Principles and Practice of Lung Cancer Harvey I. Pass, David P. Carbone, David H. Johnson, John D. Minna, Giorgio V. Scagliotti, Andrew T. Turrisi, 2012-02-13 Thoroughly revised and updated this Fourth Edition is the most comprehensive current reference on lung cancer with contributions from the world's foremost surgeons, radiation oncologists, medical oncologists, pulmonologists and basic scientists. Coverage includes complete information on combined modality treatments for small cell and non small cell lung cancer and on complications of treatment and management of metastases. Emphasis is also given to early detection, screening, prevention and new imaging techniques. This edition has expanded thoracic oncology chapters including thymus mesothelioma and mediastinal tumors, more detailed discussion of targeted agents and state of the art information on newer techniques in radiotherapy. Other highlights include more international contributors and greater discussion of changes in lung cancer management in each region of the world. A new editor, Giorgio Scagliotti MD from the University of Turin, has coordinated the accounts of European activities. A companion website includes the full text online and an image bank.

Biology and Management of Lung Cancer F. Anthony Greco, 2012-12-06 Lung cancer remains an extremely difficult neoplasm to treat effectively. A large part of our lack of success in dealing with these patients is related to our empiric therapeutic attempts. Slowly our basic understanding of the lung cancers is improving and techniques are becoming available to allow us to better understand the biology of these neoplasms. This volume reviews several areas of interest in regard to the biologic behavior and characteristics of lung cancer. Chapters deal with the in vitro growth of small cell lung cancer, the investigation of growth factors in human lung cancer, the production of monoclonal antibodies against lung cancer and the application and potential usefulness of the human tumor cloning assay in lung cancer management. These avenues of investigation are likely to establish a more scientific basis on which more rational therapy can be designed. Carney and associates have established several continuous small cell lung cancer cell lines in their laboratory. The amine precursor uptake and decarboxylation (APUD) properties of this neoplasm have been confirmed by demonstrating the presence of neurosecretory granules and high levels of the APUD enzyme L-dopa decarboxylase. In addition, several new markers have been documented, including bombesin, creatine kinase BB and neuron-specific enolase. These tumor products along with others may be useful serum markers in patients with small cell lung cancer.
