Modern French Criticism John K. Simon, 1972 Stanford Bulletin .1996 Sociological Abstracts Leo P. Chall. 1988 Disarming Intelligence Modern French Citicism: from Proust and Valery to Structuralism J. K. Simon, 1972 Zakir Paul, 2024-08-13 A critical account of the idea of intelligence in modern French literature and thought In the late nineteenth century psychologists and philosophers became intensely interested in the possibility of quantifying measuring and evaluating intelligence and using it to separate and compare individuals Disarming Intelligence analyzes how this polyvalent term was consolidated and contested in competing discourses from fin de si cle psychology and philosophy to literature criticism and cultural polemics around the First World War Zakir Paul examines how Marcel Proust Henri Bergson Paul Val ry and the critics of the influential Nouvelle revue fran aise registered negotiated and subtly countered the ways intelligence was invoked across the political and aesthetic spectrum For these writers intelligence fluctuates between an individual sovereign faculty for analyzing the world and something collective accidental and contingent Disarming Intelligence shows how literary and critical styles guestioned suspended and reimagined what intelligence could be by bringing elements of uncertainty and potentiality into its horizon The book also explores interwar political tensions from the extreme right to Walter Benjamin's engaged essays on contemporary French writers Finally a brief coda recasts current debates about artificial intelligence by comparing them to these earlier crises of intelligence By drawing together and untangling competing conceptions of intelligence Disarming Intelligence exposes its mercurial but influential and urgent role Three Studies in Modern French Litterature J. M. Cocking, Enid Starkie, Martin in literary and cultural politics The Masters of Modern French Criticism Irving Babbitt, 1912 This volume does not criticism Jarrett-Kerr, 1960 but criticizes critics The critics examined are among the most vital and significant personalities of their time To study Sainte Beuve and the other leading French critics is to get very close to the intellectual center of the century Readers my thus follow the main movement of this thought through this period and build up the necessary background for understanding the ideas of the present day whether they continue this earlier thought or react from it The so called anti intellectualist movement can only be understood with reference to such a background it is a reaction from the dogmatic naturalism that reached its height in the second half of the nineteenth century. In the end the judgment of the keen sighted few in the present will be ratified by the verdict of posterity French Structuralism ,1990 The Material Object in the Work of Marcel Proust Thomas Baldwin, 2005 Modern French Identities focuses on the French and Francophone writing of the twentieth and twenty first centuries whose formal experiments and revisions of genre have combined to create an entirely new set of literary forms The series publishes studies of individual authors and artists comparative studies and interdisciplinary projects Three Studies in Modern French Literature; Marcel Proust, Andre Gide, Francois Mauriac ,1960 Transmissions Isabelle Frances McNeill, Bradley Stephens, 2007 As a concept transmission is crucial to our understanding of how ideas circulate within and across cultures It opens up a series of questions that link to key debates concerning the exchange of knowledge Bringing together research from a broad range of areas in French studies this volume investigates the workings of transmission in relation to canonical and contemporary figures alike including Proust Barthes Derrida Jean Luc Godard and Claire Denis The essays collected here offer a lively response to the themes of transmission considering literature and philosophy from the medieval period onwards as well as modern cinema and critical theory The first section traces concepts of malign transmission that have informed medieval early modern and finally contemporary representations of contagion The second section addresses the impact of trauma along with its imperative to testify to or transmit painful experiences such as rape and the Holocaust The final section considers transmission in terms of a signal that carries a message as well as the media that transport or encode that signal The Ideal Reader Jacques Riviere, 2017-07-05 Jacques Riviere knew how to accept art emotionally No French critic was ever less a traditional pedagogue Rivibre was an intelligent French writer who knew that the summit of the intellect is to admit affective knowledge instinct and intuition The heart or taste is always superior to raw intelligence Reviere's supple metaphors are not easily rendered into English Th e density of his thought the complexity of his views the moral and spiritual fervor that vibrates in these pages further enhances the difficulties the skilled translator must overcome Literary criticism is often ephemeral it has served its purpose if it stimulates discussion about the work of art under scrutiny Not so with essays like these Th ey demand an active reading as do the original works themselves Th ey do not easily yield their signifi cance Among the critics who came into the French literary scene in the years immediately preceding and following the First World War Jacques Riviere has been least affected by the attrition of time His studies of Proust and Rimbaud still rank among the two or three essential works to be read on these authors Few other critics have gone further in a sensuous perception of these authors work and the intellectual lucidity in analyzing it Reviere had few pretensions to profundity and a great purity of style In an age of slogans and judgments this volume reminds the reader of the extraordinary role of European critical thought in the twentieth century "Theœ Masters of Modern French Criticism Irving Babbitt,1913 Three Studies in Modern French Literature John Martin Cocking, 1960 Cross-references David Kelley, Isabelle Llasera, 1986 The Masters of Modern French Criticism Irving Babbitt,1930 The Evolution of Proust's «Combray» Maureen A. Ramsden, 2020 This book explores the origins of Marcel Proust's A la recherche du temps perdu in an earlier unfinished novel Jean Santeuil Using close readings of early unpublished versions of the work the author offers a further elucidation of the meaning of this rich and complex novel and its evolution into a modernist work

From Proust to Camus: Profiles of Modern French Writers Andre Maurois, 1966 The Word from Paris John Sturrock, 1998 French writing and French thought have always been held in a certain glamorous esteem For young radical philosophers of the 1960s searching out intellectual enlightenment in Left Bank cafes and bookshops for serious minded semiologists wishing to deconstruct everything around them and for fans of the formal novel France has remained a source of stimulation and fresh ideas John Sturrock has written for many years about French literature and thought and here presents a wonderfully accessible guide to the major figures of the last fifty years Reviewing the various movements that have dominated the French intellectual scene existentialism the nouveua roman structuralism the OuLiPo he illustrates how their proponents inspire and excite How Jean Paul Sartre originally an author of little known fiction fused politics and philosophy to become one of the best known public intellectuals of the century how Jacques Lacan's flamboyantly expressed ideas made him a hero to professors of literature while offending many of his fellow psychoanalysts and how Boris Vian who trained as an engineer celebrated in his writing much of what was enjoyable to the French about America jazz music a mysterious criminal underworld an irrevocable youthfulness Written with great elegance and expertise the essays in The Word from Paris make for an illuminating journey through the intellectual and cultural terrain of twentieth century France
