Metropolisation Et Develo:

Métropolisation, crise écologique et développement durable Michel Bassand, 2000-01-01 Métropolisation crise écologique et développement durable sont trois enjeux fondamentaux du monde contemporain La métropolisation est l'une des causes essentielles de la crise écologique mondiale Le développement durable quant lui est considéré comme une stratégie réaliste et efficace pour sortir de cette crise Cette problématique est l'origine d'une recherche interdisciplinaire menée par des chercheurs de deux hautes écoles suisses et de diverses institutions savonaises sur la métropole de Ho Chi Minh Ville Cet ouvrage en présente les principaux résultats Cette analyse fouille d'une métropole du Sud est faite sous l'angle des questions de l'habitat précaire et de l'eau Ho Chi Minh Ville du fait de sa difficile planification est en effet exemplaire d'une crise urbaine qui s'exprime dans les rapports entre métropolisation pollution de l'eau et gestion de l'habitat précaire Même si chaque métropole est unique les auteurs de cette recherche essentielle nous rappellent que le développement durable mis en œuvre Ho Chi Minh Ville peut être appliqué au monde entier que les pays du Nord ont leur part de responsabilité dans l'actuel état des choses et qu'ils doivent inventer avec les pays du Sud un autre mode de développement que celui exercé jusqu'à présent L'ouvrage s'adresse tous ceux qui ingénieurs architectes urbanistes ou experts en sciences sociales sont désireux de comprendre les enjeux de la globalisation

Border Futures-Zukunft Grenze-Avenir Frontière Karina Pallagst, Andrea Hartz, Beate Caesar, 2022-05-12 What current discourses are relevant for border areas What opportunities for and obstacles to integrated territorial development arise from the specific situation of border regions How can these be utilised or overcome in a goal oriented way These questions were central to the discussions of the Border

Futures working group Border regions like the Greater Region or the Trinational Metropolitan Region of the Upper Rhine extend far beyond the immediate border area While institutional structures of cooperation can be perpetuated through agreements and organisations there is a lack of instruments which cross border cooperation structures can deploy in response to changing situations Cross border cooperation faces new challenges from increasing cross border interactions processes of economic structural transformation new energy policies in the national sub spaces and demographic change Another factor is increasing spatial polarisation which influences the further development and future viability of the affected border areas and involves metropolisation issues in urban centres and the provision of public services in rural districts Building on discussions of the Border Futures working group this volume sheds light on cross border cooperation in practice with recent research relevant to planning in border regions in the European context The insights collected here are intended to be usable in the border areas within the territory of the Regional Working Group and should also contribute towards the broader specialist discourse on the further development of cross border cooperation Issues of sustainable cross border governance new spatial functions and new planning instruments play a role here as do the possibilities provided by the current EU structural policy programming period for border areas

Cross-border spatial development in Bavaria Tobias Chilla, Franziska Sielker, 2022-04-14 There are a number of reasons for considering the cross border dimension of Bavaria's spatial development at the present time. First there is a new awareness of cross border development issues on the level of the federal state of Bavaria. This is particularly related to the border between Bavaria and the Czech Republic which is so historically and politically complex that it has long been difficult to address on the Prague-Munich diplomatic level. Tangible developments have recently been seen here on the middle level. At the same time the start of the macro regional strategy EUSALP has led to increased discussion of spatial development instruments in the Alpine region. Second the significance of borders was placed on the political agenda with unexpected force by the flows of refugees that largely began in 2015. After many years of widespread talk of a borderless Europe debates about refugee policies and border controls have made clear that the internal European borders still have considerable political significance. In Bavaria this mainly affects its border region with Austria. Third a new impetus in cross border cooperation on the European level can be identified in recent years: the focus was on activities in the immediate border area based on INTERREG A and Euroregions. These remain important but there is also a new impetus on the higher level where macro regions and numerous bilateral and multilateral forms of cooperation are creating new constellations. In Bavaria this can be seen particularly in the relatively new European Region of Danube-Vltava and through involvement in the Danube and Alpine macro regions.

