Modern Diplomacy Of Capitalistic Powers:

Modern Diplomacy of Capitalist Powers Andrei A. Gromyko, 2016-04-20 Modern Diplomacy of Capitalist Powers details the problems in bourgeois diplomacy The book is comprised of 11 chapters that cover the international relation policy of a great power The text first discusses the characteristics and distinctive features of imperialist foreign policy in the 70s and early 80s The next chapters deal with the diplomacy of major world powers which include U S France Federal Republic of Germany Great Britain and Italy The next two chapters cover eastern powers namely China and Japan Chapter 9 tackles the diplomacy of capitalist countries and the disarmament problem The 10th chapter discusses the diplomacy of the western powers and European security while the last chapter details the diplomacy of the developed capitalist countries and the United Nations organization The book will be of great use to individuals who have a keen interest in international diplomacy particular the diplomatic pattern of the global superpowers

Theories of Power and Domination

Angus Stewart, 2001-03-20 Power and domination are central concepts in social science yet up to now they have been undertheorized This wide ranging book guides students through the complexities and implications of both concepts It provides systematic accounts of current debates about the dynamics and rationale of state power in an era of globalization social citizenship and the significance of social movements The contributions of Parsons Giddens Foucault Mann Arendt Habermas and Castells are clearly set out and critically assessed

The Ashgate Research Companion to Modern

Theory, Modern Power, World Politics Nevzat Soguk, Scott G Nelson, 2016-04-28 Deliberately eschewing disciplinary and temporal boundaries this volume makes a major contribution to the de traditionalization of political thinking within the discourses of international relations Collecting the works of twenty five theorists this Ashgate Research Companion engages some of the most pressing aspects of political thinking in world politics today The authors explore theoretical constitutions critiques and affirmations of uniquely modern forms of power past and present Among the themes and dynamics examined are textual appropriation and representation materiality and capital formation geopolitical dimensions of ecological crises connections between representations of violence and securitization subjectivity and genderization counter globalization politics constructivism biopolitics post colonial politics and theory as well as the political prospects of emerging civic and cosmopolitan orders in a time of national religious and secular polarization Radically different in their approaches the authors critically assess the discourses of IR as interpretive frames that are indebted to the historical formation of concepts and to particular negotiations of power that inform the main methodological practices usually granted primacy in the field Students as well as seasoned scholars seeking to challenge accepted theoretical frameworks will find in these chapters fresh insights into contemporary world political problems and new resources for their critical interrogation

Rotary

International and the Selling of American Capitalism Brendan Goff, 2021-07-06 Rotary International spreads America s good news The organization spent the interwar years convincing Main Street and the world at large that America s promise lay in cooperation and service under capitalism values that could knit the globe together In the process Brendan Goff argues Rotary became an extension of US power

The Futures of Racial Capitalism Gargi Bhattacharyya,2023-10-23 Capitalism appears to be endlessly in crisis but without ever loosening its hold on our lives New modes of racism and exclusion emerge but the old ones never go away We continue to struggle to live and survive in its wake but are unable still now to build commonality with each other In this incisive book Gargi Bhattacharyya revisits debates about racial capitalism and its violence through differentiation Taking the four lenses of prisons borders debt and platforms Bhattacharyya reveals how this moment of capitalist crisis positions humans as expendable but differentially so in a process that remakes longstanding racialized hierarchies Uncovering practices and techniques embedded in the shifting processes of accumulation and state power the chapters illuminate how value is extracted from populations through non wage routes and indebtedness This engaging introduction to racial capitalism offers an interlocking and insightful analysis of capitalist renewal essential for students and scholars interested in issues of race racism and inequality

Galbraith and Market Capitalism David Reisman,1980-06-05 International Negotiations: A Bibliography Amos Lakos,2019-02-22 The international system comprises a plurality of sovereign states often pursuing conflicting interests One means of resolving or managing conflicts between those states is diplomatic bargaining or negotiation In the last fifteen years the study of negotiation has attracted researchers from various disciplines in the social sciences and the vol

Globalization and Capitalist Geopolitics Daniel Woodley,2017-11-27 Globalization and Capitalist Geopolitics is concerned with the nature of corporate power against the backdrop of the decline of the West and the struggle by non western states to challenge and overcome domination of the rest of the world by the West This book argues that although the US continues to preside over a quasi imperial system of power based on global military preponderance and financial statecraft and remains reluctant to recognize the realities global economic convergence the age of imperial state hegemony is giving way to a new international order characterized by capitalist sovereignty and competition between regional and transnational concentrations of economic power This title seeks to interrogate the structure of world order by examining leading approaches to globalization and political economy in international relations and international political economy Breaking with the classical school Woodley argues that geopolitics should be understood as a transnational strategic practice employed by powerful state actors which mirrors predatory corporate rivalry for control over global resources and markets reproducing the structural conditions for corporate power through the transnational state form of capital In a period of increasing geopolitical insecurity and economic instability this title provides an authoritative yet accessible commentary on debates on capitalism and globalization in the wake of the financial crisis It is valuable resource for students and scholars seeking to develop a deeper understanding of the historical determinants of the changing dynamics of neoliberal capitalism and their implications for world order

