Stendhal, 2017-03-19 Le Rouge et le Noir French for The Red and the Black is a historical psychological novel in two volumes by Stendhal published in 1830. It chronicles the attempts of a provincial young man to rise socially beyond his modest upbringing through a combination of talent, hard work, deception, and hypocrisy. He ultimately allows his passions to betray him. The novel's full title Le Rouge et le Noir: Chronique du XIX^{si}cle The Red and the Black: A Chronicle of the 19th Century indicates its two-fold literary purpose as both a psychological portrait of the romantic protagonist Julien Sorel and an analytic sociological satire of the French social order under the Bourbon Restoration 1814-30. In English Le Rouge et le Noir is variously translated as Red and Black, Scarlet and Black, and The Red and the Black without the sub title. The title refers to the tension between the clerical black and secular red interests of the protagonist, which is a matter of some debate. The Red and the Black 1783-1842 Stendhal, 2022-10-26 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it. This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations. Fueled with a combustible mix of ambition, naivete, and Napoleonic ideals, Julien Sorel sets his sights on the heights of French society. But for the son of a provincial carpenter in post-Napoleonic France, the prospects for advancement are vanishingly narrow; the chances for glory rarer yet. After securing a toehold as a tutor to a wealthy family, Julien proceeds through a series of misadventures, illicit affairs, and lucky reversals to breach the ranks of French aristocracy, only to be undone by treasonous schemes, cynical romantic calculations, and an unexpectedly genuine and ultimately disastrous passion. Shocking at the time of its original publication, startling in its relevance today, Stendhal's masterpiece is a scorching social satire, a remarkably detailed portrait of a fraught moment in history, and as perhaps the first psychological novel, a brilliant precursor to modern literature at once comical and tragic, cerebral and passionate. This new translation faithfully reproduces the nimble wit, emotional depth, and social acuity of Stendhal's text. Distinguished translator Raymond N. MacKenzie includes an extensive introduction to Stendhal's world and time, as well as copious annotations that explain allusions and terms for the modern reader. The Red And The Black: A Chronicle of 1830 Stendhal Stendhal, 2025-04 The Red And The Black: A Chronicle of 1830 is a novel that delves into the struggles of a young man striving to transcend the limitations of his humble origins. In a post-Napoleonic society, he faces the pressures of ambition, social class, and personal desires. His internal conflict between his aspirations and societal expectations highlights the difficulties of pursuing personal goals within rigid class structures. The story explores the human condition, focusing on the complexities of self-identity and the challenges of navigating personal and professional relationships It also addresses the societal constraints that shape individuals actions and decisions revealing the tension between personal growth and societal pressures As the protagonist attempts to rise above his circumstances the narrative unfolds with a deep exploration of human ambition the pursuit of social mobility and the emotional struggles that accompany such endeavors Through sharp reflections on class ambition and societal values the novel offers insights into the intricacies of personal aspiration against the backdrop of a changing social order
