Avery, 2007-05-28 This collection includes groundbreaking essays and interviews with scholars and writers which reveal that despite pressures of assimilation personal goals and in some cases anti-Semitism they have never been able to divorce their lives or literature from their heritage A to Z of American Women Writers Carol Kort, 2014-05-14 Presents a biographical dictionary profiling important women authors including birth and death dates accomplishments and bibliography of each author's work Contemporary American Women Writers Lois Parkinson Zamora, 2017-09-29 This collection brings together critical essays that examine questions of identity and community in the fiction of contemporary American women writers among them Alice Walker Toni Morrison and Sandra Cisneros The essays consider how identities and societies are dramatized in particular works of fiction and how these works reflect cultural communities outside the fictional frame often the communities in which their authors live and work The essays included here concern fictional representations of African American Latino Asian American Native American Anglo and Euro American communities and their working interactions in the multicultural United States Each critic asks in his or her own way how a particular writer transforms her social grounding into language and literature The introduction includes an overview of the range of literary criticism devoted to contemporary American women writers and an extensive bibliography of complementary critical readings is provided to encourage further study Undergraduate and postgraduate students of contemporary literature will find the text an invaluable guide to contemporary women's writing in America and the range of criticism that this has given rise to American Women Writers, 1900-1945 Laurie Champion, 2000-09-30 Women writers have been traditionally excluded from literary canons and not until recently have scholars begun to rediscover or discover for the first time neglected women writers and their works This reference includes alphabetically arranged entries on 58 American women authors who wrote between 1900 and 1945 Each entry is written by an expert contributor and discusses a particular author s biography her major works and themes and the critical response to her writings The entries close with extensive primary and secondary bibliographies and the volume concludes with a list of works for further reading The period surveyed by this reference is rich and diverse Modernism and the Harlem Renaissance two major artistic movements occurred between 1900 and 1945 and the entries included here demonstrate the significant contributions women made to these movements The volume as a whole strives to reflect the diversity of American culture and includes entries for African American Native American Mexican American and Chinese American women It includes well known writers such as Willa Cather and Eudora Welty along with more neglected ones such as Anita Scott Coleman and Sui Sin Far

Contemporary American Women Fiction Writers Laurie Champion,Rhonda Austin,2002-11-30 American women writers have long been creating an extraordinarily diverse and vital body of fiction particularly in the decades since World War II Recent authors have benefited from the struggles of their predecessors who broke through barriers that denied women opportunities for self expression This reference highlights American women writers who continue to build upon the formerly male dominated canon Included are alphabetically arranged entries for more than 60 American women writers of diverse ethnicity who wrote or published their most significant fiction after World War II Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes L DBLA brief biography L DBLA discussion of major works and themes DBLA survey of the writer s critical reception L DBLA bibliography of primary and secondary sources

Sex Expression and American Women Writers, 1860-1940 Dale M. Bauer,2009-01-01 American women novelists of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries registered a call for a new sexual freedom Dale Bauer contends By creating a lexicon of sex expression many authors explored sexuality as part of a discourse about women s needs rather than confining it to the realm of sentiments where it had been relegated if broached at all by earlier writers This new rhetoric of sexuality enabled critical conversations about who had sex when in life they had it and how it signified Whether liberating or repressive sexuality became a potential force for female agency in these women s novels Bauer explains insofar as these novelists seized the power of rhetoric to establish their intellectual authority Thus Bauer argues they helped transform the traditional ideal of sexual purity into a new goal of sexual pleasure defining in their fiction what intimacy between equals might become Analyzing the work of canonical as well as popular writers_including Edith Wharton Anzia Yezierska Julia Peterkin and Fannie Hurst among others_Bauer demonstrates that the new sexualization of American culture was both material and rhetorical

American Women Writers and the Nazis Thomas Austenfeld,2001 Addressing a perceived gap in critiques of the works of four North American women expatriate authors in 1930s Germany Austenfeld language and literature North Georgia State College State U analyzes their responses to fascism as part of their creative development Exploring the theme of personal ethics the author compares Kay Boyle s novels such as

Death of a Man 1936 with Katherine Anne Porter's Ship of Fools 1962 He also discusses Jean Stafford's collected stories of Heidelberg and Lillian Hellman's play Watch on the Rhine c Book News Inc

Contemporary Mexican Women Writers Gabriella de Beer, 1996-11-01 Mexican women writers moved to the forefront of their country's literature in the twentieth century Among those who began publishing in the 1970s and 1980s are Maria Luisa Puga Silvia Molina Brianda Domecq Carmen Boullosa and Angeles Mastretta Sharing a range of affinities while maintaining distinctive voices and outlooks these are the women whom Gabriella de Beer has chosen to profile in Contemporary Mexican Women Writers De Beer takes a three part approach to each writer She opens with an essay that explores the writer's apprenticeship and discusses her major works Next she interviews each writer to learn about her background writing and view of herself and others Finally de Beer offers selections from the writer's work that have not been previously published in English translation Each section concludes with a complete bibliographic listing of the writer's works and their English translations These essays interviews and selections vividly recreate the experience of being with the writer and sharing her work hearing her tell about and evaluate herself and reading the words she has written The book will be rewarding reading for everyone who enjoys fine writing

Reading Contemporary Black British and African American Women Writers Jean Wyatt, Sheldon George, 2020-01-28 Contemporary African American and Black British Women Writers Narrative Race Ethics brings together British and American scholars to explore how in texts by contemporary black women writers in the U S and Britain formal narrative techniques express new understandings of race or stimulate ethical thinking about race in a reader Taken together the essays also demonstrate that black women writers from both sides of the Atlantic borrow formal structures and literary techniques from one another to describe the workings of structural racism in the daily lives of black subjects and to provoke readers to think anew about race Narratology has only recently begun to use race as a category of narrative theory This collection seeks both to show the ethical effects of narrative form on individual readers and to foster reconceptualizations of narrative theory that account for the workings of race within literature and culture

American Writers Elizabeth H. Oakes, 2004 American Writers focuses on the rich diversity of American novelists

Anglo-American Women Writers and Representations of Indianness, 1629-1824 Dr Cathy Rex, 2015-11-28 Comparing representations of Indianness by Anglo American engravers and later by early Anglo American women writers Cathy Rex shows that iconic images of Native figures informed both the early republican American identity and the authorial identity of women writers like Mary Rowlandson and Lydia Maria Child By contextualizing these well known narratives and images as constitutive of one another Rex brings a new more textually inclusive perspective to the field of early American studies