The Great Power Competition Volume 6 Adib Farhadi,Mark

Grzegorzewski,Anthony J. Masys,2025-01-13 China's Belt and Road Initiative BRI represents a monumental shift in the global power landscape Through ambitious infrastructure projects and strategic economic investments China has emerged as a formidable challenger to U.S. dominance in the modern Great Power Competition GPC leveraging a unique blend of soft power and non interference policy This distinctive strategy has allowed China to rapidly gain footholds in resource rich regions such as Central Asia South Asia CASA and the Middle East compelling the U.S. to rethink its foreign policy approach in response Given China's adept leveraging of soft power in these geostrategic regions the critical question arises how can the U.S. meet the nuanced challenges of the modern GPC The Great Power Competition Volume 6 The Rise of China delves into China's calculated rise exploring how the BRI has captivated nations spanning pivotal regions entrenching Chinese influence across critical sectors This edited volume brings together distinguished global experts and thought leaders to provide comprehensive analyses of China's expanding influence across economic political technological and security domains The collection of essays offers critical insights and recommendations for navigating the modern day great power competition in an era defined by China's ascent The book highlights China's BRI brand diplomacy and its strategic use of soft power and non interference policy to reshape the geopolitical landscape The authors' final analyses underscore that in the modern era of the GPC strategic competition and soft power are deeply intertwined Capitalism in contemporary Iran Kayhan

Valadbaygi,2024-03-05 This book traces the patterns of capital accumulation and the changes in class and state formation emanating from it in Iran during the global neoliberal era It demonstrates how there are inner connections between the nature of contemporary development in Iran the form of the state the ongoing sociopolitical transformations in society and the geopolitical tensions with the West Simultaneously it highlights that these issues should be explored in terms of their internal relations to the motions and tendencies of neoliberal global capitalism and resulting geopolitics Accordingly the book demonstrates that Iranian neoliberalisation has brought about new contested class dynamics that have fundamentally reconstructed the Iranian ruling class aggressively shaped and reshaped the working class and the poor and drastically impacted the state form and its foreign policy The Middle Ages Dana Carleton Munro,Raymond James Sontag,1928

Making the World Safe for Capitalism Christopher Doran,2012-05-08 The Iraq war defined the first decade of the twenty first century leading to mass protests and raising profound questions about domestic politics and the use of military force Yet most explanations of the war have a narrow focus either on political personalities or oil Christopher Doran provides a unique perspective arguing that the drive to war came from the threat Iraq might pose to American economic hegemony if the UN sanctions regime was ended Doran argues that this hegemony is rooted in third world debt and corporate market access It was protection of these arrangements that motivated US action not Iraq's alleged weapons of mass destruction or a simplistic desire to seize its oil This book will provide new insights on the war which still casts a shadow over global politics and will have wide appeal to all those concerned about the Middle East world peace and global development Sinicization and the Rise of China Peter J. Katzenstein, 2013-03-01 China's rise and processes of Sinicization suggest that recombination of new and old elements rather than a total rupture with or return to the past is China's likely future. In both space and time, civilizational politics offers the broadest social context. It is of particular salience in China. Reification of civilizations into simple categories such as East and West is widespread in everyday politics and common in policy and academic writings. This book's emphasis on Sinicization as a specific instance of civilizational processes counters political and intellectual shortcuts and corrects the mistakes to which they often lead. Sinicization illustrates that like other civilizations, China has always been open to variegated social and political processes that have brought together many different kinds of peoples adhering to very different kinds of practices. This book tries to avoid the reifications and celebrations that mark much of the contemporary public debate about China's rise. It highlights instead complex processes and political practices bridging East and West that avoid easy shortcuts. The analytical perspectives of this book are laid out in Katzenstein's opening and concluding chapters. They are explored in six outstanding case studies written by widely known authors which cover questions of security, political economy, and culture. Featuring an exceptional line-up and representing a diversity of theoretical views within one integrative perspective, this work will be of interest to all scholars and students of international relations, sociology, and political science. Chapter 7 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non-Commercial No Derivatives CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 license.

Politics and Culture in Victorian Britain Henry Colin Gray Matthew, 2006-03-09 In the last twenty years, one of the classical arenas for British historical writing, the politics of Victorian Britain, has ceased to be an obvious or self-evidently important subject. Facing up to this challenge, the historians who have contributed to this volume explore central aspects of that history. They continue to uphold the centrality of politics to Victorian Britain but suggest that politics must be viewed more broadly as a concern pervading almost all spheres of life, just as Victorians themselves would have done. In this way, politics penetrates into Victorian culture. Politics can lead us into the ideas governing political action itself, political ideas, international relations, the education of men and women, the writing of history and of literature, engagement with past political theorists, and the ideas behind professionalization. Such are some of the themes taken up here. The specific occasion for these essays was as a tribute to the memory of the late Colin Matthew, one of the most eminent recent historians of Victorian Britain who was himself determined to uphold the contemporary relevance of Victorian political tradition and to explore the interface between politics and culture. Reflection on his intellectual achievement is a second distinctive component of this book.

China in Contemporary Capitalism, 2024-09-16 From a unique Global South Political Economy perspective, this volume showcases outstanding works on the economic, social, and political development of China. It covers topics such as the Chinese development model, the evolution of social classes, the country's projection on the global stage, and the recent technological dispute with the United States. It does so by avoiding the trap, particularly perilous in the case of China, of isolating the economy from politics The authors demonstrate that without understanding the contradictory movements of these two dimensions in their historical evolution it is impossible to grasp contemporary China Contributors are Esther Majerowicz Carlos Aguiar de Medeiros Isabela Nogueira Edemilson Paran Val ria Lopes Ribeiro and Hao Qi
