Reclaimed Land Hong Kong In Transition:

Reclaimed Land David Clarke, 2002-10-01 Between the end of 1994 and the beginning of 2000 the last five years of the previous millenium David Clarke took at least one black and white photo every day as he created a unique photo diary Drawing on this extensive visual archive Reclaimed Land Hong Kong in Transition offers a personal and critical perspective on the life of one of the world s most vibrant cities during a time of great change and self questioning This innovatively conceived book presents an analysis in deeply considered words and imaginative images of five years of Hong Kong s history whose exact mid point midnight on 30 June 1997 saw the end of British colonial rule and the establishment of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People s Republic of China Instead of focussing on the much documented ceremonial events surrounding the handover itself however Reclaimed Land examines a longer term process of physical and cultural transformation of which the events of mid 1997 were but one part This is an extraordinary and original way of telling the story of those years and of examining the forces and phenomena behind that story It can be enjoyed for its photography considered as an excitingly different way of recording history and read as a profound reflection on a city foreseeing and then experiencing an historical transformation

City Between Worlds Leo Ou-fan Lee, 2010-05-01 Hong Kong is perched on the fault line between China and the West a Special Administrative Region of the PRC Leo Ou fan Lee offers an insider s view of Hong Kong capturing the history and culture that make his densely packed home city so different from its generic neighbors The search for an indigenous Hong Kong takes Lee to the wet markets and corner bookshops of congested Mong Kok remote fishing villages and mountainside temples teahouses and noodle stalls Cantonese opera and Cantopop But he also finds the real Hong Kong in a maze of interconnected shopping malls a jungle of high rise residential towers and the neon glow of Chinese owned skyscrapers in the Central Business District where land development global trade capital accumulation consumerism and free market competition trump every value except family Lee illuminates the relationship between Hong Kong s geography and its colonial experience revisiting colonial life on the secluded Peak in the opium filled godowns along the harborfront and in crowded plague infested tenements He examines with a critic s eye the Hong Kong story in film and fiction romance in the bars and brothels of Wan Chai crime in the walled city of Kowloon ennui on the eve of the 1997 handover Whether viewed from Tsing Yi Bridge or the deck of the Star Ferry from Victoria Peak or Lion Rock Hong Kong sparkles here in all its multifaceted complexity a city forever between worlds

