Lust To Kill Feminist Investigation Of Sexual Murder:

The Lust to Kill Deborah Cameron, Elizabeth Frazer, 1987

Mythologies of Violence in Postmodern Media

Christopher Sharrett, 1999 This anthology examines a number of issues related to violence within the media landscape Violence has been a topic of continued concern within American culture and society Although there have been numerous sociological and historical studies of violence and its origins there is relatively little systematic analysis of violence within media representation even as this issue becomes preeminent within public discourse This anthology examines a number of issues related to violence within the media landscape using various methodologies to suggest the implications of the increasing obsession with violence for postmodern civilization Violence in Everyday Life Aliraza Javaid, 2020-07-23

Violence in Everyday Life explores how identity markers such as gender and sexuality intersect with violence synthesizing the themes of gender sexuality and violence to offering a crucial and coherent framework for understanding the interrelationship between these concepts Aliraza Javaid explores how violence is experienced at a local regional and global level and considers the ways in which hegemonic masculinities are reproduced through violence Attention is given to the particular ways in which these constructions of masculinity are reflected in areas such as homophobic violence transphobic violence and violence against intimate partners Drawing on new empirical data and his own personal experiences of violence as well as identifying new areas for further research Javaid's work represents a unique study of the interconnectedness of violence gender and sexuality and of how violence is fuelled by society's attitudes towards masculinity Routledge Library

Editions: Women, Feminism and Literature Isobel Armstrong, 2013-12-19 Reissuing seminal works originally published between 1979 and 1994 Routledge Library Editions Women Feminism and Literature offers a selection of scholarship from a time of great change in feminist studies and literary studies Topics cover all aspects of women's literature gender and feminism through literary criticism and the work of women literary theorists Stranger Rape Kevin

Bonnycastle, 2012-10-09 Kevin Denys Bonnycastle's Stranger Rape is an in depth study of the lives of fourteen men who raped women unknown to them Using new data derived from official offender files offender program observations and the men's personal histories Bonnycastle documents compares and contrasts their experiences from boyhood to adulthood and eventual incarceration Bonnycastle argues that stranger rapists do not fit existing portrayals of them as predatory monsters or misogynist everymen Instead through an innovative approach that builds on research and theory from feminism gender studies critical criminology and masculinity studies she positions stranger rape as a matter of experiences of pain and powerlessness rather than of male power and control The book's major achievement is to recognize rapists and rape in their particularity and complexity in the hope that critical thinking about their lives and about their experiences in penal contexts and programs may eventually lead to what one respondent called his road to redemption Please note that this book includes graphic content Shadow Cinema James Fenwick, Kieran Foster, David Eldridge, 2020-11-12 Filmmakers and cinema industries across the globe invest more time money and creative energy in projects and ideas that never get produced than in the movies that actually make it to the screens Thousands of projects are abandoned in pre production halted cut short or even made and never distributed a shadow cinema that exists only in the archives This collection of essays by leading scholars and researchers opens those archives to draw on a wealth of previously unexamined scripts correspondence and production material reconstructing many of the hidden histories of the last hundred years of world cinema Highlighting the fact that the movies we see are actually the exception to the rule this study uncovers the myriad reasons why failures occur and considers how understanding those failures can transform the disciplines of film and media history The first survey of this new area of empirical study across transnational borders Shadow Cinema is a vital and fascinating demonstration of the importance of the unmade unseen and unknown history of cinema

Lustmord Maria Tatar,2020-07-21 In a book that confronts our society's obsession with sexual violence Maria Tatar seeks the meaning behind one of the most disturbing images of twentieth century Western culture the violated female corpse This image is so prevalent in painting literature film and most recently in mass media that we rarely question what is at stake in its representation Tatar however challenges us to consider what is taking place both artistically and socially in the construction and circulation of scenes depicting sexual murder In examining images of sexual murder Lustmord she produces a riveting study of how art and murder have intersected in the sexual politics of culture from Weimar Germany to the present Tatar focuses attention on the politically turbulent Weimar Republic often viewed as the birthplace of a transgressive avant garde modernism where representations of female sexual mutilation abound Here a revealing episode in the gender politics of cultural production unfolds as male artists and writers working in a society consumed by fear of outside threats envision women as enemies that can be contained and mastered through transcendent artistic expression Not only does Tatar show that male artists openly identified with real life sexual murderers George Grosz posed as Jack the Ripper in a photograph where his model and future wife was the target of his knife but she also reveals the ways in which victims were disavowed and erased Tatar first analyzes actual cases of sexual murder that aroused wide public interest in Weimar Germany She then considers how the representation of murdered women in visual and literary works functions as a strategy for managing social and sexual anxieties and shows how violence against women can be linked to the war trauma to urban pathologies and to the politics of cultural production and biological reproduction In exploring the complex relationship between victim and agent in cases of sexual murder Tatar explains how the roles came to be destabilized and reversed turning the perpetrator of criminal deeds into a defenseless victim of seductive evil Throughout the West today the creation of similar ideological constructions still occurs in societies that have only recently begun to validate the voices of its victims Maria Tatar's book opens up an important discussion for readers seeking to understand the forces behind sexual violence and its portrayal in the cultural media throughout this century

