Sustainable Technologies for Textile Wastewater Treatments Subramanian Senthilkannan Muthu,2021-03-23 Sustainable Technologies

for Textile Wastewater Treatments takes on this complex and environmentally crucial issue by providing comprehensive coverage on new technologies and practices. Sections provide technical detail and instruction on cutting edge technologies including innovative industrial uses of nanotechnology and waste biomass. In addition, case studies are provided on different textile wastewater treatment plants, hence showing their full practical context. Specific areas of discussion include zero liquid discharge, nanomaterials adsorption, and advanced oxidation processes (AOP). Appropriate case studies from textile wastewater treatment plants are included to help illustrate key points. Other sections cover the cost of these methods, before highlighting effective low cost options. This book will be of use to researchers with an interest in textile sustainability or wastewater treatment, although sustainability managers or lifecycle assessment professionals in the textiles and fashion sector will find the book very impactful to their work. Provides detailed technical information on wastewater remediation methods including zero liquid discharge, nanomaterials adsorption, and advanced oxidation processes (AOP). Includes case studies from textile wastewater treatment plants. Outlines the cost of these methods and highlights effective low cost options.

Modalities of Change James Wilkerson, Robert Parkin, 2012-10-01 While in some cases modernity may dominate traditional forms of expression, in others the modern is embraced as a welcome source of new ideas that can modify tradition while still keeping it within its own bounds. Maintaining a strong and distinct cultural identity with the help of modernity helps representatives of that identity cope with the modern world more generally. By contrast, assimilation to a dominant culture, marked as modern, is clearly associated with not only the loss of a distinct identity but also its specific forms of cultural expression. This book explores the consequences of the interface between modernity and tradition in selected societies in Taiwan, mainland China, and Vietnam. The contributors examine how traditions are themselves exploiting modernity in creative ways in the interests of their own further cultural developments and to what extent this approach is likely to help a tradition survive.
