Rowe Company of Shipwrights of Newcastle-upon-Tyne (NEWCASTLE-UPON-TYNE), Surtees Society. Vol. 184, David John Rowe, Surtees Society, 1970 A Bibliography of Industrial Relations G. S. Bain, Gillian B. Woolven, G. B. Woolven, 1979-03-29 Reference book comprising a bibliography aiming to bring together secondary source interdisciplinary material on labour relations in the UK between the years 1880 and 1970 covers employees attitudes trade unions and employees associations employers organizations the labour market and working conditions etc Creating and Consuming Culture in North-East England, 1660-1830 Helen Berry, Jeremy Gregory, 2019-07-16 Historians of the long eighteenth century have recently recognised that this period is central both to the history of cultural production and consumption and to the history of national and regional identity Yet no book has as yet directly engaged with these two areas of interest at the same time By uniting interest in the history of culture with the history of regional identity Creating and Consuming Culture in North East England 1660 1830 is of crucial importance to a wide range of historians and intervenes in a number of highly important historical and conceptual debates in a timely and provocative way The book makes a substantial contribution to eighteenth century studies Not only do these essays demonstrate that in thinking about cultural production and consumption in the eighteenth century there are important continuities as well as changes that need to be considered but also they complicate the commonplace assumption of metropolitan led cultural change and cultural innovation Rather than the usual model of centre periphery diffusion a number of contributions show that cultural change in the provinces was happening at the same time as in or in some cases even before London The essays also indicate the complex relationship between cultural consumption and social status with some cultural forms being more inclusive than others The Tudor and Stuart Town 1530 - 1688 Jonathan Barry, 2014-06-17 The Tudor and Stuart Town brings together many of the most important articles in the field of urban history *The Records of the Company of Shipwrights of Newcastle Upon Tyne 1622-1967. Rowe, 1966-02 See volume 181 Three appendices and indexes I Members of the Shipwrights Company those who were apprenticed to members of the Shipwrights s company and those who were made free by servitude patrimony or presentation compiled from lists of indentures and dates of freedom given either in the registers or account books II Officers of the Company III Fines The Records of the Company of Shipwrights of Newcastle-upon-Tyne, 1622-1967 Newcastle upon Tyne (England). Company of shipwrights, 1971 Age Relations and Cultural Change in Eighteenth-century England Barbara Crosbie, 2020

Interactions between age groups were central to major social and cultural developments in eighteenth century England and this book serves as a powerful reminder that people lived through not in the past The English Republican tradition and eighteenth-century France Rachel Hammersley, 2013-07-19 The English republican tradition and eighteenth century France offers the first full account of the role played by seventeenth and eighteenth century English republican ideas in eighteenth century France Challenging some of the dominant accounts of the republican tradition it revises conventional understandings of what republicanism meant in both Britain and France during the eighteenth century offering a distinctive trajectory as regards ancient and modern constructions and highlighting variety rather than homogeneity within the tradition Hammersley thus offers a new and fascinating perspective on both the legacy of the English republican tradition and the origins and thought of the French Revolution The book focuses on a series of case studies featuring such colourful and influential characters as John Toland Viscount Bolingbroke John Wilkes and the Comte de Mirabeau This book will thus be of value to all those interested in the fields of intellectual history and the history of political thought seventeenth and eighteenth century British history eighteenth century French history and French Revolution studies The Middling Sort of People Jonathan Barry, Christopher Brooks, 1994-10-26 This volume of essays seeks to offer a radical re evaluation of most of our preconceptions about the early modern English social order The majority of people who lived in early modern England were neither very rich nor very poor yet a disproportionate amount of historiography has been directed towards precisely these groups This book intends to define the term middle classes and treat them as active participants of history rather than as a simple by product rising and falling according to others activities Life on the Tyne Peter D. Wright, 2016-05-06 Whilst the early modern period has long been recognized as witnessing a growth in trade and consumerism the majority of studies to date have tended to focus upon London and southern England In order to provide a more balanced understanding of the dynamics at work on a national level this book explores the local economy and waterborne trades of Newcastle and the River Tyne in North East England Drawing upon a variety of primary sources including parish records probate inventories Newcastle Exchequer port books and the previously unpublished diary of an apprentice hostman none of which have been examined previously in this context the study adds significantly to our understanding of the growing community in North East England In particular it underlines the expansion of a thriving middling class with an associated culture of consumption driving a rapid increase in the import and often re export of a wide range of luxury items of food clothing and soft furnishings As the coal trade and a flourishing general trade with London and other home and overseas ports grew the book highlights the major impact upon the size and variety of work in the port and the subsequent increasing size and complexity of the water trades community and its associated business networks The Decline of Life Susannah R. Ottaway, 2004-02-05 The Decline of Life is an ambitious and absorbing study of old age in eighteenth century England Drawing on a wealth of sources literature correspondence poor house and workhouse documents and diaries Susannah Ottaway considers a wide range of experiences and expectations of age in the period and demonstrates that the central concern of ageing individuals was to continue to live as independently as possible into their last days Ageing men and women stayed closely connected to their families and communities in relationships characterized by mutual support and reciprocal obligations Despite these aspects of continuity however older individuals ability to maintain their autonomy and the nature of the support available to them once they did fall into necessity declined significantly in the last decades of the century As a result old age was increasingly marginalized Historical demographers historical gerontologists sociologists social historians and women s historians will find this book essential reading
