Proverbs and the African Tree of Life Dorothy BEA Akoto-Abutiate, 2014-08-07 In Proverbs and the African Tree of Life Dorothy BEA Akoto Abutiate juxtaposes chosen sayings from Proverbs and selected Ewe Folk proverbs using the agricultural metaphor of grafting which she calls a hermeneutic of grafting Though these two sets of sayings come from completely different cultural contexts Akoto argues that folk sayings proverbs which abound in Africa should be considered as an already mature established tree on to which a piece of the biblical tree is spliced or engrafted to produce hybridized fruits that have uniquely different tastes than the fruits of each tree individually This metaphorical grafting process allows the message of the Bible in Proverbs to be understood imbibed and appropriated in Africa

China's Regional Relations in Comparative Perspective Steven F. Jackson, 2018-02-06 China's relations with its neighbors have evolved since 1949 and in the 21st century many scholars argue that China's rising power has led it to be increasingly domineering over those smaller countries in Northeast Southeast Central and South Asia The evolution of China's regional relations needs to be examined comprehensively since China counts twenty seven countries as its neighbors large and small While China's official policy toward all of these countries is to treat them as good neighbors and partners some of these relationships have been spectacularly deteriorating while others have been quietly improving over the last two decades Jackson takes a comparative foreign policy approach and compares China's status as a regional hegemon with the United States Russia India Brazil South Africa and Nigeria The result is a broader theory as to why regional powers are sometimes intimidating and at other times accommodating An important contribution to studies on China this book will prove useful to scholars and students in Chinese and Asian foreign policy comparative foreign policy and international relations

Law in the Time of Oxymora Rostam J. Neuwirth, 2018-05-16 What do different concepts like true lie bad luck honest thief old news spacetime globalization symplecity sustainable development constant change soft law substantive due process pure law bureaucratic efficiency and global justice have in common What connections do they share with innumerable paradoxes like the ones of happiness time globalization sex and of free will and fate Law in the Time of Oxymora provides answers to these conundrums by critically comparing the apparent rise in recent years of the use of rhetorical figures called essentially oxymoronic concepts i e oxymoron enantiosis and paradoxes in the areas of art science and law Albeit to varying degrees these concepts share the quality of giving expression to apparent contradictions Through this quality they also challenge the scientific paradigm rooted in the dualistic thinking and binary logic that is traditionally used in the West as opposed to the East where a paradoxical mode of thinking and fuzzy logic is said to have been cultivated Following a review of oxymora and paradoxes in art and various scientific writings hundreds of hard cases featuring oxymora and a comprehensive review of the legal literature are discussed revealing evidence suggesting that the present scientific paradigm of dualism alone will no longer be able to tackle the challenges arising from increasing diversity and complexity coupled with an apparent acceleration of change Law in the Time of Oxymora reaches the surprising conclusion that essentially oxymoronic concepts may inaugurate a new era of cognition involving the ways the senses interact and how we reason think and make decisions in law and in life
