

The background is a vibrant pink color. A white, wavy line, resembling a musical staff, runs horizontally across the middle of the image. Above and below this line are various musical notations, including eighth notes, quarter notes, and groups of notes beamed together. Some of these notations are marked with 'x' symbols, likely representing drum hits. In the top left corner, the text 'Kick/Bass drum' is written in a small, black, sans-serif font. In the top right corner, the website address 'SHEDRUMS.DE' is displayed in a larger, bold, black, sans-serif font. The central part of the image features a large, bold title in black and pink text. At the bottom, the phrase '+ FREE PDF DOWNLOAD' is written in a bold, white, sans-serif font, with a small white plus sign to the left of the word 'FREE'.

Dancing with Devtas: Drums, Power and Possession in the Music of Garhwal, North India Andrew Alter, 2016-12-05 In the Central Himalayan region of Garhwal the gods devtas enjoy dancing Musicians whether ritual specialists or musical specialists are therefore an indispensable part of most entertainment and religious events In shamanistic ceremonies their incantations songs and drumming make the gods possess their mediums In other contexts such as dramatic theatrical renditions of stories of specific deities actors dance the role of their character having become possessed by the spirit of their character Through the powerful sounds of their drumming musicians cause the gods to dance Music and more particularly musical sound is perceived in Garhwal as a powerful force Andrew Alter examines music and musical practice in Garhwal from an analytical perspective that explores the nexus between musical sounds and performance events He provides insight into performance practice vocal techniques notions of repertoire classification instruments ensembles performance venues and dance practice However music is not viewed simply as a system of organized sounds such as drum strokes pitch iterations or repertoire items Rather in Garhwal the music is viewed as a system of knowledge and as a system of beliefs in which meaning and spirituality become articulated through potent sound iterations Alter makes a significant contribution to the discipline of ethnomusicology through a detailed documentation of musical practice in the context of ritual events The book offers a traditionally thorough historical ethnographic study of a region with the aim of integrating the local field based case studies of musical practices within the broader Garhwali context The work contains invaluable oral data which has been carefully transliterated as well as translated Alter blends a carefully detailed analysis of drumming in conjunction with the complex ritual and social contexts of this sophisticated and semantically rich musical practice Music, Education, and Diversity
