Neighbours Howard Bracey, 2013-08-21 This Volume XIII of twenty one in a collection on Class Race and Social Structure First published in 1964 this text looks neighbour behaviour of new estates and subdivisions in England and U S A The study derives from a survey begun on new housing estates near Bristol England in 1957 and continued on a number of new subdivisions near Columbus Ohio in 1958 and 1959 The enquiry was designed to study the adjustment of mainly urban families to life in new rural urban fringe neighbourhoods

Invincible Green Suburbs, Brave New Towns Mark Clapson, 1998 Explores the phenomenon of the mass movement of people away from town and city centres to live in new estates and towns built since World War II Using sociology town planning materials oral history and other sources this book examines the making of modern suburbia

Leisure, Lifestyle and the New Middle Class Derek Wynne, 2002-01-22 In this valuable study conducted within the theoretical context associated with the work of Pierre Bourdieu Derek Wynne looks at how the new middle class of the late twentieth century goes about constructing and defending its social identity

Urban Planning in a Changing World Freestone, 2000-06-22 Urban planning in today s world is inextricably linked to the processes of mass urbanization and modernization which have transformed our lives over the last hundred years Written by leading experts and commentators from around the world this collection of original essays will form an unprecedented critical survey of the state of urban planning a

Urban Planning in a Changing World Robert Freestone, 2000 Urban planning in today s world is inextricably linked to the processes of mass urbanization and modernization which have transformed our lives over the last hundred years Written by leading experts and commentators from around the world this collection of original essays will form an unprecedented critical survey of the state of urban planning at the end of the millennium

Belonging in America Constance Perin, 1988 Belonging in America gives voice to unspoken conventions and silent understandings and asks why our culture draws the lines it does between home and work family and friends humans and animals Throughout her fascinating book Constance Perin shows us the systems of meaning through which contemporary American create social order and define their relationships

Remaking Cities (Routledge Revivals) Alison Ravetz, 2013-10-08 This book published in 1980 is an iconoclastic account of one of the pillars of the welfare state British town and country planning between 1945 and 1975 Always a fine balance between central control and market forces it was challenged by strains within and between the environmental professions and protest by people dispossessed or alienated by re shaped urban environments Remaking Cities critiques the export of western style planning to the developing world and reviews initiatives rooted in different understandings of growth appearing in those years Nearly forty years on many of the same issues beset us notably the depressingly familiar inner city problem despite countless reports funds and programmes But now our infrastructure and services once publicly owned are privatised and fragmented and local government progressively relegated The very core of planning development control is being pared in a struggle to regain the growth which led to our current crisis This gives fresh importance to the need for new modes of creating liveable sustainable environments emphasised in this important work Mental Health and The Built Environment David

Halpern,2014-06-03 This text explores the relationship between the planned or built environment and the occurrence of mental ill health It begins by providing a broad overview of what is known about the causes of psychopathic behaviour It then goes on to discuss the issues that arise when attempting to identify the impact of the environment as a source of stress the effects that the environment can have on the quality of relationships between people and the relationship between symbolic aspects of the environment the planning process and mental health The book uses analysis and case studies drawn from the UK and US and contains example illustrations of the built environment Women Attached Jacqueline Tivers,2024-11-20

Originally published in 1985 Women Attached was one of the first empirical studies in geography to deal with the special problems of women with young children Even within sociology and psychology there were very few studies in this area at the time Within geography the study of this population sub group was certainly a new departure However it was impossible to make meaningful sense of the structure of daily lives and activities of women without taking in to account the nature and impact of constraints on such activities Young children being the most clearly visible constraint in women s lives Therefore one aim of the research project was to relate empirical findings to the existing social science literature dealing with constraints on activities This book was an attempt to redress the balance slightly in favour of women s activities and specifically focuses on a group of women who had only rarely been the subject of research interest at the time Today it can read in its historical context
