The Routledge Handbook of Australian Urban and Regional Planning Neil Sipe, Karen Vella, 2017-08-25 Where is planning in twenty-first century Australia? What are the key challenges that confront planning? What does planning scholarship reveal about the state of planning practice in meeting the needs of urban and regional Australians? The Routledge Handbook of Australian Urban and Regional Planning includes 27 chapters that answer these and many other questions that confront planners working in urban and regional areas in twenty-first century Australia. It provides a single source for cutting-edge thinking and research across a broad range of the most important topics in urban and regional planning. Divided into six parts, this handbook explores contexts of urban and regional planning in Australia, critical debates in Australian planning, planning policy, climate change, disaster risk and environmental management, engaging and taking planning action, planning education and research. Technologies of InSecurity Katja Franko Aas, Helene Oppen Gundhus, Heidi Mork Lomell, 2008-08-21 Technologies of InSecurity examines how general social and political concerns about terrorism, crime, migration and globalization are translated into concrete practices of securitisation of everyday life. Who are we afraid of in a globalizing world? How are issues of safety and security constructed and addressed by various local actors and embodied in a variety of surveillance systems? Examining how various forms of contemporary insecurity are translated into and reduced to issues of surveillance and social control, this book explores a variety of practical and cultural aspects of technological control as well as the discourses about safety and security surrounding them. Insecurity is a politically and socially constructed phenomenon with a variety of meanings and modalities. And exploring the inherent duality and dialectics between our striving for security and the simultaneous production of insecurity, Technologies of InSecurity considers how mundane objects and activities are becoming bearers of risks which need to be neutralised. As ordinary arenas such as the workplace, the city centre, the football stadium, the airport and the internet are imbued with various notions of risk and danger and subject to changing public attitudes and sensibilities, the critical deconstruction of the nexus between everyday surveillance and insecurity pursued here provides important new insights about how broader political issues are translated into concrete and local practices of social control and exclusion
