Multilateral Treaties Deposited with the Secretary-General Nations Unies, 2004 Concluding Observations of the UN Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights Leif Holmström, 2021-11-01 Thirty five years ago on 16 December 1966 the General Assembly of the United Nations adopted without a vote the two International Covenants on Human Rights Together with the Universal Declaration of Human Rights the International Covenant on Economic Social and Cultural Rights and the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights including its two Optional Protocols form what is often referred to as the International Bill of Human Rights Both Covenants entered into force ten years later At present 145 States have ratified or acceded to the International Covenant on Economic Social and Cultural Rights Under articles 16 and 17 of the Covenant each State party undertakes to submit reports for the consideration by the Economic and Social Council under a programme established by the Council However in 1985 the Council decided to set up the Committee on Economic Social and Cultural Rights to discharge that function to monitor the implementation of the Covenant by States parties At its sixth session in 1991 the Committee adopted criteria for formulating concluding observations after the consideration of a State party report and at its eighth session in 1993 the Committee started to use a standard format for the presentation of its concluding observations The Committee makes a general evaluation of the report and of the dialogue with the delegation makes note of positive aspects factors and difficulties impeding the implementation and of principal subjects of concern It also makes suggestions and recommendations to the State party concerned The present volume contains concluding observations adopted by the Committee on Economic Social and Cultural Rights at its eighth to twenty seventh sessions 1993 2001 Foreword by Mrs Mary Robinson the then United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights International Law in East Asia Zou Keyuan, 2017-07-05 As the world's political and economic landscape changes in response to the rise of Asian countries such as China so Asian influences on the global legal order will become more pronounced Many countries in the region such as Japan and South Korea influence the development of international law in various ways either individually or collectively through multinational organisations such as ASEAN This collection of published work by leading East Asian scholars covers Asian perspectives concerning various issues in international law ranging from general perspectives to particular themes such as international economic law international human rights law international ocean law international criminal law international security law and international dispute settlement For the first time it provides a comprehensive picture of how and why East Asian countries participate in international law making as well as comply with international law in their state practices In so doing the editors attempt to address the question whether the rising powers in East Asia will change the existing international legal order in future United States Hegemony and the Foundations of International Law

Michael Byers, Georg Nolte, 2003-05-29 Successive hegemonic powers have shaped the foundations of international law This book examines whether the predominance of the United States is leading to foundational change in the international legal system A range of leading scholars in international law and international relations consider six foundational areas that could be undergoing change including international community sovereign equality the law governing the use of force and compliance The authors demonstrate that the effects of US predominance on the foundations of international law are real but also intensely complex This complexity is due in part to a multitude of actors exercising influential roles And it is also due to the continued vitality and remaining functionality of the international legal system itself This system limits the influence of individual states while stretching and bending in response to the changing geopolitics of our time United Nations Publications Catalogue, 2006 United States Practice in International Law: Volume 1, 1999-2001 Sean D.

Murphy, 2003-01-09 Sean D Murphy's wide ranging and in depth 2002 survey of U S practice in international law in the period 1999-2001 draws upon the statements and actions of the executive legislative and judicial branches of the U S government to examine its involvement across a range of areas These areas include diplomatic and consular relations jurisdiction and immunities state responsibility and liability international organizations international economic law human rights and international criminal law At the time of its first publication this summary of the most salient issues was a central resource on U S practice in international law The volume contains extracts from hard to find documents generous citations to relevant sources tables of cases and treaties and a detailed index Revealing international law in the making this essential tool for researchers and practitioners was the first in a series of books capturing the international law practice of a global player