Cultural Architecture and Late-Colonial Space Melody Hoi-lam Yiu, 2025-06-17 This book offers the first in depth study of three major Hong Kong public cultural architecture works Tsuen Wan Town Hall Shatin Town Hall and the Hong Kong Cultural Centre HKCC built in the late colonial years Recent developments at the West Kowloon Cultural District WKCD have attracted global attention to Hong Kong s cultural scene with iconic projects designed by world renowned architects However relatively little has been written about the common type municipal cultural buildings Conceived and constructed over the last decades of British colonial rule these public buildings are sometimes regarded with lower aesthetic value and neglected in the architectural discourse Yet they are evidence of the cultural and urban policy during a critical time in Hong Kong as it transitioned from a colonial territory to currently a semi autonomous city The book provides a detailed chronology of the development of municipal cultural buildings in Hong Kong by compiling textual and graphic data from archival documents and government records some of which have not been previously accessible to readers accompanied by newly produced analytical diagrams and drawings This history intersects with key moments during the late colonial period in Hong Kong presenting a particular perspective related to the social context in its dealings with cultural architecture and spatial practices This book is a timely reflection of cultural and spatial production calling for alternative projections about Hong Kong s future urban and cultural development It will be of interest to researchers and students of architectural design urban planning and cultural policy studies in Hong Kong and the East Asia region Walking Macao, Reading the Baroque Jeremy Tambling, Louis Lo, 2009-01-01 This volume brings to the reader the art and architecture of Macao and the baroque treasures that make the territory so attractive As the authors consider the special nature of Macao s baroque they discuss whether its Chinese architecture are also baroque and what is the importance of the new casino architecture Cities in Transition Rita Schneider-Sliwa, 2006-01-23 This book was written with the aim of showing that even in the era of globalization developments appearing in cities are not subject to almost unconditional global forces Rather universal forces are decisive eventualities in the process of urban restructuring often influencing its course and speed yet developments and particularities within a city strongly influence the course of events and the extent to which negative characteristics of globalization might occur Berlin Brussels Hanoi Ho Chi Minh City Hong Kong Jerusalem Johannesburg Moscow St Petersburg Sarajevo and Vienna Using these important cities the special relationship between global and local regional forces is analyzed The case studies were selected based on their political and cultural context and the fact that their social and political fabric was subject to major changes in the recent past How global processes manifest themselves locally depends to a great extent on how development processes and endogenic potentials are initiated locally in order to cope with the new global economic and societal conditions Globalization and Contemporary Art Jonathan Harris, 2011-03-31 In a series of newly commissioned essays by both established and emerging scholars Globalization and Contemporary Art probes the effects of internationalist culture and politics on art across a variety of media Globalization and Contemporary Art is the first anthology to consider the role and impact of art and artist in an increasingly borderless world First major anthology of essays concerned with the impact of globalization on contemporary art Extensive bibliography and a full index designed to enable the reader to broaden knowledge of art and its relationship to globalization Unique analysis of the contemporary art market and its operation in a globalized economy Chinese Ecocinema Sheldon H. Lu, Jiayan Mi, 2009-12-01 This anthology is a book length study of China s ecosystem through the lens of cinema Proposing ecocinema as a new critical framework the volume collectively investigates a wide range of urgent topics in today's world City Voices Michael Ingham, Xu Xi, 2003-03-01 City Voices is the first showcase of postwar Hong Kong literature originating in English Fiction poetry essays and memoirs from more than 70 authors are featured to demonstrate the rich variety and vitality of the city's literary production Together with work from established authors both bilingual writers who choose to write in English and expatriate authors who have made Hong Kong their home a section of New Voices introduces the work of unknown and young writers who are part of today's surge of new creativity Asia's Innovation Systems in Transition Jan Vang, 2006-01-01 The success of Asian economies first Japan then Taiwan South Korea Singapore Hong Kong and more recently China and India has made it tempting to look for an Asian model of development However the strength of Asian development lies less in strategies that reproduce successful national systems of innovation and more in the capacity for institutional change to open up new development trajectories with greater emphasis on knowledge and learning The select group of contributors demonstrate that although there are important differences among Asian countries in terms of institutional set Stewardship Economy 2: Valuing land and managing transition Julian Pratt, Valuing land and managing transition sets out in some detail how to establish the market rent of land and how to make the transition from an ownership to a stewardship economy It also considers how the revenue from stewardship fees might be distributed HONG KONG x 24 x 365 David Clarke, 2006-12-01 This in between phase without major dramas where history was only with a small h is the subject of this locally orientated micro historical analysis of one of the world's great cities which had so lost self confidence in this period that it started promoting itself as Asia's World City but which might yet prove to be a city that changes China and therefore the world Specifying this time through a collection of colour photographs taken during a randomly chosen twelve month period David Clarke presents a year in the life of the city in which he has lived for the last two decades An antidote to the tourist picture postcard view of Hong Kong which is so often propagated to locals and visitors alike these images and their accompanying text are produced from a proximity which enables both a critical engagement with the city and a celebration of its uniqueness Personal in its perspective this extended photo essay invites you to join a fabricated journey through the real space of Hong Kong looking awry at scenes too often photographed before and looking anew at scenes too often overlooked Cities around the World Jing Luo, 2019-07-10 This two volume set offers a comprehensive overview of major challenges faced by cities worldwide in the 21st century and how cities in different geographic economic and political conditions are finding solutions to them This two volume encyclopedia examines ten critical issues that face cities across the globe today environmental and societal struggles that affect the daily lives of city dwellers Readers will gain a better understanding of our global neighbors and will be able to use this book in order to compare and contrast different approaches to critical issues in our world Volume One examines employment and jobs energy and sustainability green spaces housing and infrastructure and migration and demographic changes Volume Two discusses pollution schools traffic and transportation violence corruption and organized crime and waste management Each issue begins with an introduction providing an overview of the issue from a global perspective Following the introduction are ten alphabetically arranged world city profiles of cities that are struggling with the issue and cities that have found innovative solutions to deal with the crisis The profiles explain how the problem came to be consequences inhabitants face such as compromised health limited access to education and high taxes with low wages and failed and successful initiatives taken by city management

