Matthew Paris Cambridge Studies In Medi:

Robin Hood in Outlaw/ed Spaces Lesley Coote, Valerie B. Johnson, 2016-11-10 Following in the tradition of recent work by cultural geographers and historians of maps this collection examines the apparently familiar figure of Robin Hood as he can be located within spaces that are geographical cultural and temporal The volume is divided into two sections the first features an interrogation of the literary and other textually transmitted spaces to uncover the critical grounds in which the Robin Hood legend has traditionally operated The essays in Part Two take up issues related to performative and experiential space demonstrating the reciprocal relationship between page stage and lived experience Throughout the volume the contributors contend with among other things modern theories of gender literary detective work and the ways in which the settings that once advanced court performances now include digital gaming and the enactment of real lives Premodern Rulers and Postmodern Viewers Janice North, Karl C. Alvestad, Elena Woodacre, 2018-02-01 Pop culture portrayals of medieval and early modern monarchs are rife with tension between authenticity and modern mores producing anachronisms such as a feminist Queen Isabel in RTVE's Isabel and a lesbian Queen Christina in The Girl King This book examines these anachronisms as a dialogue between premodern and postmodern ideas about gender and sexuality raising questions of intertemporality the interpretation of history and the dangers of presentism Covering a range of famous and lesser known European monarchs on screen from Elizabeth I to Muhammad XII of Granada this book addresses how the lives of powerful women and men have been mythologized in order to appeal to today's audiences The contributors interrogate exactly what is at stake in these portrayals namely our understanding of premodern rulers the gender and sexual ideologies they navigated and those that we navigate today History of the Church: From the High Middle Ages to the eve of the Reformation Hubert Jedin, John Patrick Dolan, 1980 How Media Ownership Matters Rodney Benson, Mattias Hessérus, Timothy Neff, Julie Sedel, 2025-02-19 How Media Ownership Matters provides a roadmap to understanding how variable forms of ownership are shaping the future of journalism and democracy Through a comparative analysis of the US Sweden and France this book maps and analyzes four ownership models market private civil society and public Highlighting the effects of organizational logics funding and target audiences on the content of news the authors identify both the strengths and weaknesses various forms of ownership have in facilitating journalism that meets the democratic ideals of reasoned critical and inclusive public debate The Mediated Climate Adrienne Russell, 2023-08-08 To what extent does journalism deserve blame for the failure to address climate change over the last thirty years Critics point out that climate coverage has often lacked necessary urgency and hewed to traditional notions of objectivity and balance that allowed powerful interests mainly fossil fuel companies to manufacture doubt Climate journalism however developed alongside the digital media landscape which is characterized by rampant misinformation political polarization unaccountable tech companies unchecked corporate power and vast inequalities Under these circumstances journalism struggled and bad actors flourished muddling messages while emissions mounted and societies struggled to avert catastrophe The Mediated Climate explores the places where the climate and information crises meet examining how journalism activism corporations and Big Tech compete to influence the public Adrienne Russell argues that the inadequate response to climate change is intertwined with the profound challenges facing the communications environment She demonstrates that the information crisis is driven not only by technological changes but also by concentrated power that predates the rise of digital media companies Efforts to improve climate coverage must take into account the larger social and material contexts in which journalism operates and the broader power dynamics that shape public discourse Drawing on interviews with journalists and activists Russell considers the ways recent movements are battling misinformation She offers timely recommendations to foster engagement with climate issues and calls on readers to join in efforts to reshape the media landscape to better serve the public interest

