

Murder in Bandora

LEONA KARR

OLD WEST MUSEUM

Local resident Shorty Banks

was found dead in his room

on Saturday morning.

He had been in the room for some time.

The body was found by a maid.

The cause of death is still unknown.

The police are investigating the case.

It is hoped that the killer will be caught soon.

Banks hadn't been seen since returning from the laundromat on Saturday evening, according to Lillian McPherson, manager of the Homestead Hotel, where the dead man had been a resident for years.

Neither County Sheriff Ben Craddock nor Deputy Herman Wilkes would comment pending further investigation, but reliable sources believe the killer is still in the area.

London in Cinema Charlotte Brunsdon, 2019-07-25 Charlotte Brunsdon's illuminating study explores the variety of cinematic Londons that appear in films made since 1945 Brunsdon traces the familiar ways that film makers establish that a film is set in London by use of recognisable landmarks and the city's shorthand iconography of red buses and black taxis as well as the ways in which these icons are avoided She looks at London weather fog and rain and everyday locations like the pub and the housing estate while also examining the recurring patterns of representation associated with films set in the East and West Ends of London from Spring in Park Lane 1948 to Mona Lisa 1986 and from Night and the City 1950 to From Hell 2001 Brunsdon provides a detailed analysis of a selection of films exploring their contribution to the cinematic geography of London and showing the ways in which feature films have responded to and created changing views of the city She traces London's transformation from imperial capital to global city through the different ways in which the local is imagined in films ranging from Ealing comedies to Pressure 1974 as well as through the shifting imagery of the River Thames and the Docks She addresses the role of cinematic genres such as horror and film noir in the constitution of the cinematic city as well as the recurrence of figures such as the cockney the gangster and the housewife Challenging the view that London is not a particularly cinematic city Brunsdon demonstrates that many London set films offer their own meditation on the complex relationships between the cinema and the city
