Hollywood's Embassies Ross Melnick, 2022-04-26 Winner 2024 Culbert Family Book Prize International Association for Media and History Winner 2022 Richard Wall Memorial Award Theatre Library Association Beginning in the 1920s audiences around the globe were seduced not only by Hollywood films but also by lavish movie theaters that were owned and operated by the major American film companies These theaters aimed to provide a quintessentially American experience Outfitted with American technology and accoutrements they allowed local audiences to watch American films in an American owned cinema in a distinctly American way In a history that stretches from Buenos Aires and Tokyo to Johannesburg and Cairo Ross Melnick considers these movie houses as cultural embassies He examines how the exhibition of Hollywood films became a constant flow of political and consumerist messaging selling American ideas products and power especially during fractious eras Melnick demonstrates that while Hollywood's marketing of luxury and consumption often struck a chord with local audiences it was also frequently tone deaf to new social cultural racial and political movements He argues that the story of Hollywood's global cinemas is not a simple narrative of cultural and industrial indoctrination and colonization Instead it is one of negotiation booms and busts successes and failures adoptions and rejections and a precursor to later conflicts over the spread of American consumer culture A truly global account Hollywood's Embassies shows how the entanglement of worldwide movie theaters with American empire offers a new way of understanding film history and the history of U S soft power

Cinemas Dark and Slow in Digital India Lalitha Gopalan, 2021-02-12 This book provides a sustained engagement with contemporary Indian feature films from outside the mainstream including Aaranaya Kaandam I D Kaul Chauthi Koot Cosmic Sex and Gaali Beeja to undercut the dominance of Bollywood focused film studies Gopalan assembles films from Bangalore Chennai Delhi Kolkata and Trivandrum in addition to independent productions in Bombay cinema as a way of privileging understudied works that deserve critical attention The book uses close readings of films and a deep investigation of film style to draw attention to the advent of digital technologies while remaining fully cognizant of the digital as a cryptic formulation for considering the sea change in the global circulation of film and finance This dual focus on both the technological material conditions of Indian cinema and the film narrative offers a fulsome picture of changing narratives and shifting genres and styles

British National Cinema Sarah Street, 2009-06-02 The first substantial overview of the British film industry with emphasis on its genres stars and socioeconomic context British National Cinema by Sarah Street is an important title in Routledge's new National Cinemas series British National Cinema synthesizes years of scholarship on British film while incorporating the author's fresh perspective and research Street divides the study of British cinema into four sections the relation between the film industry and government specific film genres movie stars and experimental cinema In addition this beautifully illustrated volume includes over thirty stills from every sphere of British cinema British National Cinema will be of great interest to film students and theorists as well as the general reader interested in the fascinating scope of British film The Cinema of Apartheid Keyan Tomaselli, 2013-12-13 This study analyses the historical development of South African cinema up to the book's original publication in 1988. It describes the films and comments on their relationship to South African realities, addressing all aspects of the industry, focusing on domestic production but also discussing international film companies who use South Africa as a location. It explores tensions between English language and Afrikaans language films and between films made for blacks and films made for whites. Going behind the scenes, the author looks at the financial infrastructure, the marketing strategies and the work habits of the film industry. He concludes with a discussion of independent filmmaking, the obstacles facing South Africans who want to make films with artistic and political integrity, and the possibilities of progress in the future. Includes comprehensive bibliography and filmography listing all feature films made in South Africa between 1910 and 1985 together with documentary films by South Africans, non-South Africans and exiles about the country.