Maritime China in Transition 1750-1850 Gungwu Wang, Chin-Keong Ng, 2004 This collection contains an introductory essay by Wang Gungwu and 22 studies originally read to an international conference organized by the Department of History National University of Singapore The contributions investigate diverse aspects of coastal Chinas commercial demographic and other ties with the Nanyang region and other maritime areas such as Japan mainly in the period circa 1750 1850 This includes themes related to the microlevel of local changes such as Chinese migration to Taiwan and various Southeast Asian destinations as well as broader approaches to regional institutional and other trends combining philological and theoretical knowledge In most cases both Asian and colonial sources were used to illustrate the dynamics of Chinas maritime orientation under the Qing the growth of its overseas communities and the impact of Chinese traders and sojourners on Europes outposts in the Malay world and around the South China Sea

China—Art—Modernity David Clarke, 2019-01-22 China Art Modernity provides a critical introduction to modern and contemporary Chinese art as a whole It illuminates what is distinctive and significant about the rich range of art created during the tumultuous period of Chinese history from the end of Imperial rule to the present day The story of Chinese art in the twentieth and twenty first centuries is shown to be deeply intertwined with that of the country s broader socio political development with art serving both as a tool for the creation of a new national culture and as a means for critiquing the forms that culture has taken The book s approach is inclusive In addition to treating art within the Chinese Mainland itself during the Republican and Communist eras for instance it also looks at the art of colonial Hong Kong Taiwan and the Chinese diaspora Similarly it gives equal prominence to artists employing tools and idioms of indigenous Chinese origin and those who engage with international styles and contemporary media In this way it writes China into the global story of modern art as a whole at a moment in intellectual history when Western centred stories of modern and contemporary culture are finally being recognized as parochial and inadequate Assuming no previous background knowledge of Chinese history and culture this concise yet comprehensive and richly illustrated book will appeal to those who already have an established interest in modern Chinese art and those for whom this is a novel topic It will be of particular value to students of Chinese art or modern art in general but it is also for those in the wider reading public with a curiosity about modern China At a time when that country has become a major actor on the world stage in all sorts of ways accessible sources of information concerning its modern visual culture are nevertheless surprisingly scarce As a consequence a fully nuanced picture of China s place in the modern world remains elusive China Art Modernity is a timely remedy for that situation Here is a book that offers a comprehensive account of the dizzying transformations of Chinese art and society in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Breaking free of conventional dichotomies between traditional and modern Chinese and Western that have hobbled earlier studies Clarke s highly original book is exactly what I would assign my own students Anyone eager to understand developments in China within the global history of modern art should read this book Robert E Harrist Jr Columbia University Clarke s book presents a critically astute mapping of the arts of modern and contemporary China It highlights the significance of urban and industrial contexts migration diasporas and the margins of the mainland while imaginatively seeking to inscribe its subject into the broader story of modern art A timely and reliable intervention and indispensable for the student and non specialist reader Shane McCausland SOAS University of London The Political Economy of Rural Livelihoods in Transition Economies Max Spoor, 2008-09-26 Rural poverty is a phenomenon that is widespread yet often ignored by policy makers and researchers This edited volume looks critically at rural poverty in Central Eastern Europe Russia the Caucasus and Central Asia China and Vietnam in relation to land reform farm restructuring and the development of rural markets and in the context of a large gap between rural and urban incomes and deteriorating rural social services and infrastructure Although in most countries rural poverty has been decreasing in the past few years economic growth in rural areas is slow and rural incomes are not catching up with the rapid overall growth rates of these transition economies In general the livelihoods of rural dwellers remain relatively poor Next to comparative studies the chapters in this book explore various aspects of agrarian reform and analyze the interlocking or interlinking land input and output markets that are crucial for rural development that have often remained weakly developed in transition economies including case studies from Russia Moldova Uzbekistan Armenia Vietnam and China and a wealth of detailed analysis These chapters reflect the striking differences between transition countries in their processes of rural reform and development of rural poverty These differences are generally dependent on the initial conditions at the eve of transition the policies implemented the sequencing of reforms and the importance that was given to the sector in the overall development strategy such as can be seen if the Asian transition economies ATEs are compared with many of those in Eastern Europe
