The Rise and Fall of the Shah Amin Saikal, 2021-07-13 On November 4 1979 when students occupied the American Embassy in Tehran and subsequently demanded that the United States return the Shah in exchange for hostages the deposed Iranian ruler's regime became the focus of worldwide scrutiny and controversy But as Amin Saikal shows this was far from the beginning of Iran's troubles Saikal examines the rule of Mohammad Reza Shah Pahlavi especially from 1953 to 1979 in the context of his regime's dependence on the United States and his dreams of transforming Iran into a world power Saikal argues that despite the Shah's early achievements his goals and policies were full of inherent contradictions and weaknesses and ultimately failed to achieve their objectives Based on government documents published and unpublished literature and interviews with officials in Iran Britain and the United States The Rise and Fall of the Shah critically reviews the domestic and foreign policy objectives as well as the behavior of the Shah to explain not only what happened but how and why In a new introduction Saikal reflects on what has happened in Iran since the fall of the Shah and relates Iran's past to its political present and future League of Nations Publications ,1926 Celeste Parrish and Educational Reform in the Progressive-Era South Rebecca S. Montgomery, 2018-12-05 Celeste Parrish and Educational Reform in the Progressive Era South follows a Civil War orphan's transformation from a Southside Virginia public school teacher to a nationally known progressive educator and feminist In this vital intellectual biography Rebecca S Montgomery places feminism and gender at the center of her analysis and offers a new look at the postbellum movement for southern educational reform through the life of Celeste Parrish Because Parrish's life coincided with critical years in the destruction and reconstruction of the southern social order her biography provides unique opportunities to explore the links between southern nationalism reactionary racism and gender discrimination Parrish's pursuit of higher education and a professional career pitted her against male opponents of coeducation who regarded female and black dependency as central to southern regional distinctiveness When coupled with women's lack of formal political power this resistance to gender equality discouraged progress and lowered the quality of public education throughout the South The marginalization of women within the reform movement headed by the Conference for Education in the South further limited women's contributions to regional change Although men welcomed female participation in grassroots organization much of women's work was segregated in female networks and received less public acknowledgement than the reform work conducted by men Despite receiving little credit for their accomplishments by working on the margins women were able to use the southern movement and its philanthropic sponsors as alternate sources of influence and power By exploring the consequences of gender discrimination for both educational reform and the influence of southern progressivism Rebecca S Montgomery contributes a nuanced understanding of how interlocking hierarchies of power structured opportunity and influenced the shape of reform in the U S South Some Papers Relating to the Proposed Constitutional Reforms in India Bangiya Jana-Sabha, 1918
