Power Of The Mothers Imagination Over:

Imagining Monsters Dennis Todd,1995-11 In 1726 an illiterate woman from Surrey named Mary Toft announced that she had given birth to 17 rabbits This study recreates the story of this incident and shows how it illuminates 18th century beliefs about the power of imagination and the problems of personal identity

Surgery, Skin and Syphilis Philip K. Wilson,2016-08-22 Daniel Turner s prolific writings provide valuable insight into the practice of a commonplace Enlightenment London surgeon Examining his personal professional and genteel achievements Enhances our understanding of the boundary between surgeons and physicians in Enlightenment marketplace practice Turner s pioneering writing on skin disease De Morbis Cutaneis emphasizes the skin s role as a physical and professional boundary between university educated physicians who treated internal disease and apprentice trained surgeons relegated to the care of external disorders Turner s career long crusade against quackery and his voluminous writings on syphilis a common surgical disorder provide a refined view into distinction between orthodox and quack practices in eighteenth century London

The Imposteress Rabbit Breeder Karen Harvey,2020-01-10 In October 1726 newspapers began reporting a remarkable event In the town of Godalming in Surrey a woman called Mary Toft had started to give birth to rabbits Several leading doctors some sent directly by King George I travelled to examine the woman and she was moved to London to be closer to them By December she had been accused of fraud and taken into custody Mary Toft s unusual deliveries caused a media sensation Her rabbit births were a test case for doctors trying to further their knowledge about the processes of reproduction and pregnancy The rabbit births prompted not just public curiosity and scientific investigation but also a vicious backlash Based on extensive new archival research this book is the first in depth re telling of this extraordinary story Karen Harvey situates the rabbit births within the troubled community of Godalming and the women who remained close to Mary Toft as the case unfolded exploring the motivations of the medics who examined her considering why the case attracted the attention of the King and powerful men in government and following the case through the criminal justice system The case of Mary Toft exposes huge social and cultural changes in English history Against the backdrop of an incendiary political culture it was a time when traditional social hierarchies were shaken relationships between men and women were redrawn print culture acquired a new vibrancy and irreverence and knowledge of the body was remade But Mary Toft s story is not just a story about the past In reconstructing Mary s physical social and mental world The Imposteress Rabbit Breeder allows us to reflect critically on our own ideas about pregnancy reproduction and the body through the lens of the past

Monstrous Imagination Marie-Hélène Huet,1993 What woeful maternal fancy produced such a monster This was once the question asked when a deformed infant was born From classical antiquity through to the Enlightenment the monstrous child bore witness to the fearsome power of the mother s imagination What such a notion meant and how it reappeared transformed in the Romantic period are the questions explored in this book a study of theories linking imagination art and monstrous progeny

Further Contributions to the Study of the Effects of Lumbar Lesions Louisa Burns, 1917

Portrait Stories Michal Peled Ginsburg, 2014-12-15 What makes stories about portraits so gripping and unsettling Portrait Stories argues that it is the ways they problematize the relation between subjectivity and representation Through close readings of short stories and novellas by Poe James Hoffmann Gautier Nerval Balzac Kleist Hardy Wilde Storm Sand and Gogol the author shows how the subjectivities of sitter painter and viewer are produced in relation to representations shaped by particular interests and power relations often determined by gender as well as by class She focuses on the power that can accrue to the painter from the act of representation often at the expense of the portrait s subject while also exploring how and why this act may threaten the portrait painter s sense of self Analyzing the viewer s relation to the portrait she demonstrates how portrait stories problematize the very act of seeing and with it the way subjectivity is constructed in the field of vision

