The Gülen Movement Gürkan Çelik, 2010 The existence of social conflicts and the lack of social cohesion are at the center of public debates in many societies In recent years these issues have often been linked to Muslims and their religious beliefs The Islamic response to these allegations and the social problems evoking them has been diverse this book concerns the reply of a transnational movement of volunteers inspired by the teachings of Fethullah Gülen a Turkish Muslim scholar This study represents an attempt to incorporate the Gülen Movement also called the Volunteers Movement into a social movement theory approach In pluralist societies there are different communication structures and different ways of conflict resolution The Gülen Movement proposes and practices dialogue and education as two means to establish peace by maintaining social cohesion and mending the social cleavages dividing Muslims and non Muslims It is not only Gülen's spiritual message that has inspired people to pursue these ideals but also his leadership By focusing on its spiritual intellectual and practical dimension and its social background this book contributes to a comprehensive understanding of one of the most promising contemporary social movements Publisher's description back cover Ritual and Symbol in Peacebuilding Lisa Schirch, 2005 Serves as a guide to using ritual acts in peacebuilding efforts Abundant with examples of symbolic acts that aided the peace process Conflict is dramatic In theater literature story telling and news reporting it is a powerful mechanism that draws attention heightens the senses and evokes emotion Schirch argues that peacebuilding has the potential to do just the same Examples of peacebuilding often center on the serious rational negotiations and formal problem solving efforts in conflict situations Schirch argues though that what truly bonds adversaries and helps achieve peace are the symbolic non verbal ritual acts shaking hands sharing a meal showing a photograph of a loved one Yet these are often overlooked as deliberate components of peace negotiations Ritual and Symbol in Peacebuilding underscores the importance of incorporating symbolic tools including ritual into traditional approaches to conflict Ritual assists in solving complex deep rooted conflicts and helps to confirm and transform worldviews identities and relationships With theories and language to explain the symbolic dimensions of conflict this text will be useful to scholars and practitioners active in the diverse field of peacebuilding

Handbook of Research on the Impact of Culture in Conflict Prevention and Peacebuilding Essien, Essien, 2020-03-20 The contemporary conflict scenarios are beyond the reach of standardized approaches to conflict resolution Given the curious datum that culture is implicated in nearly every conflict in the world culture can also be an important aspect of efforts to transform destructive conflicts into more constructive social processes Yet what culture is and how culture matters in conflict scenarios is contested and regrettably unexplored The Handbook of Research on the Impact of Culture in Conflict Prevention and Peacebuilding is a critical publication that examines cultural differences in conflict resolution based on various aspects of culture such as morals traditions and laws Highlighting a wide range of topics such as criminal justice politics and technological development this book is essential for educators social scientists sociologists political leaders government officials academicians conflict resolution practitioners world peace organizations researchers and students Rethinking Reconciliation and Transitional Justice After Conflict James Hughes, Denisa Kostovicova, 2020-04-24 The concepts of reconciliation and transitional justice are inextricably linked in a new body of normative meta theory underpinned by claims related to their effects in managing the transformation of deeply divided societies to a more stable and more democratic basis This edited volume is dedicated to a critical re examination of the key premises on which the debates in this field pivot The contributions problematise core concepts such as victimhood accountability justice and reconciliation itself and provide a comparative perspective on the ethnic ideological racial and structural divisions to understand their rootedness in local contexts and to evaluate how they shape and constrain moving beyond conflict With its systematic empirical analysis of a geographic and historic range of conflicts involving ethnic and racial groups the volume furthers our grasp of contradictions often involved in transitional justice scholarship and practice and how they may undermine the very goals of peace stability and reconciliation that they seek to promote This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial

Studies Security, Reconstruction, and Reconciliation Muna Ndulo, 2007-01-24 This key text brings together a team of leading contributors to address the complex issues of security reconciliation and reconstruction in post conflict societies Security Reconstruction and Reconciliation is organized into four main sections the social political and economic dimensions of conflict the impact of conflict on women and children reconstruction and past human rights violations disarmament demobilization reintegration post war reconstruction and the building of a capable state and the role of the international community in the peace process The chapters offer a detailed and succinct exposition of the challenges facing post conflict societies by articulating the vision of a new society With a foreword by Francis Deng the UN Secretary General s Special Representative on Internally Displaced Persons the authors discuss the issues in the context of possible solutions and lessons learnt in the field This new book is a valuable resource for researchers policy makers and students in the fields of conflict resolution security studies law and development

The Lived Experience of Forgiveness Steen Halling, 2023-09-18 The Lived Experience of Forgiveness Phenomenological and Psychological Perspectives remedies the absence of systematic research on the experience of forgiveness by bringing together the work of five psychologists one philosopher and one theologian The contributors have researched various aspects of forgiveness through interviews and field work allowing for a clarification of this topic and providing a basis for evaluating the often contradictory assertions of the existing literature Edited by Steen Halling this volume demonstrates the value of careful study of human experience by examining forgiveness in its various manifestations within a phenomenological framework that strives to set aside and question presuppositions whether they be religious philosophical or psychological and look at phenomena with fresh eyes This approach enables a more creative and productive dialogue among the disciplines of psychology theology and philosophy with experience as a common reference point and thereby leads to a deeper understanding of the phenomenon of forgiveness Competing

