Reclaim The Earth Women Speak Out For Life On Earth:

Reclaim the Earth Stephanie Leland, 1983      Environmental Concepts, Policies, and Strategies John Rose, 1991 This compilation of 20 papers published in the International journal of environmental studies in the last three years shows results obtained from surveys into the economic social and political background of environmental decisions and planning These results encompass a wide range of topics relevant to the study of the environment The main areas under discussion are politics control strategies determinism rural planning and styles of environmental and agricultural strategies Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR      The Gendered New World Order Jennifer Turpin, Lois Ann Lorentzen, 2013-10-31 Ecological security seems increasingly precarious and battles over land and models of economic development now lead to military conflicts The Gendered New World Order addresses the compelling issue of how gender connects the global problems of militarism underdevelopment and environmental decay Scholars from around the world make connections between seemingly disparate issues such as refugees polluted waters bombed vilages massive dam projects starving children deforestation nuclear arms buildup and the rights of women      Woman, who owns you-? Sathupati Prasanna Sree, 2008 Papers presented at the International Seminar on Psycho Dynamics of Women in the Postmodern Literature of the East and West held at Visakhapatnam during 25 26 February 2006      Earth Follies Joni Seager, 2019-03-21 First published in 1993 The question of agency is essential to our understanding of environmental problems who is responsible and why Threats such as ozone depletion global warming and overconsumption are all precipitated by the powerful institutions which shape modern life institutions which are overwhelmingly controlled by men and dominated by masculine presumptions Joni Seager argues that the gender bias inherent in western culture is inextricably linked to our environmental crisis She analyses the traditional institutes of power governments the military and transnational corporations and also takes a critical look at the equally patriarchal environmental establishment comparing the work of the official environmental movement grounded in masculine thought with the smaller scale direct actions taken by women driven to protect their homes and communities Earth Follies represents an incisive and utterly convincing feminist critique of our environmental crises and offers radical and productive priorities for the environmental agenda      Made From This Earth Vera Norwood, 2014-07-01 The broad sweep of environmental and ecological history has until now been written and understood in predominantly male terms In Made From This Earth Vera Norwood explores the relationship of women to the natural environment through the work of writers illustrators landscape and garden designers ornithologists botanists biologists and conservationists Norwood begins by showing that the study and promotion of botany was an activity deemed appropriate for women in the early 1800s After highlighting the work of nineteenth century scientific illustrators and garden designers she focuses on nature s advocates such as Rachel Carson and Dian Fossey who differed strongly with men on both women s nature and the value of the natural world These women challenged the dominant male controlled ideologies often framing their critique with reference to values arising from the female experience Norwood concludes with an analysis of the utopian solutions posed by ecofeminists the most recent group of women to contest men over the meaning and value of nature

Ecological Politics Greta Gaard,1998 An illuminating account of two interconnected social movements from their grassroots origins in the 1970s to the 1996 Green presidential campaign

Feminism And Philosophy Nancy Tuana,Rosemarie Putnam Tong,2018-02-06 The past twenty years have seen an explosion of work by feminist philosophers and several surveys of this work have documented the richness of the many different ways of doing feminist philosophy But this major new anthology is the first broad and inclusive selection of the most important work in this field There are many unanswered questions about the future of feminist philosophy Which of the many varieties of feminist philosophy will last and which will fade away What kinds of accommodations will be possible with mainstream non feminist philosophy Which will separate themselves and flourish on their own To what extent will feminists change the topics philosophers address To what extent will they change the very way in which philosophy is done However these questions are answered it is clear that feminist philosophy is having and will continue to have a major impact on the discipline of philosophy This volume is the first to allow the scholar the student and other interested readers to sample this diverse literature and to ponder these questions for themselves Organized around nine traditional types of feminist philosophy

Feminism and Philosophy is an imaginatively edited volume that will stimulate readers to explore many new pathways of understanding It marks a defining moment in feminist philosophy and it will be an essential text for philosophers and for feminist theorists in many other fields

