Reconciliation Through Truth A Reckoning Of Apartheids Criminal Governance:

Reconciliation Through Truth Kader Asmal, Louise Asmal, Ronald Suresh Roberts, 1996 Crime, Truth and Justice George Gilligan, John Pratt, 2013-01-11 This book is concerned to analyse the production of criminological knowledge with particular reference to one of the most important institutions in the western world involved in this the official inquiry The core focus of this book is thus to investigate the structures and processes of official discourse and the ways in which this produces knowledge on crime and justice a much neglected topic in comparison to the attention that has been played to the role of the media in this process The mechanisms that produce official discourse vary according to different jurisdiction but some clear themes nevertheless emerge Traumatic Storytelling and Memory in Post-Apartheid South Africa Christopher J. Colvin, 2018-12-14 This book explores the practice of traumatic storytelling that emerged out of the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission and came to play a key role in the lives of the members of the Khulumani Support Group for victims of apartheid era political violence Group members found traumatic storytelling both frustrating and yet also an important form of memory work that shaped how they saw themselves in the post apartheid era Drawing on ethnographic fieldwork the author examines how traumatic storytelling functioned not only as a kind of psychological healing and national political theatre but also as a potent form of social relation economic exchange political activism and expressive practice With emphasis on the personal social and political significance of the act of traumatic storytelling this volume asks why members of Khulumani despite their many disappointments continued to engage intensively in storying their experiences for themselves and others Examining what powers storytelling held for both group members and their witnesses and considering the ways in which storytelling enabled new senses of self and new understandings of what was possible in the years after the end of apartheid this book considers what we might learn more broadly from the experiences of Khulumani about the possibilities and limits of traumatic memory making as an instrument of personal social and political repair As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology anthropology and criminology with interest in justice and post conflict societies In a Rain of Dust David Kinley, 2025-05-13 An inside story of asbestos death and the fight for justice by thousands of South Africans against a multinational mining corporation intent on denying responsibility For nearly 90 years a British company called Cape used local labor to mine and mill asbestos in South Africa Poor and mostly black men women and children some as young as seven worked every day in clouds of asbestos dust that they carried home to their families caked onto their skin hair and clothes The appalling levels of disease and death in these communities caused by asbestos exposure were heartbreaking In 1995 Richard Meeran a young British lawyer with Indian and African roots driven by his own experiences of racism in England embarked on a David and Goliath battle against the company and its top tier legal team to hold them accountable David Kinley s In a Rain of Dust tells the harrowing story of this international legal drama Facing deep pocketed opponents and a century of established legal precedent Meeran s case before the UK courts seemed hopeless But after nine years of painstaking investigation agonizing setbacks vaudevillian escapades and unlikely champions Meeran prevailed Drawing on dozens of interviews with key players and countless hours poring over thousands of documents across three continents Kinley reveals an epic tale of triumph and justice against all odds He also highlights the profound political implications that victims faced in the newly post Apartheid South Africa where the case was widely seen as a test of racial as well as economic redemption Asbestos mining in South Africa left a legacy of callous neglect suffering and corporate coverups Working conditions in the country s asbestos mines and mills described as a never ending rain of dust persisted for two decades after they had been outlawed in the United Kingdom and the United States Meeran s case against Cape represented a turning point in making corporations pay for their human rights abuses overseas and its impact helped launch the global corporate social responsibility movement that continues today

The Art of Forgiveness Myk Habets, Philip Halstead, 2018-10-31 Forgiveness is at the heart of the Christian Gospel It goes hand in hand with love mercy and grace the fundamental theological virtues However forgiveness is easier to define than it is to embody This unique collection of essays brings together theologians ethicists and ministry practitioners into a constructive dialog which explores the complex and crucial concept of forgiveness what it is where it is to be found and how it might be practiced These essays reflect the perspectives of those from various traditions who nonetheless take the Christian Scriptures seriously believe that forgiveness is central to living out the Gospel and are creative in the ways in which forgiveness can be practiced Forgiveness is an art and not simply a science as such it requires trust skill and hope alongside love mercy and grace if it is to be embodied This volume offers a unique window into the art of forgiveness and the faithful and innovative ways in which it is to be understood embodied and cultivated

After Injury Ashraf H. A. Rushdy, 2018 After Injury explores the practices of forgiveness resentment and apology in three key moments when they were undergoing a dramatic change The three moments are early Christian history for forgiveness the shift from British eighteenth century to Continental nineteenth century philosophers for resentment and the moment in the 1950s postwar world in which British ordinary language philosophers and American sociologists of everyday life theorized what it means to express or perform an apology The debates that arose in those key moments have largely defined our contemporary study of these practices

