The Best Dead Husband in the World Kathy Reichert, 2006-03 Kathy Reichert and her husband Dick have been married fifteen years Dick has been dead for three of them I became a widow just like that half of a whole alone in navigating an abyss of emotion Somehow we needed to weather this together to remain partners in life and in death This is our story of spiritual connection how we found ways to break barriers when possible and to crack the symbolic codes of communication between loving longing souls I share my story for many reasons Perhaps the more important of these is to show that ordinary people can have extraordinary spiritual experiences that this is both healthy and helpful There is a misconception that after death communication is disruptive to the grieving process I believe that each of us has an assigned team of experts on the other side You can call them angels or guides or spirit families I call them the Wise Ones They are there to help us through life Therefore they offer only those gifts that we need to aid our growth So if we spend too much time looking for signs and do not move forward with our lives they will stop This is a team effort You can't get lazy Dark Maze Thomas

Dovalis,2014-12-17 Loss is an inescapable reality of life and individuals need to develop a capacity to grieve in order to mature and live life to the full Yet most western movie audiences live in cultures that do not value this necessary process and filmgoers finding themselves deeply moved by a particular film are often left wondering why In Cinema as Therapy John Izod and Joanna Dovalis set out to fill a gap in work on the conjunction of grief therapy and cinema Looking at films including Million Dollar Baby The Son's Room Birth and The Tree of Life Cinema as Therapy offers an understanding of how deeply emotional life can be stirred at the movies Izod and Dovalis note that cinema is a medium which engages people in a virtual dialogue with their own and their culture's unconscious more deeply than is commonly thought By analysing the meaning of each film and the root cause of the particular losses featured the authors demonstrate how our experiences in the movie theatre create an opportunity to prepare psychologically for the inevitable losses we must all eventually face In recognising that the movie theatre shares symbolic features with both the church and the therapy room the reader sees how it becomes a sacred space where people can encounter the archetypal and ease personal suffering through laughter or tears without inhibition or fear to reach a deeper understanding of themselves Cinema as Therapy will be essential reading for therapists students and academics working in film studies and looking to engage with psychological studies in depth as well as filmgoers who want to explore their relationship with the screen The book includes a glossary of Jungian and Freudian terms which enhances the clarity of the text and the understanding of the reader Talelei Oros, English, Bereishis Rubin, When Sefer Talelei Oros first appeared upon the horizon of Torah Jewry it was met with instant appreciation and popularity Now for the first time this masterwork has been adapted into the English language making it even more accessible to the general public A veritable galaxy of Torah giants appear on the pages of this extraordinary work Among them are Rabbi Yonasan Eibenschutz the Vilna Gaon Rabbi Yisrael Salanter Rabbi Yeshoshua Leib Diskin and the Chafetz Chaim just to name a few This is a work that expands the mind and uplifts the soul Recognition Philip F.
