Murawina Australian Women Of High Achievement:

Murawina Roberta B. Sykes,1996 Maori and Aboriginal Women in the Public Eye Karen Fox,2011-12-01 From 1950 increasing numbers of Aboriginal and M ori women became nationally or internationally renowned Few reached the heights of international fame accorded Evonne Goolagong or Dame Kiri Te Kanawa and few remained household names for any length of time But their growing numbers and visibility reflected the dramatic social cultural and political changes taking place in Australia and New Zealand in the second half of the twentieth century This book is the first in depth study of media portrayals of well known Indigenous women in Australia and New Zealand including Goolagong Te Kanawa Oodgeroo Noonuccal and Dame Whina Cooper The power of the media in shaping the lives of individuals and communities for good or ill is widely acknowledged In these pages Karen Fox examines an especially fascinating and revealing aspect of the media and its history how prominent M ori and Aboriginal women were depicted for the readers of popular media in the past Publisher s description Indigenous Biography and Autobiography Peter Read,Frances Peters-Little,Anna Haebich,2008-12-01 In this absorbing collection of papers Aboriginal Maori Dalit and western scholars discuss and analyse the difficulties they have faced in writing Indigenous biographies and autobiographies The issues range from balancing the demands of western and non western scholarship through writing about a family that refuses to acknowledge its identity to considering a community demand not to write anything at all The collection also presents some state of the art issues in teaching Indigenous Studies based on auto biography in Austria Spain and Italy Reader's Guide to Women's Studies Eleanor Amico,1998-03-20 The Reader s Guide to Women s Studies is a searching and analytical description of the most prominent and influential works written in the now universal field of women s studies Some 200 scholars have contributed to the project which adopts a multi layered approach allowing for comprehensive treatment of its subject matter Entries range from very broad themes such as Health General Works to entries on specific individuals or more focused topics such as Doctors Storytelling Pedagogy in Australia & Asia Louise Gwenneth Phillips,Thao Thi Phuong Nguyen,2022-01-01 This book on teaching through story is the first to highlight the rich storytelling cultures of Australia and Asia It presents insights from practicing storytelling educators from Black and White Australia China India Japan Thailand and Vietnam who share their art of storytelling as pedagogy Designed for early childhood and primary teachers teacher educators and student teachers across Australia and Asia Storytelling Pedagogy in Australia Asia provides inspiration to teach through storytelling to promote intercultural understanding imagination active citizenship and language and literacy learning Each chapter includes told stories and teaching and learning ideas to guide and encourage those who are new to the art of storytelling pedagogy and those wishing to expand their understanding of storytelling in Australia and Asia Living Feminism Chilla Bulbeck,1997-10-27 Examining the impact of feminism on ordinary Australian women the author argues that the impact of feminism on women s lives has been significant even though many of the women whose lives have changed because of its influence shun the term feminist or find feminism irrelevant Women's Rights and Human Rights P. Grimshaw,K. Holmes,M. Lake,2001-03-20 This international collection of historical work explores the breadth and creativity of women s struggles for human rights citizenship and social justice across the world It brings together twenty contributions by scholars in women s history whose work reflects the global reach of the International Federation for Research in Women s History In addition to presenting studies by well known scholars in the United States and Europe the book is distinctive in also bringing the work of scholars from regions such as South and East Asia and the Pacific to the attention of an international audience

Young Children's Community Building in Action Louise Gwenneth Phillips,Jenny Ritchie,Lavina Dynevor,Jared Lambert,Kerryn Moroney,2019-07-04 Rethinking the concepts of citizenship and community in relation to young children this groundbreaking text examines the ways in which indigenous understandings and practices applied in early childhood settings in Australia and New Zealand encourage young children to demonstrate their care and concern for others and so in turn perceive themselves as part of a larger community Young Children s Community Building in Action acknowledges global variations in the meanings of early childhood education of citizenship and community building and challenges widespread invisibility and disregard of Indigenous communities Through close observation and examination of early years settings in Australia and New Zealand chapters demonstrate how practices guided by Aboriginal and M ori values support and nurture children s personal and social development as individuals and as citizens in a wider community Exploring what young children s citizenship learning and action looks like in practice and how this may vary within and across communities the book provides a powerful account of effective pedagogical approaches which have been long excluded from mainstream dialogues Written for researchers and students of early childhood education and care this book provides insight into what citizenship can be for young children and how Indigenous cultural values shape ways of knowing being doing and relating Defending Country Noah Riseman,Richard Trembath,2016-03-23 The role of Aboriginal servicemen and women has only recently been brought to the forefront of conversation about Australia s war history This important book makes a key contribution to recording the role played by Indigenous Australians in our recent military history Written by two respected historians and based on a substantial number of interviews with Indigenous war veterans who have hitherto been without a voice it combines the best of social and military history in one book This will be the first book to focus on this previously neglected part of Australian social history Law and Identity in Colonial South Asia Mitra Sharafi,2014-04-21 This book explores the legal culture of the Parsis or Zoroastrians an ethnoreligious community unusually invested in the colonial legal system of British India and Burma Rather than trying to maintain collective autonomy and integrity by avoiding interaction with the state the Parsis sank deep into the colonial legal system itself From the late eighteenth century until India s independence in 1947 they became heavy users of colonial law acting as lawyers judges litigants lobbyists and legislators They de Anglicized the law that governed them and enshrined in law their own distinctive models of the family and community by two routes frequent intra group litigation often managed by Parsi legal professionals in the areas of marriage inheritance religious trusts and libel and the creation of legislation that would become Parsi personal law Other South Asian communities also turned to law but none seem to have done so earlier or in more pronounced ways than the Parsis