Handbook of Church History: From the High Middle Ages to the eve of the Reformation Hubert Jedin, John Patrick Dolan, 1970 Ecomedia Stephen Rust, Salma Monani, Sean Cubitt, 2015-09-07 Ecomedia Key Issues is a comprehensive textbook introducing the burgeoning field of ecomedia studies to provide an overview of the interface between environmental issues and the media globally Linking the world of media production distribution and consumption to environmental understandings the book addresses ecological meanings encoded in media texts the environmental impacts of media production and the relationships between media and cultural perceptions of the environment Each chapter introduces a distinct type of media addressing it in a theoretical overview before engaging with specific case studies In this way the book provides an accessible introduction to each form of media as well as a sophisticated analysis of relevant cases The book includes contributions from a combination of new voices and well established media scholars from across the globe who examine the basic concepts and key issues of ecomedia studies The concepts of frames flow and convergence structure a dynamic collection divided into three parts The first part addresses traditional visual texts such as comics photography and film The second part of the book addresses traditional broadcast media such as radio and television and the third part looks at new media such as advertising video games the internet and digital renderings of scientific data In its breadth and scope Ecomedia Key Issues presents a unique survey of rich scholarship at the confluence of Media Studies and Environmental Studies The book is written in an engaging and accessible style with each chapter including case studies discussion questions and suggestions for further reading Medieval English Manuscripts and Literary Forms Jessica Brantley, 2022-12-13 In Medieval English Manuscripts and Literary Forms Jessica Brantley offers an innovative introduction to manuscript culture that uses the artifacts themselves to open some of the most vital theoretical questions in medieval literary studies With nearly 200 illustrations many of them in color the book offers both a broad survey of the physical forms and cultural histories of manuscripts and a dozen case studies of particularly significant literary witnesses including the Beowulf manuscript the St Albans Psalter the Ellesmere manuscript of the Canterbury Tales and The Book of Margery Kempe Practical discussions of parchment scripts decoration illustration and bindings mix with consideration of such conceptual categories as ownership authorship language miscellaneity geography writing editing mediation illustration and performance as well as of the status of the literary itself Each case study includes an essay orienting the reader to particularly productive categories of analysis and a selected bibliography for further research Because a high quality digital surrogate exists for each of the selected manuscripts fully and freely available online readers can gain access to the artifacts in their entirety enabling further individual exploration and facilitating the book's classroom use Medieval English Manuscripts and Literary Forms aims to inspire a broad group of readers with some of the excitement of literary manuscript studies in the twenty first century The interpretative frameworks surrounding each object will assist everyone in thinking through the implications of manuscript culture more generally not only for the deeper study of the literature of the Middle Ages but also for a better understanding of book cultures of any era including our own

Discussing New Materialism Ulrike Tikvah Kissmann, Joost van Loon, 2019-02-27 The essays in this volume discuss the various approaches to New Materialism in Sociology and Philosophy They raise the questions of what New Materialism consists of and whether it in fact should be considered a radical change in Social Theory Are the ideas of a material turn as the theory is formulated and in its assumptions foreshadowed by the classical philosophies of Spinoza and Tarde Do these new approaches bring substantially new perspectives to Social Theory A further goal of these essays is to formulate the methodological and methodical consequences for its empirical implementation What conditions must an ethnography of things fulfill if it is to be sufficient Which participant objects and bodies do the approaches of the various social theories and methodologies include or exclude

Analytical Journalism Flemming Svith, 2023-07-31 Responding to an increasingly complex and often contradictory barrage of news information Analytical Journalism offers a first of its kind guide to this emerging form of science based journalism Posited as a practical alternative to other more traditional forms of event driven news reporting analytical journalism relies on metatheory and methodology to highlight causal factors such as goals norms behaviours and social frameworks when covering events Seen as adjacent to investigative and data journalism analytical journalism seeks to provide a solution to the simplification and under reporting of the causal context by drawing on scientific research and data to offer a deeper understanding of news events Central to this new field is public understanding providing news consumers with the information they require to navigate and act with nuance in the real world Drawing on the author's experience of teaching analytical journalism at the postgraduate level this book summarises the aims and theory of the field and contains practical tools to help improve journalists contribution to shared public knowledge including methods and examples of identifying and justifying new causal explanations of an issue Analytical Journalism will be of interest to advanced journalism students and practitioners exploring alternative forms of journalism

