Longer Stories:

The Long and Winding Road: a collection of short stories Fairbanks, 2024-03-05 Long and Winding Road is a collection of eleven short stories. Nine of the stories are prose, one is a play, and another is a narrative poem, but all eleven are really stories just in different genres. The value of a collection of short stories is that you can read just one story at a sitting or two sittings for the longer stories, rest from it, and then dip in for another treat next reading session. Settings are primarily Australian, though one story is set in a fictitious ancient kingdom and one in northern Mexico and parts of USA. The short play is set in a nursing home of all places. Readers will meet a range of interesting characters: Miss Magnolia who has a secret, Viv Black who uncovers a secret, the trans gender Al Mara, the young loom girl Therese who becomes Queen, the boy wonder Agave who was born without vocal cords but is anything but mute, Mohair Mary, the talented and prescient Aboriginal woman Doreen, teen Essie Esmerelda who discovers gold as she discovers her Self, the former sex worker Penelope in a nursing home, Master Nathaniel who dies by guillotine, and dozens more. Some stories border on the bawdy but nothing X-rated, some deal with tragedy and misadventure, some with romance and strong personal bonds. It's like life: We trudge along life's path, the winding road dragging life's burdens behind in the dust, not knowing what lies around the next bend. But always there are more stories to tell.

Going Long Jo McGinley, 2024-11-19 Improvisational comedy has exploded over the last several decades. But the short game-based version of improv as seen on shows like Whose Line Is It Anyway? is of little help when it comes to successfully pulling off long-form improvisation. Long-form provides exciting new challenges and opportunities for improvisational performers that go beyond comedy. It demands an expanded skill set, careful preparation, and genuine courage. Drawing on author Jo McGinley's more than thirty years of experience onstage and in the classroom, Going Long provides a clear and practical framework for both beginning and experienced improvisers. It includes mental exercises specifically developed for long-form work, best practices for rehearsals, and collaboration techniques for connecting with the audience. Tips on crafting stories within specific genres and principles for making in-the-moment decisions that support an overarching narrative.

Bureaucracy, Belonging, and the City in North India Michael S. Dodson, 2020-04-15 This book is a re-evaluation of modern urbanism and architecture and a history of urbanism, architecture, and local identity in colonial north India at the turn of the twentieth century. Focusing on Banaras and Jaunpur, two of northern India's most traditional cities, the book examines the workings of colonial bureaucracy in the cities and argues that interactions with the colonial state were an integral aspect of the ways that Indians created a sense of their own personal investment in the city in which they lived. The book explores the every day and the mundane to better understand the limits of British colonial power and the role of Indians themselves in the making of the modern city. Based on highly localized archival source material, the author analyses two key aspects of city-making in this era: the building of new infrastructure such as water supply and sewerage, and new policies governing historical architectural conservation. The book also incorporates an ethnography of contemporary urban space in these cities to advocate for a more nuanced and responsible approach to writing the history of such cities and to address the myriad problems of present-day north Indian urbanism. Containing examples of bureaucratic procedure and its contradictions, and enlivened by a set of personal reflections and narratives of the author's own experiences, this book is a valuable addition to the field of South Asian Studies, Asian History, and Asian Culture, and Society, Colonial History, and Urban History.