Multilateral Treaty Framework United Nations, 2002 In conjunction with the World Summit on Sustainable Development the UN organised a treaty event called Focus 2002 Sustainable Development to invite countries to reaffirm their commitment to the international legal framework and in particular to treaties relating to sustainable development This document contains information on 25 core treaties which cover the major principles of sustainable development and details their present status in terms of current State signatories International Law and Society Laura A. Dickinson, 2017-11-30 Scholars of international human rights law are largely unfamiliar with law and society scholarship while the study of international human rights has remained at the margins of the law and society movement International Law and Society Empirical Approaches to Human Rights seeks to bridge this gap by presenting the work of a growing number of academics who are adopting a range of empirical approaches to international human rights Drawn from the fields of anthropology sociology political science and law the studies featured in this volume use a variety of qualitative and quantitative methods to analyze core issues of international law and human rights such as compliance the development of norms and the role of social movements Max Planck Yearbook of United Nations Law, 2001 Jochen Abr Frowein, Christiane E. Philipp, 2001-11-01 Now in its fifth year the Max Planck Yearbook of United Nations Law is becoming a much sought after forum for essays by the most distinguished professors in international law These essays cover a variety of topics related to the activities of the United Nations from the role of the Security Council to UN treaties from environmental issues to humanitarian law The Yearbook also contains essays e g on the World Bank the IAEA and the WTO Volume 5 focuses in particular on the international dispute settlement system with articles on the activities of international courts and tribunals as well as the contributions to settlement of disputes by other institutions such as the World Bank Inspection Panel But there are also tackled subjects as the future of peace keeping the UN Transitional Administration in Kosovo and East Timor as well as human rights and their implementation This book is a must have for any academic involved in international law For more information on this yearbook please visit the website of the Max Planck Institute United Nations Publications ,2005 Human Rights Treaties Mark Sachleben,2005-12-13 The book examines patterns of participation in human rights treaties International relations theory is divided on what motivates states to participate in treaties specifically human rights treaties Instead of examining the specific motivations this dissertation examines patterns of participation In doing so it attempts to match theoretical expectations of state behavior with participation This book provides significant evidence that there are multiple motivations that lead states to participate in human rights treaties Yearbook of the United Nations United Nations,1989 State Continuity and Nationality: The Baltic States and Russia Ineta Ziemele,2021-10-11 The International Law Commission when drafting articles on nationality of persons in situations of State succession omitted cases of unlawful territorial changes These do not result in State succession they may be dealt with under the rubric of State continuity The Baltic Russian cases show the particularly complex nature of these situations both as concerns agreement on continuity and decisions on nationality The author examines in detail the Citizenship Laws of the Baltic States and Russia as well as relevant constitutional and international statements about the international legal status of the States and responses of the international community thereto The main question addressed in the book is about solutions which States have to adopt concerning nationality of individuals in situations of State continuity especially where States re emerge after long years of occupation Although the book is specific in its origin it is of general importance because it draws conclusions concerning developments in law and practice which are relevant for a better understanding and regulation of nationality and statehood in international law Deconstructing "Ideal Power Europe" Münevver Cebeci,2018-12-31 Deconstructing Ideal Power Europe The EU and Arab Change criticizes the dominant discourse on European foreign policy which represents the EU as a force for good in world politics Using a poststructuralist approach it deconstructs the EU s representation as an ideal power through an analysis of European foreign policy on the Southern Mediterranean before and after the Arab uprisings In this endeavor it displaces three major discourses which construct the EU as ideal the postmodern and post sovereign EU the EU as a model a virtuous example and the EU as a normative power discourses The major argument of the book is that the ideal power Europe meta narrative is especially produced and reproduced in the EU s approach towards the Southern Mediterranean and it manifests itself through the rhetoric of responsibility and universality in the aftermath of the Arab uprisings The book also provides an analysis of how the ideal power Europe meta narrative feeds into and legitimizes European governmentality in the world in general and in the case of the Southern Mediterranean after the Arab uprisings in particular Arguing that the depiction of the EU as postmodern post sovereign as a model an exemplar and as a normative power pertains to the representation of a regulatory ideal it elucidates how the EU pursues hegemonic practices in the Southern Mediterranean It further manifests how the EU s governmentality is marked by a securitized depoliticizing and technocratic approach which feeds into and gets legitimized by the dominant discourse on European foreign policy reproducing the EU s ideal identity vis vis its imperfect Arab other Yearbook Commercial Arbitration Volume Xxxv 2010 (Crc) Rev Jan Albert Van den Berg, 2010-11-01 Annotation Volume XXXV 2010 of the Yearbook marks a profound change in the way materials are presented to the reader As of this Volume the Yearbook s selection of arbitral awards and court decisions made accessible by translations indices and categorized lists is available to the reader in a combination of print edition and online publishing which takes into account the needs of an increasingly mobile work environment International Terrorism: A Compilation of U.N. Documents (1972-2001) M. Cherif