Eastward Bound Rosamund Allen, 2004 Eastward Bound looks at travel and travelers in the medieval period An international range of distinguished contributors offer discussions on a wide range of themes from the experiences of

Crusaders on campaign to the lives of pilgrims missionaries and traders in the Middle East It examines their modes of travel equipment and methods of navigation and considers their expectations and experiences en route The contributions also look at the variety of motives public and private behind the decision to travel eastwards Other essays discuss the attitudes of Middle Eastern rulers to their visitors In so doing they provide a valuable perspective and insight into the behavior of the Europeans and non Europeans alike

The Prosthetic Tongue Katie Chenoweth,2019-10-04 Of all the cultural revolutions brought about by the development of printing technology during the sixteenth century perhaps the most remarkable but least understood is the purported rise of European vernacular languages It is generally accepted that the invention of printing constitutes an event in the history of language that has profoundly shaped modernity and yet the exact nature of this transformation the mechanics of the event has remained curiously unexamined In The Prosthetic Tongue Katie Chenoweth explores the relationship between printing and the vernacular as it took shape in sixteenth century France and charts the technological reinvention of French across a range of domains from typography orthography and grammar to politics pedagogy and poetics Under François I the king known in his own time as the Father of Letters both printing and vernacular language emerged as major cultural and political forces Beginning in 1529 French underwent a remarkable transformation as printers and writers began to reimagine their mother tongue as mechanically reproducible The first accent marks appeared in French texts the first French grammar books and dictionaries were published phonetic spelling reforms were debated modern Roman typefaces replaced gothic scripts and French was codified as a legal idiom This was Chenoweth argues a veritable new media moment in which the print medium served as the underlying material apparatus and conceptual framework for a revolutionary reinvention of the vernacular Rather than tell the story of the origin of the modern French language however she seeks to destabilize this very notion of origin by situating the cultural formation of French in a scene of media technology and reproducibility No less than the paper book issuing from sixteenth century printing presses the modern French language is a product of the age of mechanical reproduction

Literary Journalism and Social Justice Robert Alexander,Willa McDonald,2022-08-04 This book examines the prominent place a commitment to social justice and equity has occupied in the global history of literary journalism With international case studies it explores and theorizes the way literary journalists have addressed inequality and its consequences in their practice In the process this volume focuses on the critical attitude the writers of this genre bring to their stories the immersive reporting they use to gain detailed and intimate knowledge of their subjects and the array of innovative rhetorical strategies through which they represent those encounters The contributors explain how these strategies encourage readers to respond to injustices of class race indigeneity gender mobility and access to knowledge Together they make the case that throughout its history literary journalism has proven uniquely well adapted to fusing facts with feeling in a way which makes it a compelling force for social change

Golden Leaves and Burned Books Teemu Immonen,Gabriele Müller-Oberhäuser,2020-07-30 In religious reforms books and other forms of written communication play a dominant role both for individuals as well as for groups. Covering the period from the late Middle Ages to the early seventeenth century, the chapters of this volume reflect on the use of books in religious reform movements and their impact on lay people and monastic communities. For those committed to religious renewal, books are the necessary and often enthusiastically welcomed vehicles for the transmission of religious reform concepts. They are at the same time often the objects of severe opposition and negative reactions in attempts at hindering or reversing religious reform for others. The researchers make use of approaches from cultural history, book history, and English studies, among others. Contributions range from theory and practices of religious reform with special regard to the interaction between the laity and religious orders in their search for models of good religious living to research on the changing processes of communication from manuscript to print and their impact on religious renewal. African Ecomedia Cajetan

Iheka, 2021-08-23 In African Ecomedia Cajetan Iheka examines the ecological footprint of media in Africa alongside the representation of environmental issues in visual culture. Iheka shows how through visual media such as film, photography, and sculpture African artists deliver a unique perspective on the socioecological costs of media production from mineral and oil extraction to the politics of animal conservation. Among other works, he examines Pieter Hugo's photography of electronic waste recycling in Ghana and Idrissou Mora Kpai's documentary on the deleterious consequences of uranium mining in Niger. These works highlight not only the exploitation of African workers and the vast scope of environmental degradation but also the resourcefulness and creativity of African media makers. They point to the unsustainability of current practices while acknowledging our planet's finite natural resources. In foregrounding Africa's centrality to the production and disposal of media technology, Iheka shows the important place visual media has in raising awareness of and documenting ecological disaster, even as it remains complicit in it. Textual Heritage Edoardo Gerlini, Andrea Giolai, 2025-10-01