Rural Cinema Exhibition and Audiences in a Global Context Daniela Treveri Gennari, Danielle Hipkins, Catherine O'Rawe, 2018-10-19 Although it has only been in the last decade that the planet's population balance tipped from a predominantly rural makeup towards an urban one, the field of cinema history has demonstrated a disproportionate skew toward the urban. Within audience studies, however, an increasing number of scholars are turning their attention away from the bright lights of the urban and towards the less well-lit and infinitely more variegated history of rural cinema. Rural Cinema Exhibition and Audiences in a Global Context is the first volume to consider rural cinema from a global perspective. It aims to provide a rich and wide-ranging introduction to this growing field and to further develop some of its key questions. It brings together eighteen international scholars or teams, all representatives of a dynamic new field. Moving beyond a Western focus is essential for thinking through questions of rural exhibition, distribution and cinema experience. Since over the relatively short history of cinema, it is the rural that has dominated cinema-goers' lives in much of the developing world. To this end, the volume also innovates by bringing discussions of North American and European ruralities into dialogue with contributions on Kenya, Brazil, China, Thailand, South Africa and Australia.

Mr Movie Man Patrick Church, 2022-12-16 Films, Cinemas, Movies. They capture our imagination throughout our lives for whatever reason. Everyone has a different memory to associate with a film title or cinema name. Be it your very first experience at a young age, your first date and that kiss and cuddle in the back row, or perhaps even a film that scared the life out of you. This book brings back to life a distant memory to each and every one for their own reason. Be it your favourite movie star or that musical's song that wouldn't leave your head for weeks, that journey to a far distant galaxy or just being chased by a giant man eating shark. Cinema is the only place to capture all these adventures.

Screening the World Stuart Hanson, 2019-07-26 This book charts the development of the multiplex cinema as the pre eminent form of film exhibition across the world Going from its origins in the USA in the 1960s to its expansion overseas from the mid 1980s across Europe Australia and other parts of Asia Pacific the book considers the emergence of a series of initially regional then national and then international exhibition circuits However more than a consideration of US overseas expansion on the part of companies this book examines the hegemony of the multiplex as a cultural and business form arguing for its significance as a phenomenon that has transcended national and global boundaries and which has become the predominant venue for film viewing Implicit in this analysis is a recognition of the domination of US media multi nationals and Hollywood cinema and the development of the multiplex cinema as symbolic of the extension and maintenance of the USA's cultural and economic power With case studies ranging from European countries such as Belgium France Germany and The Netherlands to Pacific Asian countries such as Australia China Japan and South Korea this book is the first to explore the development of multiplexes on a global scale

Cinema in the Arab World Ifdal Elsaket, Daniël Biltereyst, Philippe Meers, 2023-01-26 Cinema in the Arab world has been the subject of varied and rigorous studies but most have focused on films as text providing in depth analyses of plot style ideologies or examination of the biographies of prominent directors or actors This innovative new volume shifts the focus on Arab cinema off screen to examine the histories politics and conditions of distribution exhibition and cinema going in the Arab world Through broadening the frame of study beyond the screen the book widens understanding of the cinema not merely as a collection of films as texts but as a site of cultural and political contestation in the Arab world Divided into two sections and guided by interdisciplinary considerations the contributors examine historical and contemporary issues of Arab cinema in terms of the experience of movie going and filmmaking They examine the networks of distribution and exhibition as well as the contested and multiple meanings that the cinema embodied through diverse historical periods and geographical locations Part I focuses on new histories of Arab cinema in terms of film production distribution exhibition and audience s experiences of cinema going Part II deals with more recent issues within scholarship on Arab cinema such as issues of politics economics ideologies as well as issues related to Arab movies international circulation and screenings at festivals Together the chapters enrich our understanding of the cinema in the Arab world showing how deeply embedded it is within its social political and economic contexts

Towards a Comparative Economic History of Cinema, 1930-1970 John Sedgwick, 2022-09-09 This book examines the economic circumstances in which films were produced distributed exhibited and consumed during the spoken era of film production until 1970 The periodisation covers the years between the onset of sound and the demise of the phased distribution of films Films are generally appreciated for their aesthetic qualities But they are also commodities This work of economic history presents a new approach considering consumption behaviour as significant as supply side decision making Audiences tastes are considered central with box office an indicator of what they liked The POPSTAT Index of Film Popularity is used as a proxy where box office knowledge is missing Comparative analysis is conducted through the tool RelPOP The book comprises original case studies covering film consumption in Great Britain the Netherlands Sweden and the United States during the 1930s Australia and occupied Belgium during the Second World War and Italy the United States Poland and Czechoslovakia during the Post war An overriding theme is how the classical American business model which emerged during the 1910s linking production to distribution and exhibition adapted to local circumstances including the two countries behind the Iron Curtain during the years of High Stalinism

