anthologies documentaries animated horror horror pornography pink films and experimental horror I Spit on Your Celluloid is a first of its kind celebration study and a book that needed to be written says cult filmmaker Stephanie Rothman You will never look at horror movies the same way again Targeted Deepa Fernandes,2011-01-04 America has always portrayed itself as a country of immigrants welcoming each year the millions seeking a new home or refuge in this land of plenty Increasingly instead of finding their dream many encounter a nightmare a country whose culture and legal system aggressively target and prosecute them In Targeted journalist Deepa Fernandes seamlessly weaves together history political analysis and first person narratives of those caught in the grips of the increasingly Kafkaesque U S Homeland Security system She documents how in post 9 11 America immigrants have come to be deemed a national security threat Fernandes herself an immigrant well acquainted with U S immigration procedures takes the reader on a harrowing journey inside the new American immigrant experience a journey marked by militarized border zones racist profiling criminalization detention and deportation She argues that since 9 11 the Bush administration has been carrying out a series of systematic changes to decades old immigration policy that constitute a roll back of immigrant rights and a boon for businesses who are helping to enforce the crackdown on immigrants creating a growing Immigration Industrial Complex She also documents the bullet to ballot strategy of white supremacist elements that influence our new immigration legislation Fair Trade Coffee Gavin Fridell,2007-01-01 Using case studies from Mexico and Canada this book examines the fair trade coffee movement at both the global and local level assessing its effectiveness and locating it within political and development theory It provides an analysis of fair trade coffee in the context of global trade No Friends but the Mountains Judith Matloff,2017-03-07 A veteran war correspondent journeys to remote mountain communities across the globe from Albania and Chechnya to Nepal and Colombia to investigate why so many conflicts occur at great heights Mountainous regions are home to only ten percent of the world s population yet host a strikingly disproportionate share of the world s conflicts Mountains provide a natural refuge for those who want to elude authority and their remoteness has allowed archaic practices to persist well into our globalized era As Judith Matloff shows the result is a combustible mix we in the lowlands cannot afford to ignore Traveling to conflict zones across the world she introduces us to Albanian teenagers involved in ancient blood feuds Mexican peasants hunting down violent poppy growers and Jihadists who have resisted the Russian military for decades At every stop Matloff reminds us that the drugs terrorism and instability cascading down the mountainside affect us all A work of political travel writing in the vein of Ryszard Kapuscinski and Robert Kaplan No Friends but the Mountains is an indelible portrait of the conflicts that have unexpectedly shaped our world Monsters Vs. Patriarchy Patricia Saldarriaga,Emy Manini,2025 Monsters vs Patriarchy examines female monstrosity as it appears in horror films from around the world and considers specific political scientific and historical contexts to better understand how we construct and reconstruct monstrosity using an intersectional approach to examine the imposition of gender and racial hierarchies that support national power structures