The relationship between texts and the field of cultural heritage remains ill defined. Although scholarship has long recognized the importance of textual practices in mediating cultural identity and memory, the emphasis heritage studies places on authentic material traces downplays the unique impact of their creative transmission and appropriation. Focusing on the afterlives of written artifacts and the re-use of their textual contents primarily within East Asia, Textual Heritage highlights how textual practices offer a lens for understanding questions of canonization, embodiment, and circulation. Through case studies ranging from Japanese court music to digital editions, this volume advances a theory of humanistic heritage studies that better understands the overlap between literary and heritage studies. Language and Emotion. Volume 3 Gesine Lenore Schiewer, Jeanette

Altarriba, Bee Chin Ng, 2023-05-08 The Handbook consists of four major sections. Each section is introduced by a main article: Theories of Emotion, General Aspects, Perspectives in Communication Theory, Semiotics and Linguistics, Perspectives on Language and Emotion in Cultural Studies, Interdisciplinary and Applied Perspectives. The first section presents interdisciplinary emotion theories relevant for the field of language and communication research, including the history of emotion research The second section focuses on the full range of emotion related aspects in linguistics semiotics and communication theories The next section focuses on cultural studies and language and emotion emotions in arts and literature as well as research on emotion in literary studies and media and emotion The final section covers different domains social practices and applications such as society policy diplomacy economics and business communication religion and emotional language the domain of affective computing in human machine interaction and language and emotion research for language education Overall this Handbook represents a comprehensive overview in a rich diverse compendium never before published in this particular domain

Symbolism in Terrorism Jonathan Matusitz, 2014-09-16 The symbolic value of targets is what differentiates terrorism from other forms of extreme violence Terrorism is designed to inflict deep psychological wounds on an enemy rather than demolish its material ability to fight The September 11 2001 attacks for example demonstrated the power of symbolism The World Trade Center was targeted by Al Qaeda because the Twin Towers epitomized Western civilization U S imperialism financial success modernity and freedom The symbolic character of terrorism is the focus of this textbook A comprehensive analysis it incorporates descriptions definitions case studies and theories Each chapter focuses on a specific dimension of symbolism in terrorism and explains the contexts and processes that involve the main actors as well as the symbolism of both the purposes and targets of terrorism Also discussed are new religious movements which represent another important aspect of terrorism such as Aum Shinrikyo the Japanese cult that used sarin gas in the Tokyo subway in 1995 Over forty areas of symbolism are covered throughout the chapters including physical and non physical symbolism linguistic symbolism the social construction of reality rituals myths performative violence iconoclasm brand management logos semiotics new media and the global village This allows for an in depth examination of many issues such as anti globalization honor killing religious terrorism suicide terrorism martyrdom weapons female terrorism public communication visual motifs and cyberspace Main concepts are clearly defined and followed by theory illustrated by international case studies Chapter summaries key points review questions research and practice suggestions are recurring components as well This groundbreaking text encompasses all major aspects of symbolism in terrorism and will be an essential resource for anyone studying terrorism

The Idea of the Castle in Medieval England Abigail Wheatley, 2015 Medieval castles have traditionally been examined as feats of military engineering tools of feudal control This book presents a different perspective by exploring the castle as a cultural reflection of the society that produced it seen through art literature

World trends in freedom of expression and media development UNESCO, University of Oxford (UK), 2018-02-05 In the face of such challenges this new volume in the World Trends in Freedom of Expression and Media Development series offers a critical analysis of new trends in media freedom pluralism independence and the safety of journalists