Bassiouni, 2023-04-17 An extensive body of law designed to control international terror violence has come into being and it is this assembly of reports and resolutions conventions and scattered treaty provisions that we must rely on as we move toward an enforceable unambiguous anti terrorism regime in international law These legal instruments are gathered together for the first time in this definitive two volume set The only published source of all United Nations documentation since 1972 on the subject of terrorism including all 180 reports and resolutions adopted since that date and up to June 2001 Plus an introductory article by the editor provides a forward looking view of the evolving challenges in combating the ever changing manifestations of terror violence Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint The print edition is available as a set of two volumes 9781571052278 Abortion in Latin America and the Caribbean Ligia De Jesús Castaldi, 2020-06-25

Abortion in Latin America and the Caribbean is the first major book to analyze the abortion laws of the Latin American and Caribbean nations that are parties to the American Convention on Human Rights Making use of a broad range of materials relating to human rights and abortion law not yet available in English the first part of this book analyzes how Inter American human rights bodies have interpreted the American Convention s prenatal right to life The second part examines Article 4 1 of the American Convention comparing and analyzing the laws regarding prenatal rights and abortion in all twenty three nations that are parties to this treaty Castaldi questions how Inter American human rights bodies currently interpret Article 4 1 Against the predominant view she argues that the purpose of this treaty is to grant legal protection of the unborn child from elective abortion that is broad and general not merely exceptional Abortion in Latin America and the Caribbean offers an objective analysis of national and international laws on abortion proposing a new interpretation of the American Convention s right to life provision that is nonrestrictive and provides general protection for the unborn The book will appeal not only to students and scholars in the field of international human rights but also to human rights advocates more generally

Committed to Rights: Volume 1 Audrey L. Comstock, 2021-01-28 International treaties are the primary means for codifying global human rights standards. However, nation states are able to make their own choices in how to legally commit to human rights treaties. A state commits to a treaty through four commitment acts: signature, ratification, accession, and succession. These acts signify diverging legal paths with distinct contexts and mechanisms for rights change, reflecting legalization, negotiation, sovereignty, and domestic constraints. How a state moves through these actions determines how, when, and to what extent it will comply with the human rights treaties it commits to. Using legal archival and quantitative analysis, this important book shows that disentangling legal paths to commitment reveals distinct and significant compliance outcomes. Legal context matters for human rights and has important implications for the conceptualization of treaty commitment: the consideration of non-binding commitment and an optimistic outlook for the impact of human rights treaties. Yearbook Commercial Arbitration Vol XXXIII 2008 Albert Jan Van Der Berg, 2009-01-01 The Yearbook Commercial Arbitration continues its longstanding commitment to serving as a primary resource for the international arbitration community with reporting on arbitral awards and court decisions applying the leading arbitration conventions as well as arbitration legislation and rules. Volume XXXIII includes excerpts of arbitral awards made under the auspices of inter alia the International Chamber of Commerce (ICC), a biennial update of the Digest of Investment Treaty Decisions and Awards first published in 2006, notes on new and amended arbitration rules including references to their online publication, notes on recent developments in arbitration law and practice in the Dubai International Financial Centre, Rwanda, Slovenia, Syria, and Ukraine, as well as on the opinion of the Advocate General of the European Court of Justice in the West Tankers case, excerpts of 109 court decisions applying the 1958 New York Convention from 23 countries including an update of Russian and Greek jurisprudence, and for the first time decisions from Argentina, Belize, the British Virgin Islands, Chile, and Peru, all indexed by subject matter and linked to the General Editor's published commentaries on the New York Convention, an extensive bibliography of recent books and journals on arbitration. The Yearbook is edited by the International Council for Commercial Arbitration (ICCA), the world's leading organization representing practitioners and academics in the field, with the assistance of the Permanent Court of Arbitration, The Hague. It is an essential tool for lawyers, business people, and scholars involved in the practice and study of international arbitration.
