Falger, 2012-12-06 1 1 THE STUDY OF CONFLICT Polemos Panton Pater Heraclitus Conflict on all levels of organic existence is pervasive persistent ubiquitous Conflict is the universal experience of all life forms Organisms are bound in multiple conflict configurations and coalitions which have their own dynamic and their own logic This does not mean however that the more paroxysmal forms of conflict behaviour naked violence and destruction are also universal Conflict and cooperation are always intertwined Conflicts do however have a propensity to gravitate towards violence There is as Pettman 1975 pointed out no accepted or agreed list of the social units by which conflicts might be classified To talk of conflict in intra personal inter personal familial group class ethnic religious intra state or inter state terms is to assume perhaps erroneously that each kind of social unit having its own range of size structure and institutions will also have its own modes of interaction and thus its own patterns of conflict with other social units Fink 1968 like and unlike itself Such an assumption merits scrutiny on its own since despite the plausibility of some sort of analytical link between the parties to a conflict and the nature of the confrontation that ensues the link should be demonstrated and not allowed to stand by assertion alone This volume is devoted to one type of analysis of conflict the socio biological one

Men At War: What Fiction Tells us About Conflict, From The Iliad to Catch-22 Christopher Coker, 2014-05-01 Since Achilles first stormed into our imagination literature has introduced its readers to truly unforgettable martial characters In Men at War Christopher Coker discusses some of the most famous of these fictional creations and their impact on our understanding of war and masculinity Grouped into five archetypes warriors heroes villains survivors and victims these characters range across 3000 years of history through epic poems the modern novel and one of the twentieth century's most famous film scripts Great authors like Homer and Tolstoy show us aspects of reality invisible except through a literary lens while fictional characters such as Achilles and Falstaff Robert Jordan and Jack Aubrey are not just larger than life they are life's largeness and this is why we seek them out Although the Greeks knew that the lovers wives and mothers of soldiers are the chief victims of battle for the combatants war is a masculine pursuit Each of Coker's chapters explores what fiction tells us about war's appeal to young men and the way it makes and breaks them The existential appeal of war too is perhaps best conveyed in fictional accounts and these too are scrutinized by the author The Conflict of the Ages Teacher Edition I-III Michael J. A Chronicle of the Flo-Zuang Conflict John Lorenzo Barton, 2012-12-13 On the other side of the galaxy in the interior arm a calamity has arisen Threat of a catastrophic war emerges when two major intergalactic empires threaten peace in the region which might spread into the environment of surrounding star systems and other associations of planets There is only one being in these regions of the galaxy they trust who might save the day the Earth's space agent Commodore B

Novelists in Conflict Martin Hurcombe, 2021-11-01 This volume represents the first in depth English language study of the French combat novel of the Great War an immensely popular genre at the time which includes influential texts such as Henri Barbusse's Le Feu and Roland Dorgelès's Les Croix de bois It explores through these works and less well known but equally popular patriotic novels of the period the effect that experiencing war has upon the writer's understanding of the world arguing that in their depiction of conflict these writers demonstrate a decidedly complex and modernist understanding of humanity's place in the world In particular the author examines the French combat novel's evocation of a world where a sense of the Absurd vies with the novelist's desire to re-impose order through a particular political understanding of the Great War itself be it in the form of revolutionary socialism French nationalism or humanism In this way this volume contends ideology becomes a force for responding to and countering the sense of contingency that characterises the human experience of combat It will be of interest to scholars of twentieth century French fiction and thought

Solidarity in Conflict Rochelle DuFord, 2022-03-15 Democracy has become disentangled from our ordinary lives Mere cooperation or ethical consumption now often stands in for a robust concept of solidarity that structures the entirety of sociality and forms the basis of democratic culture How did democracy become something that is done only at ballot boxes and what role can solidarity play in reviving it In Solidarity in Conflict Rochelle DuFord presents a theory of solidarity fit for developing democratic life and a complementary theory of democracy that emerges from a society typified by solidarity DuFord argues that solidarity is best understood as a set of relations one agonistic and one antagonistic the solidarity groups internal organization and its interactions with the broader world Such a picture of solidarity develops through careful consideration of the conflicts endemic to social relations and solidarity organizations Examining men's rights groups labor organizing's role in recognitional protections for LGBTQ members of society and the debate over trans inclusion in feminist praxis DuFord explores how conflict in these contexts becomes the locus of solidarity's democratic functions and thereby critiques democratic theorizing for having become either overly idealized or overly focused on building and maintaining stability Working in the tradition of the Frankfurt School DuFord makes a provocative case that the conflict

generated by solidarity organizations can address a variety of forms of domination oppression and exploitation while building a democratic society

Contemporary Black Men's Fiction and Drama Keith Clark, 2001 Demonstrating the extraordinary versatility of African American men's writing since the 1970s this forceful collection illustrates how African American male novelists and playwrights have absorbed challenged and expanded the conventions of black American writing and with it black male identity From the John Henry Syndrome a definition of black masculinity based on brute strength or violence to the submersion of black gay identity under equations of gay with white and black with straight the African American male in literature and drama has traditionally been characterized in ways that confine and silence him Contemporary Black Men s Fiction and Drama identifies the forces that limit black male discourse including traditions established by iconic African American male authors such as James Baldwin Richard Wright and Ralph Ellison This thoughtful volume also shows how contemporary black male authors use their narratives to put forward new ways of being and knowing that foster a more complete sense of self and more humane and open ways of communicating with and relating to others In the work of Charles Johnson Ernest Gaines and August Wilson contributors find paths toward broader less rigid ideas of what black literature can be what the connections among individual and communal resistance can be and how black men can transcend the imprisoning models of hyper masculinity promoted by American culture Seeking greater spiritual connection with the past John Edgar Wideman returns to the folk rituals of his family while Melvin Dixon and Brent Wade reclaim African roots and traditions Ishmael Reed struggles with a contemporary cultural oppression that he sees as an insidious echo of slavery while Clarence Major s experimental writing suggests how black men might reclaim their own voices in a culture that silences them Taking in a wide range of critical theoretical cultural gender and sexual concerns Contemporary Black Men s Fiction and Drama provides provocative new readings of a broad range of contemporary writers
