Multilateralism and Western Strategy Michael J. Brenner, 2016-07-27 The first years of the post Cold War era have made abundantly clear that it is imperative for the Western allies to pursue a common strategy and a concerted diplomacy in order to secure their interests in a still unruly Europe Doing so requires ingenuity in adapting the modes of cooperation inherited from the past and determination in overcoming the parochialisms that have flourished in the wake of the Soviet Union's demise From four national perspectives the authors examine what must be done for a more egalitarian Alliance to act effectively on a multi8U 8Ulateral basis in addressing the new security agenda The United States and Germany in the Era of the Cold War, 1945-1990 Detlef Junker, Philipp Gassert, Wilfried Mausbach, David B. Morris, 2004-05-17 Publisher

Description The Decline of the Western-Centric World and the Emerging New Global Order Yun-han Chu, Yongnian Zheng, 2020-11-24 The Western liberal democratic world order which seemingly triumphed following the collapse of communism is looking increasingly fragile as populists and nationalists take power in the United States Europe and elsewhere as the momentum of democratization in developing countries stalls and as Western liberal establishments fail to deal with economic stagnation worsening political polarization social inequality and migrant crises At the same time there is a shift of economic power from the West towards Asia This book explores these critical developments and their consequences for the world order It considers how far the loss of the West's power to dominate the world order together with the relative decline of US power and its abdication of its global leadership role will lead to more conflict disorder and chaos and how far non Western actors including China India and the Muslim world are capable of establishing visionary policy initiatives which reconfigure the paths and rules of economic integration and globalization and the mechanisms of global governance The book also assesses the sustainability of the economic rise of China and other non Western actors explores the Western liberal democratic order's capacity for resilience and discusses how far the outlook is pessimistic or optimistic

Essays on Strategy Thomas C. Gill, 1996-06 Presents 9 essays on issues of the post Cold War period Addresses general strategy for the 1990's high level strategic matters and U S chemical weapons policy use of civilian aircraft for defense airlift neutrality of the Panama Canal after 1999 arms sales by China and strategic defense at reduced cost Contents Hard Choices on Chemical Weapons U S Airlines and Defense Airlift The Panama Canal after 1999 Anti satellite Weapons Chinese Arms Sales Strategic Defense Post Cold War Strategy Revival of Flexible Response and Mobile Military Strategy Most of these essays won recognition in a DoD Strategy Essay Competition Digitized Statecraft in Multilateral Treaty

Participation Takashi Inoguchi, Lien Thi Quynh Le, 2021-03-20 This book is a rarity in that it opens a genuinely creative new vista for understanding global politics as distinguished from international politics enhancing the vision for understanding global subjects such as multilateral treaties and the Covid 19 virus Six hundred multilateral treaties deposited in the UN are conceptualized as a bundle of quasi social contracts by sovereign states A state's participation in multilateral treaties is envisaged as digitized statecraft Using a state's physical actions and treaties attributes 193 profiles of statecraft are analyzed with the implications for the future of global politics This book demonstrates that multilateral treaties are both a vehicle and an agency in the globalization trend thus both state and international actors influence a state's joining multilateral treaties The book represents a marriage of international law and applied information science It provides a framework for empirical modeling based on artificial intelligence and analyzes this framework in terms of international law and international relations This book thus creates a new understanding of global politics

The Best Laid Plans Stewart Patrick, 2008-12-12 Best Laid Plans looks at the long standing but unresolved debate of the virtues and values of multilateralism vs unilateralism in American foreign policy Stewart Patrick argues that a combination of enduring identity commitments and new ideas based on the lessons of recent cataclysmic events shaped the policy preferences of American central decision makers in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations Although steeped in history the book's conclusions have tremendous relevance for the contemporary era as debates are rife about the role of multilateral cooperation in the realization of U S foreign policy objectives

