northern New England Contributors from diverse backgrounds examine the visual aesthetics of these films while placing them in their social political and historical contexts Each discussion is enhanced by technical notes and the analyses are also juxtaposed with personal reflections by artists who have close connections to particular amateur filmmakers These reflections reanimate the original private contexts of the home movies before they were recast as objects of study and artifacts of public history Producing Industrial Films Jack De Witt,1968 Safety

Maintenance & Production ,1922 Billboard ,1954-01-09 In its 114th year Billboard remains the world s premier weekly music publication and a diverse digital events brand content and data licensing platform Billboard publishes the most trusted charts and offers unrivaled reporting about the latest music video gaming media digital and mobile entertainment issues and trends Health Education Films in the Twentieth Century Christian Bonah,2018 In 1949 the U S National Cancer Institute NCI and the Canadian Department of National Health and Welfare DNHW commissioned a film eventually called Challenge

Science Against Cancer as part of a major effort to recruit young scientists into cancer research Both organizations feared that poor recruitment would stifle the development of the field at a time when funding for research was growing dramatically The fear was that there would not be enough new young scientists to meet the demand and that the shortfall would undermine cancer research and the hopes invested in it Challenge aimed to persuade young scientists to think of cancer research as a career This book is the story of that forgotten film and what it tells us about mid twentieth century American and Canadian cancer research educational filmmaking and health education campaigns It explores why Canadian and American health agencies turned to film to address the problem of scientist recruitment how filmmakers turned such recruitment concerns into something they thought would work as a film and how information officers at the NCI and DNHWSought to shape the impact of Challenge by embedding it in a broader educational and propaganda program It is in short an account of the important but hitherto undocumented roles of filmmakers and information officers in the promotion of post Second World War cancer research
