Bridging Cultures in Early Care and Education Marlene Zepeda,Janet Gonzalez-Mena,Carrie Rothstein-Fisch,Elise Trumbull,2012-11-12 Bridging Cultures in Early Care and Education A Training Module is a resource designed to help pre service and in service early childhood educators including infant toddler caregivers understand the role of culture in their programs It is also intended for professionals who work with children and their families in a variety of other roles such as social workers special educators and early interventionists and for use in college courses focused on early childhood education and child development The module explains and illustrates how early childhood educators can use the organizing concepts of individualism and collectivism as a means of understanding cultural conflict and difference These concepts have been shown to be highly useful in improving home school understanding across cultures Based on real life examples of cultural dilemmas in early care and education settings participants engage the concepts of individualism and collectivism to solve a variety of scenarios in a dynamic and engaging manner Chapter 1 introduces the Bridging Cultures for Early Care and Education approach provides a brief history and explains the training module It presents the conceptual framework of individualism and collectivism which is at the heart of the training Chapter 2 provides the information needed for a two hour workshop including a script and notes to the facilitator The script is not meant to be read word for word Rather it is offered as a guide based on a pilot tested approach Appendices at the end of the book contain transparency masters for the overheads referenced in the script and masters for suggested handouts Chapter 3 offers ideas for augmenting the basic two hour training by expanding it over a longer time period It also identifies additional diversity resources that can complement the Bridging Cultures training Appendices providing additional information data and bibliographic resources are included This module originated as part of the Bridging Cultures Project at WestEd a nonprofit research development and service agency working with education and other communities to promote excellence achieve equity and improve learning for children youth and adults

Child-rearing in Ethnic Minorities Jagjit Singh Dosanjh, Paul Avtar Singh Ghuman, 1996 The book explores the child rearing practices of an ethnic minority group Punjabis living in Britain and North America Containing interviews with two generations of mothers those of the 1990s and 1970s this book reveals insights and attitudes that are also relevant for understanding other ethnic minority groups

Multicultural Child Care Paul Vedder, Ellen Bouwer, Trees Pels, 1996 What is the state of multicultural education in child care centres in Western European countries What should multicultural education in these centres look like These are the two key questions addressed in this book In this study the authors have analysed the state of multicultural education in child care centres in the Netherlands England Scotland Denmark Sweden Germany Belgium France and Spain The main situation considered here is the Netherlands where the recent and rapid growth of the number of child care centres together with the growing numbers of immigrant children visiting these centres have given a strong impetus to concerns about the quality of centre education from a multicultural perspective For centre staff sensitive responses towards children and parents as well as parental involvement have become essential for managing cultural diversity in a way beneficial for both migrant and indigenous families It is argued that defining and improving the quality of centre education from a multicultural perspective require discussions between staff and parents about educational goals and the means to achieve them The book gives recommendations for improving the relationship between staff and parents by way of consensus building about these aims
