Contemporary Chinese Novels in Translation since 1978 Yun Wu, 2024-10-14 This book aims to complement the traditional focus of translation studies which has primarily centered on translating English into other languages It presents a comprehensive analysis of the reverse translation trajectory exploring the movement of Chinese literature into the core English literary domain The book aims to explore the ideological and sociological dynamics that underlie the translation of contemporary Chinese novels This is achieved through an examination of the translation selection process translation paratexts and the roles of translation agents Case studies are employed to illustrate specific linguistic literary and cultural challenges within translation It dissects the cultural and literary implications of translating genres such as women's writing science fiction and Internet literature The argument presented is that the translation of peripheral literature is indispensable in shaping global literature Beyond its literary implications the book identifies the political significance inherent in such reverse translation endeavors It suggests that the translation of Chinese literature holds notable political interest for the Chinese government which aims to reshape China's image and bolster the nation's soft power through literary translation This work will be an essential read to students and scholars of translation studies comparative literature and Chinese studies

Visions of Dystopia in China's New Historical Novels Jeffrey C. Kinkley, 2014-11-18 The depiction of personal and collective suffering in modern Chinese novels differs significantly from standard Communist accounts and many Eastern and Western historical narratives Writers such as Yu Hua Su Tong Wang Anyi Mo Yan Han Shaogong Ge Fei Li Rui and Zhang Wei skew and scramble common conceptions of China's modern development deploying avant garde narrative techniques from Latin American and Euro American modernism to project a surprisingly un-Chinese dystopian vision and critical view of human culture and ethics The epic narratives of modern Chinese fiction make rich use of magical realism surrealism and unusual treatments of historical time Also featuring graphic depictions of sex and violence as well as dark raunchy comedy these novels reflect China's recent history re-presenting the overthrow of the monarchy in the early twentieth century and the resulting chaos of revolution and war the recurring miseries perpetrated by class warfare during the dictatorship of Mao Zedong and the social dislocations caused by China's industrialization and rise as a global power This book casts China's highbrow historical novels from the late 1980s to the first decade of the twenty first century as a distinctively Chinese contribution to the form of the global dystopian novel and consequently to global thinking about the interrelations of utopia and dystopia      Encyclopedia of the Novel Paul Schellinger, 2014-04-08 The Encyclopedia of the Novel is the first reference book that focuses on the development of the novel throughout the world Entries on individual writers assess the place of that writer within the development of the novel form explaining why and in exactly what ways that writer is important Similarly an entry on an individual novel discusses the importance of that novel not only form analyzing the particular innovations that novel has introduced and the ways in which it has influenced the subsequent course of the genre A wide range of topic entries explore the history criticism theory production dissemination and reception of the novel A very important component of the Encyclopedia of the Novel is its long surveys of development of the novel in various regions of the world      Cultural Representations of the Second Wife Jo Parnell, 2023-12-11 Cultural Representation of the Second Wife Literature Stage and Screen is a multifaceted interdisciplinary cross cultural work that provides insights into the realities of second wives the world over This book allows the reader a three dimensional view of the second wife experience It asks What does it mean and what does it feel like to be a second wife in a polygamous union or in a monogamous partnership Is there a difference Together the writers in this book cleverly create an in depth study of the subject through the productions referred to in the title to offer a different approach to the popularly held views of the second wife The book addresses the intricacies customs practices and lifestyles of the various Eastern and Western cultures and demonstrates the abilities of the Humanities to connect and interrelate with other disciplines as well as with the reader's own world      New York Magazine ,1993-05-03 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea      Comparative Literature in Canada Susan

Ingram,Irene Sywenky,2019-11-05 This timely volume takes stock of the discipline of comparative literature and its theory and practice from a Canadian perspective It engages with the most pressing critical issues at the intersection of comparative literature and other areas of inquiry in the context of scholarship pedagogy and academic publishing bilingualism and multilingualism Indigeneity multiple canons literary and other the relationship between print culture and other media the development of information studies concerted efforts in digitization and the future of the production and dissemination of knowledge The authors offer an analysis of the current state of Canadian comparative literature with a dual focus on the issues of multilingualism in Canada s sociopolitical and cultural context and Canada s geographical location within the Americas It also discusses ways in which contemporary technology is influencing the way that Canadian literature is taught produced and disseminated and how this affects its readings

