Please note This is a companion version not the original book Sample Book Insights 1 We all have a bias against games today We can't help it This bias is part of our culture and it's even woven into the way we use the words game and player in everyday conversation 2 All games share four defining traits a goal rules a feedback system and voluntary participation The goal is the specific outcome that players will work to achieve It focuses their attention and continually orient their participation throughout the game 3 The four traits of games are challenge feedback a clear win condition and arbitrary limitations on your freedom to work in the most efficient way The opposite of gameplay is not a game 4 The most important difference between digital and non digital games is the intensity of the feedback they provide In computer and video games the interactive loop is satisfyingly tight There seems to be no gap between your actions and the game's responses      Out of

Everest Media,2022-03-31T22:59:00Z Please note This is a companion version not the original book Sample Book Insights 1 How you think about something can change its effect on you The field of mindset science has demonstrated that a single brief intervention can improve your health happiness and success years into the future 2 The effect you expect is the effect you get For example telling yourself that watching television burns calories can lead to weight loss but telling yourself that housekeeping is exercise can lead to weight loss and better health 3 The effects of how we view things can be seen in the body For example when people believe that physical labor is exercise their bodies respond positively When they believe that a milkshake is an indulgent treat their bodies respond negatively 4 I was invited to experience the stress of a mock job interview and how my body reacted to it from the perspective of a participant in a study by Alia Crum The video that was shown to me before the interview opened with the message that stress is enhancing while the other video opened with the message that stress is debilitating      The Wide World Magazine ,1922      Chicago's Historic Irish Pubs Mike