Did the Millennium Development Goals Work? Manmohan Agarwal, Hany Besada, Leah McMillan Polonenko, 2017-09-20. With the target date for the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) behind us, this book asks: did they work? And what happens next? Arguing that to effectively look forward we must first look back, the editors of this insightful book gather leading scholars and practitioners from a range of backgrounds and regions to provide an in-depth exploration of the MDG project and its impact. Contributors use region-specific case studies to explore the effectiveness of the MDGs in addressing the root causes of poverty including resource geographies, early childhood development and education, women's rights and disability rights, as well as the impact of the global financial crisis and Arab Spring on MDG attainment. Providing a critical assessment that seeks to inform future policy decisions, the book will be valuable to those working in the development community as well as to academics and students of international development, international relations and development economics.

Planning for a Better Urban Living Environment in Asia Anthony Gar-On Yeh, Mee Kam Ng, 2017-11-22. This title was first published in 2000. Asia has developed very rapidly in the last quarter of the century and will be a main focus of the world in the 21st century. With rapid growth and development, the urban areas in the region are undergoing dramatic changes. An appreciation of the heterogeneous nature of Asian cities and the related planning practices is the first step to understand various urban development problems in the region. This book is a consolidated effort by prominent scholars in Asian planning schools to explore urban development and planning practices in Asia. The book reflects on and examines some of the past and current challenges and considers future prospects of urban and regional planning, environment, housing, redevelopment and conservation, and planning education in Asia. This book should be useful to students teachers researchers and professionals and people who are interested in urban development planning and environment in Asia Governance and Leadership in Shrinking Cities Stanisław Mazur,2023-08-24 The aim of this publication is to look in depth at depopulation a trend that is affecting an increasing number of cities worldwide It has recently become a critical issue with a range of detrimental social economic spatial and financial consequences However attempts by central and local governments to combat depopulation have yet to yield satisfactory results Compelling evidence suggests that one of the reasons for this state of affairs is that the role of local urban leadership in devising solutions mobilizing resources and creating networks to address the problem has been underestimated Moreover according to the authors of this monograph there is a significant positive correlation between urban leadership and the ability to effectively respond to and counteract the negative effects of depopulation Without an understanding of the impact of urban leadership on the ability to address the negative consequences of urban depopulation it is impossible to pursue effective public policies in this regard This book presents a novel approach to explaining the ability of cities to combat depopulation through the prism of urban leadership quality It compares domestic empirical research findings with international case studies and offers a comprehensive review of valuable practices to counter urban shrinkage and depopulation from both academic and practical perspectives Further the book provides a new interpretation of the processes associated with these trends The magnitude of the phenomenon in question the negative spatial economic and social consequences as well as the relatively low effectiveness of policies aimed at its mitigation will make this book an invaluable guide for researchers and students from a wide range of disciplines including urban studies economics public management leadership studies local government climate change and energy transition and urban movements The audience will also comprise of policymakers and urban experts such as sociologists planners social geographers economists and architects Développement durable et aménagement du territoire Antonio da Cunha,Jean Ruegg,2003-01-01 L expression d veloppement durable jouit d un engouement certain au point de devenir incontournable dans bon nombre de domaines touchant les politiques publiques L objectif de cet ouvrage est de comprendre et de mesurer plus pr cis ment son apport pour l am nagement du territoire pris au sens large D une mani re g n rale nos territoires connaissent des transformations importantes li es notamment la mondialisation conomique la mobilit l mergence de nouveaux processus d exclusion sociale et aux limites environnementales Il en r sulte diff rents ph nom nes comme la difficult croissante tablir une distinction pertinente entre ville et campagne ou entre cultures urbaine et rurale qui posent de v ritables d fis en termes de r gulation territoriale Cet ouvrage rassemble une vingtaine de contributions de scientifiques et de praticiens qui sont intervenus dans le cadre du s minaire CUSO organis par les Instituts romands de g ographie et la Communaut d tudes pour l am nagement du territoire en f vrier 2000 Ensemble elles ouvrent des pistes quant la mani re de g rer les villes et les r gions du futur en questionnant les concepts les m thodes ou les outils du d veloppement durable qui seraient utiles cette r gulation Enjeux du développement urbain durable Antonio da Cunha,2005-01-01
