Modern Korean Poetry:

The Columbia Anthology of Modern Korean Poetry David Richard McCann, 2004 Taking as its starting point the long standing characterization of Milton as a Hebraic writer Milton and the Rabbis probes the limits of the relationship between the seventeenth century English poet and polemicist and his Jewish antecedents Shoulson s analysis moves back and forth between Milton s writings and Jewish writings of the first five centuries of the Common Era collectively known as midrash In exploring the historical and literary implications of these connections Shoulson shows how Milton s text can inform a more nuanced reading of midrash just as midrash can offer new insights into Paradise Lost Shoulson is unconvinced of a direct link between a specific collection of rabbinic writings and Milton s works He argues that many of Milton s poetic ideas that parallel midrash are likely to have entered Christian discourse not only through early modern Christian Hebraicists but also through Protestant writers and preachers without special knowledge of Hebrew At the heart of Shoulson s inquiry lies a fundamental question When is an idea a theme or an emphasis distinctively Judaic or Hebraic and when is it Christian The difficulty in answering such questions reveals and highlights the fluid interaction between ostensibly Jewish Hellenistic and Christian modes of thought not only during the early modern period but also early in time when rabbinic Judaism and Christianity began

A Companion to Ten Modern Korean Poets Jihee Han, 2015-10-13 A Companion to Ten Modern Korean Poets is a practical handbook that connects poetry and culture with historical moments in which Korean poet intellectuals mused on what poetry can do This book offers a historical viewpoint of how they struggled to maintain Korean national identity cultural sensibility and spirituality in times of violence and surveillance Surveying how each poet shaped their poetry responding to the political events it also guides readers to understand why Korean poetry begins with a sense of solitude but ends with a longing for the building of common ground called Minjung Finally it provides translations of each poet s representative poems Through seemingly transparent poetic texts may emerge the tension between language and speechlessness hunger for the modern and hunger for what is lost and memory of the past and hope for justice This tension makes all ten poets including Han Yongun Jeong Jiyong Kim Sowol Yun Dongju Yi Sang Baek Seok Kim Suyoung Seo Jeongju Ko Un and Shin Kyeongnim crucial witnesses to the brutality in modern Korean history On the other hand there is the integrity of their poetics Although living in a difficult environment they continued laboring with their mother tongue to create modern Korean poetry shaping Korean cultural identity based on folk traditional arts such as Minyo and Gut and finally sharing folk sensibilities of Heung and Jeong under strict censorship Listening to their voices we might begin to imagine a new unfolding of history in the age of extremes