The Routledge Handbook of Environmental Justice Ryan Holifield,Jayajit Chakraborty,Gordon Walker,2017-09-14 The Routledge Handbook of Environmental Justice presents an extensive and cutting edge introduction to the diverse rapidly growing body of research on pressing issues of environmental justice and injustice With wide ranging discussion of current debates controversies and questions in the history theory and methods of environmental justice research contributed by over 90 leading social scientists natural scientists humanists and scholars from professional disciplines from six continents it is an essential resource both for newcomers to this research and for experienced scholars and practitioners The chapters of this volume examine the roots of environmental justice activism lay out and assess key theories and approaches and consider the many different substantive issues that have been the subject of activism empirical research and policy development throughout the world The Handbook features critical reviews of quantitative qualitative and mixed methodological approaches and explicitly addresses interdisciplinarity transdisciplinarity and engaged research Instead of adopting a narrow regional focus it tackles substantive issues and presents perspectives from political and cultural systems across the world as well as addressing activism for environmental justice at the global scale Its chapters do not simply review the state of the art but also propose new conceptual frameworks and directions for research policy and practice Providing detailed but accessible overviews of the complex varied dimensions of environmental justice and injustice the Handbook is an essential guide and reference not only for researchers engaged with environmental justice but also for undergraduate and graduate teaching and for policymakers and activists

Nature Ethics Marti Kheel, 2008 In Nature Ethics An Ecofeminist Perspective Marti Kheel explores the underlying worldview of nature ethics offering an alternative ecofeminist approach Seeking to heal the divisions between the seemingly disparate movements and philosophies of feminism animal advocacy environmental ethics and holistic health Kheel proposes an ecofeminist philosophy that underscores the importance of empathy and care for individual beings as well as larger wholes

Land and Water Education and the Allodial Principle Zane Ma Rhea, 2018-01-15 This book argues that the ancient allodial principle enables a paradigmatic shift in the way specialist educators in environmental Indigenous and legal studies teacher educators and teachers think about land and water education Land and water are basic to human life and students will need to grapple with matters of sustainability and Indigenous entitlement in their future work People now living in lands and on waterways that have been colonized such as Australia are taught to regard land and water in ways that have been fundamentally shaped by English law This book introduces ancient as well as more contemporary forms of land and water access and examines the underlying ontological and epistemological enframements that shape the way that land and water are understood and taught As peoples of the world grapple with environmental sustainability and Indigenous rights the author provides a pivotal rejection of the entitlement to abuse The book also reasons that educators should employ alod pedagogy to develop their approach to working out difficult matters to do with balancing the rights and responsibilities of nations regions corporations communal and individual owners in the access to use of and transferability of land and waterways

Ecofeminism Greta Gaard, 2010-09-03 Feminist scholars and activists explore the relationships among humans animals and the natural environment

Neither Man nor Beast Carol J. Adams, 2018-01-25 In this landmark work of animal rights activism Carol J Adams the bestselling author of The Sexual Politics of Meat explores the intersections and common causes of feminism and the defense of animals Neither Man Nor Beast explores the common link between cultural attitudes to women and animals in modern Western culture that have enabled the systematic exploitation of both A vivid work that takes in environmental ethics theological perspectives and feminist theory the Bloomsbury Revelations edition includes a new foreword by the author and new images illustrating the continuing relevance of the book today

Philosophy Human Life and Society Sanchita Bora, 2018-01-01 This book is a compilation of articles related to three broad spheres We may consider Philosophy Human Life and Society as a triangle Perceptible thing is that different concepts and issues related to these three involve value perspectives The constitution of human nature and his mental faculties thinking feeling and willing make him competent to choose how best he can live The reflective capacity he is endowed with enables him to distinguish the right from the wrong But his freedom and creativity get ample manifestation within society only At the same time his crowning intelligence and imagination will flourish if it is guided by a healthy philosophical outlook

