Max Planck Yearbook Of United Nations Law V1 1997:

Global Human Rights Institutions Gerd Oberleitner, 2013-04-30 The range of global human rights institutions which have been created over the past half century is a remarkable achievement Yet their establishment and proliferation raises important questions Why do states create such institutions and what do they want them to achieve Does this differ from what the institutions themselves seek to accomplish Are global human rights institutions effective remedies for violations of human dignity or temples for the performance of stale bureaucratic rituals What happens to human rights when they are being framed in global institutions This book is an introduction to global human rights institutions and to the challenges and paradoxes of institutionalizing human rights Drawing on international legal scholarship and international relations literature it examines UN institutions with a human rights mandate the process of mainstreaming human rights international courts which adjudicate human rights and non governmental human rights organizations In mapping the ever more complex network of global human rights institutions it asks what these institutions are and what they are for It critically assesses and appraises the ways in which global institutions bureaucratize human rights and reflects on how this process is changing our perception of human rights

Max Planck Yearbook of United Nations Law, 2001 Jochen Abr Frowein, Christiane E. Philipp, 2001-11-01

Now in its fifth year the Max Planck Yearbook of United Nations Law is becoming a much sought after forum for essays by the most distinguished professors in international law. These essays cover a variety of topics related to the activities of the United Nations from the role of the Security Council to UN treaties from environmental issues to humanitarian law. The Yearbook also contains essays e.g. on the World Bank, the IAEA and the WTO. Volume 5 focuses in particular on the international dispute settlement system with articles on the activities of international courts and tribunals as well as the contributions to settlement of disputes by other institutions such as the World Bank Inspection Panel. But there are also tackled subjects as the future of peace keeping, the UN Transitional Administration in Kosovo and East Timor as well as human rights and their implementation. This book is a must have for any academic involved in international law. For more information on this yearbook please visit the website of the Max Planck Institute.
