Mulu Rain Of Gold:

Mulu Ashenafi Waktola, 2003-05-01 雨の森 雨の森 雨の森, 2005 Rain Forests Dwight Holing, 2001 This 224 page title explores the world's magnificent rain forests from Alaska's temperate Tongass National Forest to Peru's Manu Biosphere Reserve in the heart of the Amazon Basin and from Borneo's Mount Kinabulu to New Zealand's Fiordland National Park. Numerous informative essays look at the flora and fauna and the human residents of the forests how to plan a journey and profile 17 of the most spectacular rainforest destinations in the world. A Travel Tips section offers carefully selected lodging, camping, and touring information. The work is lavishly illustrated with more than 250 spectacular photographs as well as specially commissioned maps. Explorations Royal Geographical Society (Great Britain), Edmund Hillary, Richard Leakey, 2002-01-01 More than three hundred full color and black and white photographs representing every area of the globe as well as great moments in history from the Royal Geographic Society are accompanied by interviews and essays by Edmund Hillary, Richard Leakey, Christina Dodwell, and John Hemming among others. Original World Who Is Who and Does What in Environment and Conservation Nicholas Polunin, 2013-11-05 Qaidu 1236 1301 one of the great rebels in the history of the Mongol Empire was the grandson of Ogedei the son Genghis Khan had chosen to be his heir. This book recounts the dynastic convolutions and power struggle leading up to his rebellion and subsequent events. Tropical Rain Forest Ecosystems H. Lieth, M.J.A. Werger, 2012-12-02 After publication of the first volume of the Tropical Rain Forest the International Journal of Mycology and Lichenology commented This is a welcome addition to the literature on the ecology of tropical rain forests. The book provides a wealth of data and stimulating discussions and is of great interest to ecologists interested in tropical areas. Whereas the first volume dealt with system ecological aspects such as community organization and processes the present volume concentrates on biogeographical aspects such as species composition, diversity, and geographical variation. Recent ecological research in the tropical rain forest has greatly extended our understanding of biogeographical patterns of variation in the various groups of organisms and has revealed many of the ecological and evolutionary forces that led to the present patterns of variation. Many important systems of co-evolution between the tropical rain forest ecosystems have also come to light and the loss of species and related damage is better understood in quantitative terms. This volume presents a comprehensive review of these and other features of the rain forest ecosystem structure and the ecological processes operating that system. General chapters on abiotic and biotic factors are followed by specific chapters on all major groups of organisms. Prospects for the future are discussed and research needs clearly stated. Also the human exploitation of the system its effects and its limits are discussed. The book is extensively illustrated by photographs, graphs, and tables and comprehensive bibliographies follow each chapter. Author, systematic, and subject indices complete the book. It is a must for all ecologists, agriculturists, foresters, agronomists, hydrologists, soil scientists, entomologists, human ecologists, nature conservationists, and planners dealing with tropical areas. Biologists and environmentalists will also find the volume of great