Growing up Indigenous: Developing Effective Pedagogy for Education and Development R.M. Nichol, 2011-07-23

This is a fascinating account of traditional socialisation and Indigenous forms of learning in Australia and Melanesia It draws from rich ethnographic historical and educational material There has never been a greater need for a socially and historically informed yet critical account of the mismatch between traditional ways realities of life in Indigenous communities villages and enclaves and the forms of education provided in schools Raymond Nichol a specialist in Indigenous education and pedagogy surveys the links too often disparities between ethnographic detail of life on the ground and the schooling provided by nation states in this vast region Most importantly he explores and suggests ways community developers and educators Indigenous and non Indigenous may work to bridge the gaps in social rights educational and economic development This is relevant for all Indigenous communities their survival and development Many vexed issues are discussed such as race ethnicity identity discrimination self determination development and relevant effective pedagogical learning and schooling strategies

Murawina Roberta B. Sykes, 1993-01-01 Stories of the childhoods and adult lives of 34 Aboriginal women who have made significant contributions in many areas of Australian life as told to the author who is herself a distinguished Aboriginal writer and poet With photograph portraits

Creating Frames Maryrose Casey, 2004 Creating Frames traces the journey behind a substantial national body of work and its importance in ensuring that Indigenous Voices are heard Creating Frames provides the first significant social and cultural history of Indigenous theatre across Australia As well as using archival sources and national and independent theatre company records much of this history is drawn from interviews with individuals who have shaped contemporary Indigenous theatre in Australia including Bob Maza Jack Charles Gary Foley Justine Saunders Wesley Enoch Ningali and John Harding

Who's who in Australia, 2006

Georges River Blues Heather Goodall, 2022-02-02 The lower Georges River on Dharawal and Dharug lands was a place of fishing grounds swimming holes and picnics in the early twentieth century But this all changed after World War II when rapidly expanding industry and increasing population fell heaviest on this river polluting its waters and destroying its bush Local people campaigned to defend their river They battled municipal councils who were themselves struggling against an explosion of garbage as population and economy changed In these blues an Australian term for conflict it was mangroves and swamps that became the focus of the fight Mangroves were expanding because of increasing pollution and early climate change Councils wanted to solve their garbage problems by bulldozing mangroves and bushland dumping garbage and eventually building playing fields So they attacked mangroves as useless swamps that harboured disease Residents defended mangroves by mobilising ecological science to show that these plants nurtured immature fish and protected the river's health. These suburban resident action campaigns have been ignored by histories of the Australian environmental movement which have instead focused on campaigns to save distant wilderness or inner city built environments. The Georges River environmental conflicts may have been less theatrical but they were fought out just as bitterly. And local Georges River campaigners men, women and often children were just as tenacious. They struggled to keep bushland in our suburbs laying the foundation for today's widespread urban environmental consciousness. Cover Ruth Staples was a courageous Georges River campaigner who lived all her life around Lime Kiln Bay at Oatley West. She kept on fighting to regenerate the river until her death aged 90 in 2020.

Contested Ground Ann McGrath, 2020-08-12. Contested Ground provides a comprehensive and up to date account of the processes and experiences which shaped the lives of Aboriginal Australians from 1788 to the present. It integrates eye witness accounts, oral histories and historical research to present the first colony by colony state by state history of Aboriginal-white relations. Contested Ground tells a story of dispossession and denial but it is also a positive account revealing the persistent struggles of Aboriginal communities for a better future. Clearly written and generously illustrated, this book demonstrates why Australian Aboriginal history like the very land itself remains contested ground. Both indigenous and non-indigenous Australians have a lot to learn about each other before reconciliation between the two peoples can be realised. This book will go a long way towards achieving that end. Paul Behrendt. Womanspeak, 1991. Voices of Aboriginal Australia. Irene Moores, 1995. Aboriginal experiences of living in Australia in the past 200 years extracts from Aboriginal writing and interviews particularly poetry and prose of Kevin Gilbert Oodgeroo. K J Reed Gilbert sections on Royal Commission into Aboriginal Deaths in Custody, Aboriginal Provisional Government and native title includes text of Yirrkala bark petition, the Barunga statement and Eva Valley statement some items separately annotated. Colonial caring Helen Sweet, Sue Hawkins, 2015-09-01. This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY-NC-ND open access license. From the height of colonialism in the mid nineteenth century through to the aftermath of the Second World War, nurses have been at the heart of colonial projects. They were ideally placed to insinuate the improving culture of their employers into the local communities they served and travelled in droves to far flung parts of the globe to serve their country. Issues of gender, class and race permeate this book as the complex relationships between nurses, their medical colleagues, governments and the populations they nursed are examined in detail using case studies which draw on exciting new sources. Many of the chapters are based on first hand accounts of nurses and reveal that not all were motivated by patriotic vigour or altruism but went out in search of adventure. The book will be an essential read for colonial historians as well as historians of gender and ethnicity.
