Echo and Narcissus Amy Lawrence, 1991-07-23 Do women in classical Hollywood cinema ever truly speak for themselves In Echo and Narcissus Amy Lawrence examines eight classic films to show how women's speech is repeatedly constructed as a problem an affront to male authority This book expands feminist studies of the representation of women in film enabling us to see individual films in new ways and to ask new questions of other films Using Sadie Thompson 1928 Blackmail 1929 Rain 1932 The Spiral Staircase Sorry Wrong Number Notorious Sunset Boulevard 1950 and To Kill a Mockingbird 1962 Lawrence illustrates how women's voices are positioned within narratives that require their submission to patriarchal roles and how their attempts to speak provoke increasingly severe repression She also shows how women's natural ability to speak is interrupted made difficult or conditioned to a suffocating degree by sound technology itself Telephones phonographs voice overs and dubbing are foregrounded called upon to silence women and to restore the primacy of the image Unlike the usage of voice by feminist and literary critics to discuss broad issues of authorship and point of view in film studies the physical voice itself is a primary focus Echo and Narcissus shows how assumptions about the deficiencies of women's voices and speech are embedded in sound's history technology uses and marketing Moreover the construction of the woman's voice is inserted into the ideologically loaded cinematic and narrative conventions governing the representation of women in Hollywood film

The Elements of Cinema Stefan Sharff, 1982 Beginning with the proposition that there exist uniquely cinematic elements of meaning and structure Stefan Sharff clearly and systematically lays the foundation for literacy in cinema a sensitivity to the aesthetic elements intrinsic only to film Sharff presents the basic elements of structure modes of expression and rules which he argues create a specific language and syntax of cinema

Contemporary French Cinema Alan J. Singerman, Michèle Bissière, 2018-09-15 Like its French language companion volume Le Cinéma français contemporain Manuel de classe Alan Singerman and Michèle Bissière's Contemporary French Cinema A Student's Book offers a detailed look at recent French cinema through its analyses of twenty notable and representative French films that have appeared since 1980 Sure to delight Anglophone fans of French film it can be used with equal success in English language courses and when paired with its companion volume dual language ones Acclaim for Le Cinéma français contemporain Manuel de classe From Le Dernier Métro to Intouchables Bissière and Singerman cover the latest trends of French cinema emphasizing context and analytical method as Singerman did in Apprentissage du cinéma français Focus 2004 The authors offer a selection of films most French cinephiles will applaud and they incorporate insights from some of the best critical work on French cinema Students of French film will also find all the bibliographical pointers they need to dig deeper and instructors will appreciate the pedagogical components included in the chapters Jonathan Walsh Department of French Studies Wheaton College Massachusetts This remarkable book comes to us from two seasoned teachers and critics and beautifully complements an earlier work Alan Singerman's Apprentissage du cinéma français. The time period covered more targeted here than in the preceding text is admirably well chosen and the breakdown by broad category each offering multiple options guides the teacher while offering a choice among an abundance of interesting films. The preliminary chapters both succinct and informative give students an excellent overview of French cinema as a whole and of the technical knowledge needed for film analysis. Each of the subsequent chapters offers an indispensable introduction discussing the plot, director, production, actors, reception and context of the film in question and also provides a very useful filmography and bibliography. An exemplary work. Brigitte E. Humbert, Department of French and Francophone Studies, Middlebury College.

"Right Makes Might" Wolfgang Mieder, 2019-04-04. A powerful and timely addition to the literature of rhetoric and folklore. Choice. In 1860 Abraham Lincoln employed the proverb Right makes might, opposite of the more aggressive Might makes right in his famed Cooper Union address. While Lincoln did not originate the proverb, his use of it in this critical speech indicates that the fourteenth-century phrase had taken on new ethical and democratic connotations in the nineteenth century. In this collection, famed scholar of proverbs Wolfgang Mieder explores the multifaceted use and function of proverbs through the history of the United States from their early beginnings up through their use by such modern-day politicians as Barack Obama, Hillary Rodham Clinton, and Bernie Sanders. Building on previous publications and unpublished research, Mieder explores sociopolitical aspects of the American worldview as expressed through the use of proverbs in politics, women's rights, and the civil rights movement, and by looking at the use of proverbial phrases, Mieder demonstrates how one traditional phrase can take on numerous expressive roles over time and how they continue to play a key role in our contemporary moment.