China's Civil War Diana Lary,2015-03-02 China s Civil War is the first book of its kind to offer a social history in English of the Civil War in 1945 9 that brought the Chinese Communist Party to power Integrating history and memory it surveys a period of intense upheaval and chaos to show how the Communist Party and its armies succeeded in overthrowing the Nationalist government to bring political and social revolution to China Drawing from a collection of biographies memoirs illustrations and oral histories Diana Lary gives a voice to those who experienced the war first hand exemplifying the direct effects of warfare the separations and divisions the exiles and losses and the social upheaval that resulted from the conflict Lary explores the long term impact on Chinese societies on the Mainland Taiwan and Hong Kong which have all diverged far from pre war Chinese society example considering our greater cross cultural interaction have clichés and stereotypes undergone a metamorphosis in contemporary societies and cultures Theoretically and empirically this book offers an expansive range of contexts comprising the insights analytical positions and perspectives of a transnational team of scholars of comparative literature and literary and cultural studies based in Australia Hong Kong Japan Malaysia USA Singapore Taiwan and Turkey Working with through and beyond Orientalism they examine a variety of cultural texts including the novel short story poetry film graphic memoir social thought and life writing Making connections across centuries and continents they articulate cultural representation and discourse through multiple approaches including critical content analysis historical contextualization postcolonial theory gender theory performativity intertextuality and intersectionality Given its unique approach this book will be essential reading for scholars of literary theory film studies and Asian studies as well as for those with a general interest in postcolonial literature and film

Ideology, Power, Text Yi-tsi Mei Feuerwerker, 1998-10-01 The division between the scholar gentry class and the people was an enduring theme of the traditional Chinese agrarian bureaucratic state Twentieth century elites recast this as a division between intellectuals and peasants and made the confrontation between the writing intellectual self and the peasant other a central concern of literature The author argues that in the process they created the peasantry the downtrodden rural masses represented as proper objects of political action and shifting ideological agendas Throughout this transition language or discourse has been not only a weapon of struggle but the center of controversy and contention Because of this primacy of language the author's main approach is the close reading or rather re-reading of significant narrative fictions from four literary generations to demonstrate how historical ideological and cultural issues are absorbed articulated and debated within the text Three chapters each focus on one representative author The fiction of Lu Xun 1881-1936 which initiated the literary preoccupation with the victimized peasant is also about the identity crisis of the intellectual Zhao Shuli 1906-1970 upheld by the Communist Party as a model peasant writer tragically exemplifies in his career the inherent contradictions of such an assigned role In the post Mao era Gao Xiaosheng 1928 uses the ironic play of language to present a more ambiguous peasant while deflating intellectual pretensions The chapter on the last of the four generations examines several texts by Mo Yan 1956 Han Shaogong 1952 and Wang Anyi 1954 as examples of root searching fiction from the mid 1980s While reaching back into the past this fiction is paradoxically also experimental in technique the encounter with the peasant leads to questions about the self construction of the intellectual and the nature of narrative representation itself Throughout the focus is on texts in which some sort of representation or stand in of the writer intellectual self is present as character as witness as center of consciousness or as first person or obtrusive narrator Each story catches the writer in a self reflective mode the confrontation with the peasant other providing a theater for acting out varying dramas of identity power ideology political engagement and self representation The Faulkner Journal, 1992

The Politics of Cultural Capital Julia Lovell, 2006-03-31 In the 1980s China's politicians writers and academics began to raise an increasingly urgent question why had a Chinese writer never won a Nobel Prize for literature Promoted to the level of official policy issue and national complex Nobel anxiety generated articles conferences and official delegations to Sweden Exiled writer Gao Xingjian's win in 2000 failed to satisfactorily end the matter and the controversy surrounding the Nobel committee's choice has continued to simmer Julia Lovell's comprehensive study of China's obsession spans the twentieth century and taps directly into the key themes of modern Chinese culture national identity international status and the relationship between intellectuals and politics The intellectual preoccupation with the Nobel literature prize expresses tensions inherent in China's move toward a global culture after the collapse of the Confucian world view at the start of the twentieth century and particularly since China's re entry into the world economy in the post Mao era Attitudes toward the prize reveal the same contradictory mix of admiration resentment and anxiety that intellectuals and writers have long felt toward Western values as they struggled to shape a modern Chinese identity In short the Nobel complex reveals the pressure points in an intellectual community not entirely sure of itself Making use of extensive original research including interviews with leading contemporary Chinese authors and critics The Politics of Cultural Capital is a comprehensive up to date treatment of an issue that cuts to the heart of modern and contemporary Chinese thought and culture It will be essential reading for scholars of modern Chinese literature and culture globalization post colonialism and comparative and world literature