The Healing of Nations Mark R. Amstutz, 2005 How does one forgive an international political transgression as deep as genocide or apartheid Forgiveness is often conceived of as an element of personal morality and even at that it is difficult This book argues that it is also an essential part of political ethics especially when dealing with collective wrongdoing by political regimes In the past a retributive justice demanding prosecution and punishment of all past offenses has kept the international community away from moving on to the next step in regime change Here Mark R Amstutz takes a restorative justice approach calling for nations to account for crimes through truth commissions public apology and repentance reparations and ultimately forgiveness and the lifting of deserved penalties The distinctive feature of forgiveness is the balance it strikes between backward looking accountability and forward looking reconciliation The Healing of Nations combines a theory of the role of forgiveness in public life with four key case studies that test this ethic Argentina Chile Northern Ireland and South Africa Amstutz uses the hard cases to illustrate the promise and limits of forgiving without forgetting

Peace Psychology in Asia Cristina Jayme

Montiel,Noraini M. Noor,2009-06-04 In recent years peace psychology has grown from a utopian idea to a means of transforming societies worldwide Yet at the same time peacebuilding enjoys global appeal the diversity of nations and regions demands interventions reflecting local cultures and realities Peace Psychology in Asia shows this process in action emphasizing concepts and methods diverging from those common to the US and Europe Using examples from China India Indonesia the Philippines and elsewhere in the region chapter authors illuminate the complex social political and religious conditions that have fostered war colonialism dictatorships and ethnic strife and the equally intricate personal and collective psychologies that need to be developed to encourage reconciliation forgiveness justice and community Peace Psychology in Asia Integrates psychology history political science and local culture into concepts of peace and reconciliation Highlights the indigenous aspects of peace psychology Explains the critical relevance of local culture and history in peace work Blends innovative theoretical material with empirical evidence supporting peace interventions Balances its coverage among local national regional and global contexts Analyzes the potential of Asia as a model for world peace As practice driven as it is intellectually stimulating Peace Psychology in Asia is vital reading for social and community psychologists policy analysts and researchers in psychology and sociology and international studies including those looking to the region for ideas on peace work in non Western countries

Comparative Peace Processes in Latin America Cynthia Arnson,1999

This book is about ending guerrilla conflicts in Latin America through political means It is about peace processes aimed at securing an end to military hostilities in the context of agreements that touch on some of the principal political economic social and ethnic imbalances that led to conflict in the first place The book presents a carefully structured comparative analysis of six Latin American countries Nicaragua El

Salvador Guatemala Mexico Colombia and Peru which experienced guerrilla warfare that outlasted the end of the Cold War The book explores in detail the unique constellation of national and international events that allowed some wars to end in negotiated settlement one to end in virtual defeat of the insurgents and the others to rage on The aim of the book is to identify the variables that contribute to the success or failure of a peace dialogue Though the individual case studies deal with dynamics that have allowed for or impeded successful negotiations the contributors also examine comparatively such recurrent dilemmas as securing justice for victims of human rights abuses reforming the military and police forces and reconstructing the domestic economy Serving as a bridge between the distinct literatures on democratization in Latin America and on conflict resolution the book underscores the reciprocal influences that peace processes and democratic transition have on each other and the ways democratic space is created and political participation enhanced by means of a peace dialogue with insurgent forces The case studies by country and issue specialists from Latin America the United States and Europe are augmented by commentaries of senior practitioners most directly involved in peace negotiations including United Nations officials former peace advisers and activists from civil society

Managing Vulnerability Richard C. Marback, 2012-09-30 In Managing Vulnerability Richard C Marback analyzes the tension surrounding the transition from apartheid to democracy in South Africa through a rhetorical lens Marback studies the heart of South Africa's desire for reconciliation and contends that this goal could be achieved only through the creation of a language of vulnerability in which former enemies become open to the influence of each other to the constraints of their respective circumstances and to the prospects of a shared future Through a series of informative case studies Marback illustrates how the cultivation of openness and the management of vulnerability take shape through the circulation of artifacts symbols and texts that give empowering expression to virtues of connectedness over the temptations of individual autonomy Marback discusses the construction and impact of the narrative tours of Robben Island the silencing of Robert Sobukwe the debates over a proposed Freedom Monument a brief gesture of ubuntu from Pumlá Gobodo Madikizela to Eugene de Kock and the transformation of the title character in the film adaptation of the 1980 novel Tsotsi Ultimately Marback contends finding a means to manage vulnerability is both the immediate success of and the ongoing challenge to South African democracy and is indicative of the nature of rhetoric in democracies in general and in contemporary civic life

Intercultural Alliances Mary Jane Collier, 2003 The 25th volume of the International and Intercultural Communication Annual offers a variety of perspectives on culture identity and the formation of personal and political alliances