Multilateralism and U.S. Foreign Policy Stewart Patrick, Shepard Forman, 2002 Puzzled by the disjunction between global trends and US foreign policy since the end of the Cold War mostly American scholars of political science law and economics explore the causes and consequences of US ambivalence to multilateral cooperation They consider such dimensions as the growing influence of domestic factors US grand strategy the chemical weapons convention and the International Criminal Court Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR relationship and China Evolution of and prospects for Vladimir Putin s presidency Strategic Survey 2020 is the indispensable guide to the events actors and forces that de ned an exceptionally complex year It highlights the geopolitical issues that will shape the international agenda in 2021 Rethinking Multilateralism in Foreign Aid Viktor Jakupec,Max Kelly,Jonathan Makuwira,2020-04-23 This edited book provides a contemporary critical and thought provoking analysis of the internal and external threats to Western multilateral development finance in the twenty first century It draws on the expertise of scholars with a range of backgrounds providing a critical exploration of the neoliberal multilateral development aid The contributions focus on how Western institutions have historically dominated development aid and juxtapose this hegemony with the recent challenges from right wing populist and the Beijing Consensus ideologies and practices This book argues that the rise of right wing populism has brought internal challenges to traditional powers within the multilateral development system External challenges arise from the influence of China and regional development banks by providing alternatives to established Western dominated aid sources and architecture From this vantagepoint Rethinking Multilateralism in Foreign Aid puts forward new ideas for addressing the current global social political and economic challenges concerning multilateral development aid This book will be of interest to researchers academics and students in the field of International Development and Global Governance decision makers at government level as well as to those working in international aid institutions regional and bilateral aid agencies and non governmental organisations The EU's trade strategy shift from multilateralism to bilateralism. A case study on TTIP Benedikt Weingärtner,2017-06-26 Master s Thesis from the year 2017 in the subject Politics Topic Globalization Political Economics grade sehr gut College of Europe language English abstract Foreign commercial policy represents a major domain of European integration and an exclusive policy competence for the European Union The strategy focus and practical approach of this EU trade policy has been continuously adapted to the new circumstances in an ever more globalised world economy Thus the EU uses its foreign trade policy not just for mere economic ends but also as a tool to strengthen its global political influence Having been a champion of multilateral trade negotiations in the framework of the World Trade Organisation WTO throughout the 1990s the has EU changed this strategic orientation by the mid 2000s shifting its trade policy focus from a multilateral to a bilateral strategy and initiated preferential free trade agreements FTA with countries and regions all over the world Among them the one with the largest size was the Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership TTIP with the United States of America launched in 2013 Given the huge importance of the EU as a player in global trade it seems relevant to examine from a political scientific perspective what have been the main reasons drivers and motivations behind this enormous policy shift I argue that external factors domestic interests and institutional dynamics have collectively contributed to the reorientation of EU trade policy from multi to bilateralism I will test this hypothesis by means of three theoretical approaches neorealism as a systemic theory liberalism as a theory with a domestic focus and institutionalism to examine the role of the most important EU institution in trade policy the European Commission In order to get a more profound analysis of the main actors and motivations as driving forces of EU trade policy I will furthermore use a case study on the both in ambition and size unrivalled bilateral Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership as it due to its sheer economic and political impact on the both partners involved but also on the rest of the world provides best significant insights of processes on all three levels of analysis of this paper In a nutshell the global power shift for the benefit of emerging powers and to the detriment of Europe in combination with strong economic interest groups within the EU seeking for market access all over the world as well as self interests norms and processes within the European Commission have altogether contributed to the change of course in EU trade policy towards bilateralism

Asia's New Multilateralism Michael J. Green,Bates Gill,2009-02-25 Traditionally stability in Asia has relied on America s bilateral alliances with Japan Australia and the Republic of Korea Yet in recent years emergent and more active multilateral forums such as the Six Party Talks on North Korea and the East Asia Summit have taken precedence engendering both cooperation and competition while reflecting the local concerns of the region Some are concerned that this process is moving toward less inclusive bloc based talking shops and that the future direction and success of these arrangements along with their implications for global and regional security and prosperity remain unclear The fifteen contributors to this volume all leading scholars in the field provide national perspectives on regional institutional architecture and their functional challenges They illuminate areas of cooperation that will move the region toward substantive collaboration convergence of norms and strengthened domestic institutions They also highlight the degree to which institution building in Asia a region composed of liberal democracies authoritarian regimes and anachronistic dictatorships has become an arena for competition among major powers and conflicting norms and assess the future shape of Asian security architecture Geopolitical

Change, Grand Strategy and European Security L. Simon,2013-11-27 Examining the interplay between geopolitics the strategic priorities of Europe s most powerful nations Britain Germany and France and the evolution of NATO and CSDP this book unveils the mechanics of the tension between conflict and cooperation that lies at the heart of European security politics Multilateralism in the 21st Century Caroline Bouchard,John Peterson,Nathalie Tocci,2013-08-15 This volume focuses on multilateralism in the 21st century and examines how and how effectively the EU delivers on its commitment to effective multilateralism Presenting results generated by MERCURY an EU research programme into multilateralism this book addresses a central research question does the EU deliver on its commitment to effective multilateralism Globalisation has created powerful new incentives for states to cooperate and has generated renewed interest in multilateralism While a large body of work exists on multilateralism as a concept it continues to be ill defined and poorly understood This book sheds new light on 21st century multilateralism by exploring conceptual approaches as well as generating innovative empirical knowledge on its practice Research on EU external relations has increasingly focused on the concept of effective multilateralism Yet the application of this concept as a guiding principle of EU foreign policy in non security policy areas has rarely been examined This book explores whether the EU is pursuing effective multilateralism in specific policy areas including trade climate change and conflict resolution and distinct geographical and institutional settings both internal to the EU and in specified regions international organisations IOs and bilateral partnerships This book offers evidence based actionable policy lessons from Europe s experience in promoting multilateralism The European Union and Multilateralism in the 21st Century will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations international organizations and European Union politics and foreign policy      Palgrave Advances in Cold War History Geraint Hughes,2006-05-31 This innovative collection deals with the ideational cultural political and strategic aspects of the multifaceted Cold War Drawing on the work of numerous established scholars and experts this volume combines knowledge of the subject with key intellectual trends that have been developed over recent years      China's Strategic Multilateralism Scott L.