the conventional idea of serial murderers as deranged madmen He explores the twisted but comprehensible motives of a half dozen notorious killers Edmund Emil Kemper Theodore Robert Bundy Albert DeSalvo The Boston Strangler David Richard Berkowitz Son of Sam Mark James Robert Essex and Charles Starkweather In the process of describing their crimes Leyton exposes the cold rationality that underlies their apparent pointlessness The result is startling a revelatory text on a deeply troubling topic

Violence Against Women Pauline B. Bart,Eileen Geil Moran,1993 Violence against women permeates our society at every level in every setting Murder rape intimidation pornography workplace harassment incest are all part of a general belief built into the roots of patriarchal society Women are proper targets of male violence The chapters in this book contributed by some of the most prolific contemporary writers on women s issues explore this culture of violence and oppression examining its ideological underpinnings and its structural supports in the social political and legal systems that protect the violent by blaming the victim

Femicidal Fears Helene Meyers,2001-10-19 Argues that contemporary female Gothic novels of death can in fact breathe new life into feminist debates about victimization essentialism agency and the body

Male Envy Mervyn Nicholson,1999-01-01 Taking as his central argument that relations between males in western society are deeply colored if not actually determined by envy Mervyn Nicholson ranges across disciplines and eras in a fascinating utterly unique analysis of this taboo subject This book presents a series of motifs that are associated with male envy locating each in a particular historical context and illustrating it with examples drawn from literature film and popular culture Unlike earlier treatments of envy by psychoanalysts or feminist theorists this book moves beyond mere illustration of the problem to actually construct a theory about how the code of Male Envy shapes social consciousness in modern culture A truly pathbreaking work Male Envy merits a close reading by gender theorists literary critics and social psychologists

Gender and Sexuality Momin Rahman,Stevi Jackson,2010-12-06 Finally a book that bridges feminism and critical sex studies Rahman and Jackson have written a smart accessible overview of the dynamic relationship between gender and sexuality that will seriously engage an undergraduate audience This book teaches students by raising questions and providing the intellectual resources to navigate the complex terrain of contemporary sexual and gender politics One of the few must use classroom texts I ve read in a long time Steven Seidman author of the Social Construction of Sexuality State University of New York

Violence Against Women in the US Maddy Coy,2024-04-09 Analyzing what is known about violence against women this book centers on the contrast between the U S s historic focus on a criminal legal framework and the human rights lens used globally by feminist activists Distilling the existing evidence base and literature on violence against women in the United States this book includes an overview of forms of violence the prevalence of violence contexts in which violence occurs and debates about intervention and prevention It engages with how human rights frameworks define violence against women as a cause and consequence of women s inequality and explores how race ethnicity class citizenship status and sexual orientation shape experiences of victimization perpetration and institutional responses Chapters synthesize prevalence methods and data key feminist concepts impacts and aftermath of violence what is known about perpetrators the history of anti violence activism violence against women on college campuses and in the media and how the criminal legal systems respond Contested issues such as prostitution and pornography and the extent to which commercial sex can be understood as a form of and or context for violence against women are also explored The book closes with a final chapter offering directions for adopting a human rights approach to ending violence against women in the United States By offering an analysis of how violence against women has come to be named in activist policy and academic arenas Violence Against Women in the US is an essential resource for students scholars and practitioners

The Case of Literature Arne Höcker, 2020-06-15 In The Case of Literature Arne Höcker offers a radical reassessment of the modern European literary canon His reinterpretations of Goethe Schiller Büchner Döblin Musil and Kafka show how literary and scientific narratives have determined each other over the past three centuries and he argues that modern literature not only contributed to the development of the human sciences but also established itself as the privileged medium for a modern style of case based reasoning The Case of Literature deftly traces the role of narrative fiction in relation to the scientific knowledge of the individual from eighteenth century psychology and pedagogy to nineteenth century sexology and criminology to twentieth century psychoanalysis Höcker demonstrates how modern authors consciously engaged casuistic forms of writing to arrive at new understandings of literary discourse that correspond to major historical transformations in the function of fiction He argues for the centrality of literature to changes in the conceptions of psychological knowledge production around 1800 legal responsibility and institutionalized forms of decision making throughout the nineteenth century and literature's own realist demands in the early twentieth century