Conservation and Environmentalism Robert

C. Paehlke, 2013-04-03 Focusing on both problems and solutions this authoritative reference work maintains a healthy balance between science and the social sciences in its coverage of all aspects of the environment The book is arranged alphabetically and is divided into three major sections Ecology Pollution and Sustainability The list of 240 contributors reads like a who's who of the world's leading conservation and environmental professionals Best Reference Source Outstanding Reference Source     Pluralistic Approaches to Art Criticism Douglas Emerson Blandy, Kristin G. Congdon, 1991 Contributors to this anthology analyze the contemporary academic methods for critiquing art and suggest new ways that might further our understandings of art created by myriad individuals and groups The essays give readers further insight into a diverse range of artistic creators often overlooked in art world studies     New Blood Chris Bobel, 2010 Chris Bobel is a careful ethnographer respectful of research participants and while she clearly takes a stand on menstrual activism she handily defends her proposition that feminism is finding its balance between reliving its past and creating its future Bobel's work which includes incisive analysis of how third wave activists incorporate and update tactics and strategies of the second wave will be a welcome addition to the scholarship of feminism Elizabeth Kissling author of Capitalizing on the Curse The Business of Menstruation     The Routledge Companion to Gender and Animals Chloë Taylor, 2024-05-31 The Routledge Companion to Gender and Animals is a diverse and intersectional collection which examines human and more than human animal relations as well as the interconnectedness of human and animal oppressions through various lenses Comprising fifty chapters the book explores a range of debates and scholarship within important contemporary topics such as companion animals hunting agriculture and animal activist strategies It also offers timely analyses of zoonotic disease pandemics mass extinction and the climate catastrophe using perspectives including feminist critical race anti colonial critical disability and masculinities studies The Routledge Companion to Gender and Animals is an essential reference for students in gender studies sexuality studies human animal studies cultural studies sociology and environmental studies     Environmental Ethics and Forestry Peter C. List, 2000 During the past twenty five years North American forestry has received increasingly vigorous scrutiny Critics including the environmentalists environmental scientists representatives of public interest groups and many individual citizens have expressed concerns about forestry's basic assumptions and methods as well as its practical outcomes Criticism has centered on such issues as the exploitation of forests for timber production the reduction and fragmentation of old growth habitats the destruction of biodiversity the degradation of grasslands through grazing practices lack of government attention to recreation facilities silvicultural methods like clearcutting and the use of herbicides and pesticides the exportation of industrial forestry techniques to other parts of the world and the use of public monies to provide services for private resource companies as in the creation of logging roads This rising tide of public scrutiny has led many foresters to suspect that their contract with society to manage forests using their best professional judgment had been undermined Some of these professionals as well as some of their critics have begun to reexamine their old beliefs and to look for new ways of practicing forestry Part of this reflective process has entailed new directions in environmental ethics and environmental philosophy This reader brings together some of the new thinking in this area Here students of the applied environmental and natural resource sciences as well as the interested general reader will discover a rich sampling of writings in environmental ethics and philosophy as they apply to forestry Readings focus on basic ethical systems in forestry and forest management philosophical issues in forestry ethics codes of ethics in forestry and related natural resource sciences such as fisheries science and wildlife biology Aldo Leopold s land ethic in forestry ethical advocacy and whistleblowing in government resource agencies the ethics of new forestry ecoforestry and public debate in forestry as well as ethical issues in global forestry such as the responsibilities of forest corporations environmentalists and individual wood consumers This volume contains materials from the founders of forestry ethics such as Bernhard Fernow Gifford Pinchot John Muir and Aldo Leopold from such organizations as the Society of American Foresters the Wildlife Society the American Fisheries Society Forest Service Employees for Environmental Ethics and the Ecoforesters group in addition to writings by a variety of well known environmental philosophers and foresters including Holmes Rolston Robin Attfield Lawrence Johnson Michael McDonald Paul Wood James E Coufal Raymond Craig Kristin Shrader Frechette Jeff DeBonis Jim L Bowyer Alasdair Gunn Goug Gaigle Alan G McQuillan Stephanie Kaza Alan Dregson Duncan Taylor and Kathleen Dean Moore Author note Peter C List is Professor of Philosophy at Oregon State University where he teaches courses on environmental ethics ethical issues in the natural resource sciences and sustainable forestry He is the author of articles on Aldo Leopold s land ethic and co author of several articles on public attitudes about federal forests and forest management published in the Journal of Forestry and Society and Natural Resources

Ecosocialism Salvatore Engel-Di Mauro, 2024-11-30 This book offers an extensive critical overview of eco socialism one of the most generative and significant aspects of contemporary debates within socialism Marxism has played a foundational role in the development of ecosocialism since its inception and has also led to critical reflections on the 20th century Marxism and ecological interpretation of Marxist writings Despite the relevance of ecosocialism to the pressing debates on the ecological crisis and the growing literature on ecosocialism there has not been a comprehensive account on ecosocialism and its variations This volume seeks to fill this important gap and to pave the way for a more systematic development of this emerging paradigm The book not only engages with a critique of other non socialist ecological schools of thought in defence of ecosocialism but also provides a critical overview of debates within ecosocialism and of ecosocialism itself The latter includes an appraisal of ecosocialism in Bolivarian Venezuela and the implications of current efforts in the People s Republic of China to build an ecological civilisation Furthermore the book contains a crucial discussion about the relation between eco socialism and indigenous studies and movements