Decolonizing the Lens of Power Kerstin Knopf, 2008. This is the first book that comprehensively examines Indigenous filmmaking in North America as it analyzes in detail a variety of representative films by Canadian and US American Indigenous filmmakers: two films that contextualize the oral tradition, three short films, and four dramatic films. The book explores how members of colonized groups use the medium of film as a means for cultural and political expression and thus enter the dominant colonial film discourse and create an answering discourse. The theoretical framework is developed as an interdisciplinary approach combining postcolonialism, Indigenous studies, and film studies. As Indigenous people are gradually taking control over the imagemaking process in the area of film and video, they cease being studied and described objects and become subjects who create self-controlled images of Indigenous cultures. The book explores the translatability of Indigenous oral tradition into film, touching upon the changes the cultural knowledge is subject to in this process, including statements of Indigenous filmmakers on this issue. It also asks whether or not there is a definite Indigenous film practice and whether filmmakers tend to dissociate their work from dominant classical filmmaking, adapt to it, or create new film forms and styles through converging classical film conventions and their conscious violation. This approach presupposes that Indigenous filmmakers are constantly in some state of reaction.

to Western ethnographic filmmaking and to classical narrative filmmaking and its epitome the Hollywood narrative cinema The films analyzed are The Road Allowance People by Maria Campbell Itam Hakim Hopiit by Victor Masayesva Talker by Lloyd Martell Tenacity and Smoke Signals by Chris Eyre Overweight With Crooked Teeth and Honey Moccasin by Shelley Niro Big Bear by Gil Cardinal and Atanarjuat The Fast Runner by Zacharias Kunuk

Visual Database Systems 3 Stefano Spaccapietra, Ramesh Jain, 2013-06-05 Both the way we look at data through a DBMS and the nature of data we ask a DBMS to manage have drastically evolved over the last decade moving from text to images and to sound to a lesser extent Visual representations are used extensively within new user interfaces Powerful visual approaches are being experimented for data manipulation including the investigation of three dimensional display techniques Similarly sophisticated data visualization techniques are dramatically improving the understanding of the information extracted from a database On the other hand more and more applications use images as basic data or to enhance the quality and richness of data manipulation services Image management has opened a wide area of new research topics in image understanding and analysis The IFIP 2 6 Working Group on Databases strongly believes that a significant mutual enrichment is possible by confronting ideas concepts and techniques supporting the work of researcher and practitioners in the two areas of visual interfaces to DBMS and DBMS management of visual data For this reason IFIP 2 6 has launched a series of conferences on Visual Database Systems The first one has been held in Tokyo 1989 VDB 2 was held in Budapest 1991 This conference is the third in the series As the preceding editions the conference addresses researchers and practitioners active or interested in user interfaces human computer communication knowledge representation and management image processing and understanding multimedia database techniques and computer vision

Television Style Jeremy G. Butler, 2010-04-05 Style matters Television relies on style setting lighting videography editing and so on to set moods hail viewers construct meanings build narratives sell products and shape information Yet to date style has been the most understudied aspect of the medium In this book Jeremy G Butler examines the meanings behind television s stylistic conventions Television Style dissects how style signifies and what significance it has had in specific television contexts Using hundreds of frame captures from television programs Television Style dares to look closely at television Miami Vice ER soap operas sitcoms and commercials among other prototypical television texts are deconstructed in an attempt to understand how style functions in television Television Style also assays the state of style during an era of media convergence and the ostensible demise of network television This book is a much needed introduction to television style and essential reading at a moment when the medium is undergoing radical transformation perhaps even a stylistic renaissance Discover additional examples and resources on the companion website www.tvstylebook.com
