The Bible onscreen in the new millennium Wickham Clayton, 2020-01-17 The remarkable commercial success of Mel Gibson's The Passion of the Christ in 2004 came as a surprise to the Hollywood establishment particularly considering the film's failure to find production funding through a major studio Since then the Biblical epic long thought dead in terms of mainstream marketability has become a viable product This collection examines the new wave of the genre which includes such varied examples as Darren Aronofsky's Noah 2014 and Ridley Scott's Exodus: Gods and Kings 2014 along with the telenovelas of Latin America Such texts follow previous traditions while appearing distinct both stylistically and thematically from the Biblical epic in its prime making academic consideration timely and relevant Featuring contributions from such scholars as Mikel J Koven Andrew B R Elliott and Martin Stollery and a preface from Adele Reinhartz the book will be of interest to students and scholars of film television and religion Beyond Modernism and Postmodernism Maurice R. Berube, 2001-11-30 Berube examines the political matrix of intellectual and cultural America In a wide ranging series of essays from the rise of the postmodern intellectual to a modernist appreciation of the spiritual quality of the paintings of Jackson Pollock Berube stakes out his claim that all areas of human endeavor are rooted in a politics of culture The essay collection is divided into three sections The first two essays deal with the postmodern intellectual and the corporate university the second section plumbs the depth of a conservative school reform movement and asks whether we have not reached an end to education reform The last section contains essays pertaining to precarious state of arts education in the schools reflections on a modernist literary canon the contribution of Pollock and plumbing alternative views of Jesus as the penultimate revolutionary Of particular interest to scholars students and other researchers involved with cultural studies and education Stikeman Elliott Richard W.
