British Drama of the Industrial Revolution Frederick Burwick, 2015-07-28 Between the advent of the French Revolution and the short lived success of the Chartist Movement overworked and underpaid labourers struggled to achieve solidarity and collective bargaining That history has been told in numerous accounts of the age but never before has it been told in terms of the theatre of the period To understand the play lists of a theatre it is crucial to examine the community which that theatre serves In the labouring class communities of London and the provinces the performances were adapted to suit the local audiences whether weavers or miners or field workers Examining the conditions and characteristics of representative provincial theatres from the 1790s to 1830s Frederick Burwick argues that the meaning of a play changes with every change in the performance location As contributing factors in that change Burwick attends to local political and cultural circumstances as well as to theatrical activities and developments elsewhere

The Chinese in America Iris Chang, 2004-03-30 A quintessentially American story chronicling Chinese American achievement in the face of institutionalized racism by the New York Times bestselling author of The Rape of Nanking In an epic story that spans 150 years and continues to the present day Iris Chang tells of a people's search for a better life the determination of the Chinese to forge an identity and a destiny in a strange land and often against great obstacles to find success She chronicles the many accomplishments in America of Chinese immigrants and their descendents building the infrastructure of their adopted country fighting racist and exclusionary laws and anti Asian violence contributing to major scientific and technological advances expanding the literary canon and influencing the way we think about racial and ethnic groups Interweaving political social economic and cultural history as well as the stories of individuals Chang offers a bracing view not only of what it means to be Chinese American but also of what it is to be American

Hanged for a Sheep, Bats Fly at Dusk, Cue for Murder Frances and Richard Lockridge, A. A. Fair, Helen McCloy, 1942

Plays from Contemporary Hungary: 'Difficult Women' and Resistant Dramatic Voices Krisztina Tóth, Janos Hay, György Spiró, 2024-01-25 A unique collection of five contemporary plays from 21st century Hungary translated into English for the first time Written by some of Hungary's most highly prolific and commercially successful dramatic voices these plays are being produced in their native Hungary by theatres that do not adhere to Viktor Orbán's values and offer a counterpoint to the commercial Boulevard Theatre scene of Budapest Translator and theatre maker Szilvi Naray champions these unheard voices through her performable and dramatically engaging translations The plays are aimed at micro budget productions and offer a special opportunity for students and small theatre companies alike to engage with these witty politically irreverent plays finally in English Each of the selected playwrights has been in direct conflict with the Hungarian government and has been demonised by the state controlled press The five plays are thematically threaded together by their common use of strong leading female protagonists with an overarching theme of the family unit Through the edited introduction the themes and feminine translation strategy discusses how the plays offer a microcosmic lens for understanding the paradox that today's Hungary exemplifies making this a necessary study into the world of contemporary Hungary through drama