Peace Settlements and Political Transformation in Divided Societies Adrian Guelke, 2022-10-03 Peace Settlements and Political Transformation in Divided Societies examines what happened to Northern Ireland and South Africa after their miraculous political settlements in the 1990s in which comparison between the two cases played a small but significant role The author extends the story by exploring the connections between these two deeply divided societies during the consolidation of their settlements He shows the ways in which their paths have subsequently diverged in both reality and perception At the outset of the transformation of the two polities the similarities between the two cases tended to be overstated In this context the book explains how the South African case came to be misidentified as an example of consociationalism and the influence that this has continued to exert on comparative studies of power sharing In the process other aspects of South Africa's political transformation including respect for the constitution and the rule of law have been overlooked and underappreciated In the case of Northern Ireland a missing element in the treatment of its settlement as a model for other deeply divided societies has been the role that external mediation played in the creation and survival of its institutions Northern Ireland's dependence on favourable external circumstances explains in large part why the Good Friday Agreement is now facing a threat to its survival By contrast South Africa's political institutions seem relatively secure despite the vast scale of the country's socio-economic problems This book will be of interest to students researchers and scholars of conflict resolution and peace processes comparative politics ethnic politics and democratisation as well as those involved in the governance of deeply divided societies

On Not Being Able to Sleep Jacqueline Rose, 2021-02-09 In these powerful essays Jacqueline Rose delves into the questions that keep us awake at night into issues of privacy and writing exposure and shame Do women writers Christina Rossetti Anne Sexton Sylvia Plath have a special talent for self-revelation Or are they simply more vulnerable to the invasions of biography What ethical questions are raised by Ted Hughes's role in Plath's writing life What do Adrienne Rich and Natalie Angier reveal about the destiny of feminism In its affinity with modernist writing what can psychoanalysis tell us about the limits of knowledge both about the most intimate components of experience and the most hallucinatory reaches of the mind Have psychoanalytic writers today and the very institution of psychoanalysis remained faithful to the most potent and disturbing aspects of Freud's vision Finally Rose addresses some of the most dramatic public performances of our times the cult of celebrity with its contrasting obsessions with Princess Diana and the child murderer Mary Bell and South Africa's Truth and Reconciliation Commission which in a stirring last essay allows Rose to explore the ethical and political responsibilities of thought and speech in times of historical crisis Moving deftly with style force and clarity between our public political and private unconscious worlds On Not Being Able to Sleep forges a unique set of links between feminism psychoanalysis literature and politics The result is a book well worth staying up late to read one that exposes the uncomfortable borderland between our desire to speak out and be silent between the stage of the world and of the mind

Unfinished Business Terry Bell, Dumisa Buhle Ntsebeza, 2003 This book pulls back the curtain on the political miracle of the new South Africa

State of the Nation John Daniel, Adam Habib, Roger Southall, 2003 This anthology provides insightful political analysis of post-apartheid South Africa Written by leading South African intellectuals these analyses cover topics such as unemployment trade unionism race relations land reform education international relations and the South Africanisation of the African economy Within each work the inherited apartheid legacy the policies introduced to overcome those legacies and the effectiveness of those policies are addressed

South African performance and archives of memory Yvette Hutchison, 2015-11-01 This book explores how South Africa is negotiating its past in and through various modes of performance in contemporary theatre public events and memorial spaces It analyses the Truth and Reconciliation Commission as a live event as an archive and in various theatrical engagements with it asking throughout how the TRC has affected the definition of identity and memory in contemporary South Africa including disavowed memories Hutchison then considers how the SA Mali Timbuktu Manuscript Project and the 2010 South African World Cup opening ceremony attempted to restage the nation in their own ways She investigates how the Voortrekker Monument and Freedom Park embody issues related to memory in contemporary South Africa She also analyses current renegotiations of popular repertoires particularly songs and dances related to the Struggle revivals of classic European and South African protest plays new history plays and specific racial and ethnic histories and identities

Documentary Testimonies Bhaskar Sarkar, Janet Walker, 2009-12-04 Documentary Testimonies examines documentary films that compel us to bear witness move us to anger or tears and possibly mobilize us to action Comprising ten new essays and a substantive introduction this interdisciplinary volume examines audiovisual testimonial practices forms and institutions Topics include technologies of capture storage and circulation problems of historical veracity frail memory generation of video archives official renegade and ephemeral limits and potentialities of documentary as public record architectonics of memory ethics of witnessing and commemoration human rights and activist publics The essays provide in depth analysis of archives of social suffering tied to particular locales Cambodia Chiapas Darfur India Indonesia Korea New Orleans Norway Rwanda South Africa and Washington DC The contributors focus on the generation and use of testimony by public administrators and institutions human rights activists documentary filmmakers and others with interest in environmental justice human rights social advocacy and the commemoration prevention of genocide Thus this volume aims to investigate from a critical and translocal perspective testimony as social practice

Israeli and Palestinian Narratives of Conflict Robert I. Rotberg, 2006-09-07 Why does Hamas refuse to recognize the legitimacy of the state of Israel What makes the Israeli Palestinian conflict so intractable Reflecting both Israeli and Palestinian points of view this volume addresses the two powerful bitterly contested competing historical narratives that underpin the Israeli Palestinian conflict