Memories Rebekka Friedman, 2017-08-24 The aftermath of modern conflicts deeply rooted in political economic and social structures leaves pervasive and often recurring legacies of violence Addressing past injustice is therefore fundamental not only for societal well being and peace but also for future conflict prevention In recent years truth and reconciliation commissions have become important but contentious mechanisms for conflict resolution and reconciliation This book fills a significant gap examining the importance of context within transitional justice and peace building It lays out long term and often unexpected indirect effects of formal and informal justice processes Offering a novel conceptual understanding of procedural reconciliation on the societal level it features an in depth study of commissions in Peru and Sierra Leone providing a critical analysis of the contribution and challenges facing transitional justice in post conflict societies It will be of interest to scholars and students of comparative politics international relations human rights and conflict studies

Identity, Reconciliation and Transitional Justice Nevin Aiken, 2013-04-15 Building upon an interdisciplinary synthesis of recent literature from the fields of transitional justice and conflict transformation this book introduces a groundbreaking theoretical framework that highlights the critical importance of identity in the relationship between transitional justice and reconciliation in deeply divided societies Using this framework Aiken argues that transitional justice interventions will be successful in promoting reconciliation and sustainable peace to the extent that they can help to catalyze those crucial processes of social learning needed to transform the antagonistic relationships and identifications that divide post conflict societies even after the signing of formal peace agreements Combining original field research and an extensive series of expert interviews Aiken applies this social learning model in a comprehensive examination of both the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission and the uniquely decentralized approach to transitional justice that has emerged in Northern Ireland By offering new insight into the experiences of these countries Aiken provides compelling firsthand evidence to suggest that transitional justice interventions can best contribute to post conflict reconciliation if they not only provide truth and justice for past human rights abuses but also help to promote contact dialogue and the amelioration of structural and material inequalities between former antagonists Identity Reconciliation and Transitional Justice makes a timely contribution to debates about how to best understand and address past human rights violations in post conflict societies and it offers a valuable resource to students scholars practitioners and policymakers dealing with these difficult issues

The Meeting of Civilizations Moshe Ma'oz, 2009-10-07 The horrific acts of anti Western and anti Jewish terrorism carried out by Muslim fanatics during the last decades have been labelled by politicians religious leaders and scholars as a Clash of Civilizations This book states that these acts cannot be considered an Islamic onslaught on Judeo Christian Civilisation

Transitional Justice Theories Susanne Buckley-Zistel, Teresa Koloma Beck, Christian Braun, Friederike Mieth, 2013-10-30 Transitional Justice Theories is the first volume to approach the politically sensitive subject of post conflict or post authoritarian justice from a theoretical perspective It combines contributions from distinguished scholars and practitioners as well as from emerging academics from different disciplines and provides an overview of conceptual approaches to the field The volume seeks to refine our understanding of transitional justice by exploring often unarticulated assumptions that guide discourse and practice To this end it offers a wide selection of approaches from various theoretical traditions ranging from normative theory to critical theory In their individual chapters the authors explore the concept of transitional justice itself and its foundations such as reconciliation memory and truth as well as intersections such as reparations peace building and norm compliance This book will be of particular interest for scholars and students of law peace and conflict studies and human rights studies Even though highly theoretical the chapters provide an easy read for a wide audience including readers not familiar with theoretical investigations

Atone Akanmu G. Adebayo, Sherrill Hayes, Brandon D. Lundy, 2018-02-26 The relationship between religion and conflict has generated considerable academic and political debate Although the majority of religions and spiritual traditions are replete with wisdom that propagates a broader unity among human beings these same examples have been used to legitimize hatred and fear While some studies claim that religion facilitates peacebuilding reconciliation and healing others argue that religion exacerbates hostility instigates vengeance seeking behaviors and heightens conflict But religion does not act by itself human beings are responsible for acts of peace or conflict of division or reconciliation in the name of religion This book addresses these rather complex issues from the perspective of reconciliation or atonement to advance both the frontiers of knowledge and the global search for alternative paths to peace The contributions in the volume focus in three areas 1 Reconciling Religious Conflicts 2 Reconciling Conflict through Religion and 3 Religious Reconciliations In each of these sections scholars practitioners and religious leaders address specific examples that highlight the complex intersections of religious practices with global conflict and reconciliation efforts This informative and provocative book is relevant for students and faculty in peace and conflict studies religious studies humanities social sciences and provides insights useful to practitioners and professionals working in peacebuilding and international development seeking to promote effective resolution and reconciliation efforts