Cinema Treasures Ross Melnick, Andreas Fuchs, 2004 More than 100 years after the first movie delighted audiences movie theaters remain the last great community centers and one of the few amusements any family can afford While countless books have been devoted to films and their stars none have attempted a truly definitive history of those magical venues that have transported moviegoers since the beginning of the last century In this stunningly illustrated book film industry insiders Ross Melnick and Andreas Fuchs take readers from the nickelodeon to the megaplex and show how changes in moviemaking and political social and technological forces e g war depression the baby boom the VCR have influenced the way we see movies Archival photographs from archives like the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences and movie theater ephemera postcards period ads matchbooks and even a barf bag sourced from private collections complement Melnick s informative and engaging history Also included throughout the book are Fuchs profiles detailing 25 classic movie theaters that have been restored and renovated and which continue to operate today Each of these two page spreads is illustrated with marvelous modern photographs many taken by top architectural photographers The result is a fabulous look at one way in which Americans continue to come together as a nation A timeline throughout places the developments described in a broader historical context We've had a number of beautiful books about the great movie palaces and even some individual volumes that pay tribute to surviving theaters around the country This is the first book I can recall that focuses on the survivors from coast to coast and puts them into historical context Sumptuously produced in an oversized format on heavy coated paper stock this beautiful book offers a lively history of movie theaters in America an impressive array of photos and memorabilia and a heartening survey of the landmarks in our midst from the majestic Fox Tucson Theatre in Tucson Arizona to the charming jewel box that is the Avon in Stamford Connecticut I don't know why but I never tire of gazing at black and white photos they evoke the era of moviemaking and moviegoing I care about the most and this book is packed with them Cinema Treasures is indeed a treasure and a perfect gift item for the holiday season Leonard Maltin Humble or grandiose stand alone or strung together movie theaters are places where dreams are born Once upon a time they were treated with the respect they deserve In their heyday historian Ross Melnick and exhibitor Andreas Fuchs write in Cinema Treasures openings of new motion picture pleasure palaces that would have dazzled Kubla Khan received enormous attention in newspapers around the country On top of the publicity they generated their debuts were treated like the gala openings of new operas or exhibits with critics weighing in on everything from the interior and exterior design to the orchestra Handsomely produced and extensively illustrated Cinema Treasures is detailed without being dull and thoroughly at home with this often neglected subject matter Its title would have you believe it is a celebration of the golden age of movie theaters But this book is something completely different an examination of the history of movie exhibition which the authors accurately call a vastly under researched topic Los Angeles Times

The Routledge Companion to New Cinema History Daniel Biltereyst, Richard Maltby, Philippe Meers, 2019-02-05 The Routledge Companion to New Cinema History presents the most recent approaches and methods in the study of the social experience of cinema from its origins in vaudeville and traveling exhibitions to the multiplexes of today Exploring its history from the perspective of the cinemagoer the study of new cinema history examines the circulation and consumption of cinema the political and legal structures that underpinned its activities the place that it occupied in the lives of its audiences and the traces that it left in their memories Using a broad range of methods from the statistical analyses of box office economics to ethnography oral history and memory studies this approach has brought about an undisputable change in how we study cinema and the questions we ask about its history This companion examines the place space and practices of film exhibition and programming the questions of gender and ethnicity within the cinematic experience and the ways in which audiences gave meaning to cinemagoing practices specific films stars and venues and its operation as a site of social and cultural exchange
