Modern Africa:

Modern Africa Basil Davidson, 2014-07-10 Basil Davidson's famous book now updated in a welcome Third Edition reviews the social and political history of Africa in the twentieth century. It takes the reader from the colonial era through the liberation movements to independence and beyond. It faces squarely the disappointments and breakdowns that have dulled the early successes of the post colonial era yet for all the sorrows and uncertainties of Africa today Basil Davidson shows how much has been achieved since decolonization and the mood of his new final chapter is hopeful and buoyant.

A History of Modern Africa Richard J. Reid, 2020-01-09 The new fully updated edition of the acclaimed textbook covering 200 years of African history. A History of Modern Africa explores two centuries of the continent's political, economic and social history. This thorough yet accessible text helps readers to understand key concepts, recognize significant themes and identify the processes that shaped the modern history of Africa. Emphasis is placed on the consequences of colonial rule and the links between the precolonial and postcolonial eras. Author Richard Reid, a prominent scholar and historian on the subject, argues that Africa's struggle for economic and political stability in the nineteenth century escalated and intensified through the twentieth century, the effects of which are still felt in the present day. The new third edition offers substantial updates and revisions that consider recent events and historiography. Greater emphasis is placed on African agency, particularly during the colonial period and the importance of the long-term militarization of African political culture. Discussions of the postcolonial period have been updated to reflect recent developments, including those in North Africa. Adopting a long-term approach to current African issues, this text explores the legacies of the nineteenth century and the colonial period in the context of the contemporary era. Highlights the role of nineteenth-century and long-term internal dynamics in Africa's modern challenges. Combines recent scholarship with concise and effective narrative. Features maps, illustrations, expanded references and comprehensive endnotes. A History of Modern Africa 1800 to the Present 3rd Edition is an excellent introduction to the subject for undergraduate students in relevant courses and for general readers with interest in modern African history and current affairs.

A History of Modern Africa Richard J. Reid, 2011-11-14 Updated and revised to emphasise long-term perspectives on current issues facing the continent, the new 2nd Edition of A History of Modern Africa recounts the full breadth of Africa's political, economic and social history over the past two centuries. Adopts a long-term approach to current issues, stressing the importance of nineteenth-century and deeper indigenous dynamics in explaining Africa's later twentieth-century challenges. Places a greater focus on African agency, especially during the colonial encounter. Includes more in-depth coverage of non-Anglophone Africa. Offers expanded coverage of the post colonial era to take account of recent developments including the conflict in Darfur and the political unrest of 2011 in Egypt Tunisia and Libya

Development In Modern Africa Martin S. Shanguhyia, Toyin Falola, 2019-10-08

Development in Modern Africa Past and Present Perspectives contributes to our understanding of Africa's experiences with the development process. It does so by adopting a historical and contemporary analysis of this experience. The book is set within the context of critiques on development in Africa that have yielded two general categories of analysis: skepticism and pessimism. While not overlooking the shortcomings of development, the themes in the book express an optimistic view of Africa's development experiences, highlighting elements that can be tapped into to enhance the condition of African populations and their states. By using case studies from precolonial, colonial, and postcolonial Africa, contributors to the volume demonstrate that human instincts to improve material, social, and spiritual worlds are universal. They are not limited to the Western world, which the term and process of development are typically associated with. Before and after contact with the West, Africans have actively created institutions and values that they have actively employed to improve individual and community lives. This innovative spirit has motivated Africans to integrate or experiment with new values and structures, challenges, and solutions to human welfare that resulted from contact with colonialism and the postcolonial global community. The book will be of interest to academics in the fields of history, African studies, and regional studies.

Ethnicity In Modern Africa Brian M. du Toit, 2019-04-11

The fifteen essays written for this volume reflect the increasing importance for social scientists of ethnic rather than physical or tribal criteria for classifying modern population groups. The authors from South Africa, the United States, South West Africa, Namibia, Nigeria, and Scotland cover most of Africa south of the Sahara. They consider the range from large national population groupings to small-scale societies attempting to maintain their social boundaries and discuss such topics as emergent nationalism, ethnic divisiveness, social distance, voluntary association, and the role of women. The first section is concerned with particular communities, peoples, and ethnic groups and treats traditional tribal groupings as well as communities delineated on phenotypic grounds. In the second section, the focus turns to modern situations of interaction; the two major themes discussed here are situational ethnicity and situational realignment. The third section deals with color, one of the physical criteria of ethnic identification; here the authors discuss the political and legal implications of a system based on color. The last essay reports on current changes in attitude and organization within the countries of white-ruled southern Africa.

Environmental Politics and Liberation in

Contemporary Africa M.A. Salih,2013-03-14 Nowadays the environment looms large in the analysis of conflict in developing societies and the precise role it plays is the subject of an ongoing debate The de bate has moved on from the earlier but still popular notions of power struggles class struggles and ethnic conflicts to a perception of conflict as the product of intense group competition for resources Where the state controls the distribu tion of resources itself inevitably becomes party to conflicts whose bone of con tention is access to state power as the most efficient means of gaining access to resources The resources in question are social health education transportation communication recreation etc and material land water housing jobs con tracts licenses permits etc In parts of the world and especially in Africa di minishing resources and authoritarian state rule exacerbate group competition leading to political confrontation This is the line I have followed in analysing conflict in the Hom of Africa Markakis 1987 1998 Mohamed Salih s first contribution in this volume is to move the debate a step beyond this line which can be criticized as unduly materialist He does it by bringing culture into the realm of resources not only as a resource in itself but also as the agency that assigns natural resources their value Culture thus becomes a contextual element in conflict over resources whose value is culturally deter mined

Eze, 2010-07-19 This book mediates a dialectics between power and subjectivity versus history and politics The invention of Africa is not merely a residue of Africa's encounter with Europe but a project in continuity in contemporary history of Africa where history has become a location of struggle and meaning a location of power and domination Eze contends that postcolonial African studies that thrive by way of unanimity analogy or homogeneity are merely advancing a defeatist historicism It attempts to gain essence by inverting the terms of colonial discourse and is decisively implicated in the very logic of coloniality This method of historiography not only stifles the overall socio political imagination of contemporary Africa but offers a dogmatic blueprint for politics of domination Eze argues that a chance for an African Renaissance is dependent on review mechanisms of African historiography      Africa Is Not a Country Dipo Faloyin, 2022-04-07 Definitive proof that Africa is not a country A lively entertaining and informative portrait of modern Africa that pushes back against harmful stereotypes Over a billion people have been reduced to one simple story Africa Is Not a Country fills in the gaps So often Africa is depicted simplistically as a red landscape of safaris and famines In this funny insightful book Dipo Faloyin corrects this view to create a fresh and positive view of the continent By turns intimate and political he looks at buzzy urban life in Lagos and the lively West African rivalry over who makes the best jollof rice before giving us the story of democracy in ten dictatorships an insight into different regional accents and the colonial foundation of many countries which are still younger than your grandparents We learn about the dangers of white saviours and the cultural significance of Aunties and he provides us with a tour guide of where citizens of several African countries need to travel to visit their own cultural artefacts 90% of which are in museums outside the continent We immerse ourselves in the energy and fabric of many different cultures and communities as Dipo shows his deep love of the region as a concept as a promise and as a reality