Enlightenment Borders George Sebastian Rousseau, 1991

The Book of Skin Steven Connor, 2009-01-15 It is the largest and perhaps the most important organ of our body it covers our fragile inner parts defines our social identities and channels our sensory experiences And yet we rarely give a thought With The Book of Skin Steven Connor aims to change all that offering an intriguing cultural history of skin Connor first examines physical issues such as leprosy skin pigmentation cancer blushing and attenuations of erotic touch He also explains why specific colors symbolize certain emotions such as green for envy or yellow for cowardice as well as why skin is the focus of destructive rage in many people's violent fantasies The Book of Skin then probes into how skin has been such a powerfully symbolic terrain in photography religious iconography cinema and literature From the Turin shroud to Ralph Ellison's Invisible Man to plastic surgery The Book of Skin expertly examines the role of skin in Western culture A compelling read that penetrates well beyond skin deep The Book of Skin validates James Joyce's declaration that modern man has an epidermis rather than a soul Richly conceived and elaborately thought out No flicker of meaning has escaped Connor's ferocious all-seeing eye Guardian

A Collection of Several Philosophical Writings of Dr. Henry More ... Henry More, 1712 The Immortality of the Soul, So Farre Forth as it is Demonstrable from the Knowledge of Nature and the Light of Reason Henry More, 1659

Sterne, Tristram, Yorick Melvyn New, Peter de Voogd, Judith Hawley, 2015-11-12 Sterne Tristram Yorick Tercentenary Essays on Laurence Sterne derives from the Laurence Sterne Tercentenary Conference held at Royal Holloway University of London on July 8-11 2013 It was attended by some eighty scholars from fourteen countries the conference heard more than sixty papers The organizers invited participants to submit revised versions of their contributions for this volume and the thirteen selected exhibit it is hoped the defining features both of the conference and of Sterne studies at the beginning of the twenty-first century It is worth remarking that the selected authors represent seven countries that Sterne may well be the most internationally accepted of all eighteenth-century English authors is certainly a claim worthy of a sentimental traveler This collection recognizes three faces of Sterne beginning with several biographical essays examining respectively his celebrity status family life politics and philosophy The second face is that of Tristram studied from vantage points provided by ethics linguistics gender studies and comparative literature The final group of essays examines the face of Yorick as the protagonist of A Sentimental Journey beginning with an ethnographic study of relationships moving through questions of identity and concluding with the possible future of literary studies a return to aesthetics

Mulliken and Young's Vascular Anomalies John B. Mulliken, Patricia E. Burrows, Steven J. Fishman, 2013-07 Based on the key concept that vascular anomalies can be classified separately as tumours or malformations this comprehensive and interdisciplinary volume furthers the understanding of the biological and behavioural differences of cutaneous vascular lesions

The Manly Masquerade Valeria Finucci, 2003-03-19 Analyzes how the body was constructed and politicized in early modern Italy by exploring literary discourses of the period plays novellas travel journals poems etc

Coleridge on Dreaming Jennifer Ford, 1998 This book is the first in-depth investigation of Coleridge's responses to his dreams and to contemporary debates on the nature of dreaming a subject of perennial interest to poets philosophers and scientists throughout the Romantic period Coleridge wrote and read extensively on the subject but his richly diverse and original ideas have hitherto received little attention scattered as they are throughout his notebooks letters and marginalia Jennifer Ford's emphasis is on analysing the ways in which dreaming processes were construed by Coleridge in his dream readings and by his contemporaries in a range of poetic and medical works This historical exploration of dreams and dreaming allows Ford to explore previously neglected contemporary debates on the medical imagination By avoiding purely biographical or psychoanalytic approaches she reveals instead a rich historical context for the ways in which the most mysterious workings of the Romantic imagination were explored and understood

The Transmission of Life George Henry Napheys, 1887 Imagining Motherhood in Contemporary Irish and Caribbean Literature Abigail L. Palko, 2016-07-25

Imagining Motherhood in Contemporary Irish and Caribbean Literature undertakes a comparative transnational reading to develop more expansive literary models of good mothering Abigail L Palko argues that Irish and Caribbean literary representations of non normative mothering practices do not reflect transgressive or dangerous mothering but are rather cultural negotiations of the definition of a good mother This original book demonstrates the sustained commitment to countering the dominant ideologies of maternal self sacrifice foundational to both Irish and Caribbean nationalist rhetoric offering instead the possibility of integrating maternal agency into an effective model of female citizenship
